FISHERY RIGHTS.

IMPORTANT KERRY CASE.

Judgment has been delivered at the Republican Supreme Court, Dublin, in an important case affecting fisheries in tidal rivers in Ireland.

Messrs. Power and Dodd, of Killorglin, Co. Kerry, claimed to be the owners of a several fishery in the River Laune, held by them under lease from Sir William Godfrey, and sought an injunction against a farmer named Langford, who owns lands adjoining the river, and also against several fishermen who claimed to be entitled to fish in that part of the river situated between the lands of Ballymacprior and Callinafercy as members of the public, and had forcibly entered the river at that point and fished with nets.

The action, which was for an injunction and damages, was tried before Judge Davitt at a Republican Circuit Court in Tralee in April, and after a three days' trial resulted in judgment for the plaintiffs. The defendants appealed.

Messrs. H. D. Conner, K.C., P. Lynch, K.C., and B. Roche (instructed by Messrs. F. and C. Downing) appeared for the plaintiffs; and Messrs. M. Comyn, K.C., and T. O'Donnell (instructed by Mr. J. O'Connell) appeared for the defendants.

Judge Meredith said that the plaintiffs claimed under a title which, as regards portion of the fishery adjacent to Killorglin, was traced back to a grant given by James I., and the other portion to a grant by Charles I. If, he said, the existence of a several fishery in the place claimed was once proved, then it was clear that, quite independently of the documents in the case, the plaintiffs had proved their title thereto by reason of the length of time during which they and their predecessors in title had been in possession. The plaintiffs' use and enjoyment of the right had been such as to throw upon the defendants the onus of rebutting the presumption of an ancient legal origin. The defendants relied on a recital of a suit in 1730, in which the right is claimed to be enjoyed by virtue of the grant from King Charles I. to one William Godfrey. The defendants seemed to resort to a presumption the precise opposite of that which the law required to be drawn. The Court therefore dismissed the appeal.

A CARGO OF MAIZE.

BELFAST SHIPPING CASE.

In the King's Bench Division, London, yesterday, Mr. Justice Rowlatt heard an action brought by the Neath Steamship Company, Ltd., of Akenside House, Newcastle, against Mr. William Barnett and Mr. Robert Barnett, trading as W. and R. Barnett, of Waring street, Belfast. The action was for recovery of freight in respect of a cargo of maize carried on the plaintiffs' steamer, North Britain.

Mr. Mackinnon, K.C., for the defendants, stated that the claim of the plaintiffs was admitted, subject to a counter-claim by his clients for short delivery. The defendants were the charterers of a steamer, and the claim was under a charter party, dated September 17/20, to load a full and complete cargo of maize in bags at Rosario for discharge at Hamburg at 115s. per ton, and the plaintiffs were entitled to freight on 5,276 odd tons—viz., £30,340.

The defendants had paid £29,582, leaving a balance of £757 10s. 3d. That was admitted as the claim, but it was alleged by the defendants that under the charter party they had shipped, and the plaintiffs had acknowledged shipment of a cargo, consisting of 93,633 bags of maize, weighing 5,542 tons, but the plaintiffs, in breach of their contract, had only delivered at Hamburg 92,352 bags, a short delivery of 1,281 bags of maize of the value of £757 odd. In their reply, said counsel, the plaintiffs paid into court a sum of £74, with a denial of liability, and said that that was sufficient to satisfy the defendants' claim. They further said that under the clause in the charter party they were not liable for loss, whether by theft or negligence, and that the bags were old and in bad condition, and many of them burst in handling. They were the issues before the Court.

The depositions of witnesses were then read by counsel, and the further hearing was adjourned.

THE CHURCH OF IRELAND.

Dr. Paterson Smyth, Archdeacon of St. Andrew's (Montreal), formerly vicar of Christ Church, Kingstown, and subsequently of St. Ann's, Dublin, is paying a brief visit to Ireland, and has promised to preach at the 11.30 a.m. Service on Sunday next in Christ Church, Kingstown, and on the following Sunday in St. Ann's Church, at the 11.30 Service.

The Archbishop of Dublin has appointed the Rev. Canon Craig, Vicar of Clane, Diocese of Kildare, to be Rural Dean of Naas, in the room of the Rev. F. E. Byrn, resigned; and the Rev. W. Dudley Fletcher, Rector of Coolbanagher, to be Rural Dean of Lea, in succession to the late Canon Cole.

The Rev. J. F. M. Cox, B.D., will be inducted into the Chaplaincy of the Magdalen Church, Lower Leeson street, Dublin, at a special Service to be held in the church on Friday, the 23rd instant, at 5 p.m.

An ordination by the Archbishop of Dublin is arranged to take place on Sunday, the 25th instant, in Christ Church Cathedral.

LAW REPORTS.

BETTING BY CHEQUE.

NEW TRIAL REFUSED.

In the Court of Appeal, before the Lord Chief Justice, Lord Justice Ronan, and Mr. Justice Wylie, an interesting new trial motion was argued, in which Mr. Alfred W. Brogden, of 25 Parkhurst road, Bowes Park, London, as plaintiff, sought a new trial of an action which he had brought against Mr. Edward Duggan, bookmaker, Dublin, for the return of £188, alleged to have been paid by cheques in respect of betting transactions. The action was tried before Mr. Justice Dodd and a jury, and resulted in a verdict for the defendant.

Counsel for the plaintiff having been heard,

The Lord Chief Justice said that it was unnecessary to call upon counsel for the defendant. The law, he said, as laid down by the House of Lords, was that where a man had paid a bookmaker by cheque in respect of betting transactions, the money was recoverable by law. The onus, however, was still upon a plaintiff to satisfy the Court and jury that the money was in fact paid by him, and that it was in fact paid in respect of betting transactions. It had been held in such cases that a defendant was entitled to call for particulars, so that he might be in a position, by reference to his books and otherwise, to see whether the transaction in respect of which the claim was made was in fact a betting transaction. Accordingly, particulars were called for, and they were given. The plaintiff claimed that he paid defendant £10 by cheque in regard to losses at Roscommon Races, and £28 by cheque for losses at Galway. The plaintiff further claimed that he had paid defendant's manager by cheque for £150 for losses at Manchester, and he gave the names of four horses. At the trial, Mr. Duggan produced his book to show that he had made no bets with the plaintiff at either Roscommon or Galway, and, as to the alleged bets made at Manchester, the defendant swore that neither he nor his manager was at Manchester, that they were both at Baldoyle on the days of the Manchester meeting. The jury found that the cheques in the three specified cases were not paid for betting transactions, and there was abundant evidence to support those findings.

But a fourth question was put by the judge—Were the cheques drawn for money lost at horse racing? In the course of the hearing, Mr. Justice Dodd said to the defendant, "You are a sportsman, Mr. Duggan. On your honour, don't you believe it was given you for bets?" Mr. Duggan at once answered—"I believe it may have been, but I have no record or recollection." The answer of the jury was—"There is not sufficient evidence to show." That, his lordship said, was a perfectly straight answer. The onus was affirmatively cast upon the plaintiff of proving that they were in fact betting transactions, but the jury had found that he had not discharged that onus. His lordship was unable to see that the plaintiff had any ground upon which he could successfully impeach the verdict that had been given, and the motion must be refused, with costs.

Lord Justice Ronan and Mr. Justice Wylie concurred.

Mr. Denning, K.C., and Mr. Tobias (instructed by Mr. H. C. Cronhelm) appeared for the plaintiff; and Sergeant Hanna, Mr. Lardner, K.C., and Mr. Devitt (instructed by Mr. J. H. Hawthorne) for the defendant.

ALLEGED BREACH OF CONTRACT.

A TENANT'S CLAIM.

In the King's Bench Division, before Mr. Justice Dodd, in the case of Margaret Carass v. the British and Irish Steam Packet Company,

Mr. Costello, who (instructed by Mr. George Birney) appeared for the defendants, applied for an order remitting the action for trial to the Recorder of Dublin. Mr. David Barry, general manager of the company, in an affidavit, stated that the action was brought by the plaintiff to recover damages for alleged breach of contract to keep the premises, 21 Sir John Rogerson's quay, Dublin, in repair, and for the loss sustained by her in consequence of the alleged breach. The plaintiff had been a weekly tenant of the ground floor of the premises at a weekly rent of 7s. There was no written agreement of tenancy. In consequence of the requirements of the Dublin Corporation, the defendants were obliged to carry out structural alterations of the roof and upper portion of the premises, and in order to do so the plaintiff was requested to leave the premises, but she declined. The plaintiff, in a replying affidavit, stated that the defendants, instead of carrying out the repairs ordered by the magistrate, proceeded to pull down the house, and in doing so closed the premises, and put a hoarding around the house, with the result that she could not live in the premises, and had to give up the business she had previously carried on.

Mr. Gleeson (instructed by Mr. James Brady), for the plaintiff, resisted the motion.

Mr. Justice Dodd made an order remitting the action for trial to the Recorder.

INTEREST ON PURCHASE MONEY.

In the Chancery Division, before the Master of the Rolls, in the matter of the Vendor and Purchaser Act, a summons was heard, in which the vendor, Mr. G. C. Jepps, formerly of Seaview House, Rathnew, Co. Wicklow, and now of Thongsleigh, Crewys, Morchard, Devon, applied for an order declaring him entitled to receive from the purchaser, Mr. Thomas Davidson, of Ballinalea, Co. Wicklow, interest at the rate of £6 per cent. per annum on the sum of £1,100, the unpaid balance of the purchase money of part of the lands of Ballinabarney, barony of Newcastle, Co. Wicklow, containing 86 acres odd, with dwellinghouse, held under a present tenancy from year to year, from the 10th December, 1920, until January, 1922, the time of the actual completion of the purchase.

It appeared that the vendor's lands, comprising 179 acres, were originally offered for sale by auction, but it proved abortive. On the 2nd November, 1920, a contract was entered into between the parties, by which Mr. Davidson purchased the vendor's interest in the lands referred to for £1,600. The purchaser paid £500 deposit, and it was agreed that the remainder of the purchase money should be paid on the 10th December, 1920, the date fixed for the completion of the purchase, and the conditions further provided that "if from any cause whatever, other than wilful default on the part of the vendor, the completion of the purchase is delayed beyond the aforementioned day the remainder of the purchase money is to bear interest at the rate of £6 per cent. per annum from that date to the day of actual payment thereof." In order to carry out the contract, it was necessary to obtain the consent of the landlord to the sub-division, and to file the necessary agreement in the Land Commission. These formalities occupied a considerable time. An agreement was entered into in December, 1920, between the vendor and the purchaser, whereby in consideration of the purchaser depositing the balance of the purchase money in the National Bank in the joint names of Mr. Haskins, auctioneer, and Mr. Cochrane, solicitor, the purchaser should be allowed into possession. The purchaser did so, and went into possession on the 20th December, 1920. The manager of the Southern branch of the Northern Banking Company, with whom the vendor had a current account, agreed to make him an advance of £2,743 on having the deposits for the two sums of £500 and £1,100 transferred to his bank. This was done.

Mr. McCutcheon (instructed by Messrs. Cochrane and Co.), for the vendor, argued that the balance of £1,100 was unpaid, as it remained on deposit receipt in the names of stakeholders, and that the vendor was entitled to the interest claimed.

Mr. M. J. Ryan (instructed by Mr. J. H. McCarroll), for the purchaser, argued that as the purchaser had parted with the whole of his money, and had lost control over it, the condition as to paying interest did not apply; and he further contended that, in the circumstances, the vendor was guilty of "wilful default" in the legal sense.

The Master of the Rolls held that the purchaser was not bound to pay the interest claimed, and that the vendor was only entitled to receive the interest that became payable on the deposit receipts; and he directed that the vendor should pay the purchaser the cost of the application.

A CARTER'S DISMISSAL.

At a District Court held at 41 Parnell square Dublin, yesterday, Patrick Reilly sued Messrs Boileau and Boyd, Dublin, to recover damages for wrongful dismissal. Reilly was a floatman in the firm's employment, and in October last when he was taking a float out of the yard, he was asked by a member of the firm to explain the presence in the float of a cwt. of white lead. He was dismissed that day, and it turned out that it was another carter who had put the lead into the float. The plaintiff knew nothing of its presence.

The Court was satisfied that Reilly had been wrongfully dismissed, and they gave him a decree for £46 6s.; that was 50 per cent. of his weekly wages for the period during which he was out of employment.

WAR IN HIGH ASIA.

When Mr. John Buchan wrote his famous novel, "Greenmantle," we read into his romance a strong presumption that the Germans had planned a jehad against our Empire in the East. Captain Blacker turns this presumption into sober reality. "On Secret Patrol in High Asia" is a volume which is quite off the beaten track. Sir George Younghusband writes a glowing introduction, in the course of which he says that "Captain Blacker himself early in the Great War saw much hard fighting in France till shot down and disabled whilst in the Flying Corps. Sent back to the regimental dépôt to rest and recuperate, the spirit being more than willing, he did so very shortly, and then, with the true Guides' spirit, started on a series of hazardous services which were prolonged for three years, during which he and his patrol covered nearly 10,000 miles on foot or on horseback. The little band who followed him were of Lumsden's own breed—hardy, brave, and loyal, and never to be the least upset by any sudden emergency. Some, as this tale unfolds, undoubtedly had a lurid past, but only with the same luridness as had the past lives of knights of old." This commendation is heartily deserved by a tale which will thrill every reader.

It is not very creditable to us that we have not in English any adequate account of the Völkerwanderung, or wanderings of the peoples who swept down on the Roman Empire from the fourth century to the eleventh. Our own Battle of Clontarf, from this angle, is one of the last of the contests in which the barbarians took a share. It is odd to think that the desire of a Chinese Emperor to spare his people the horrors of the incursions of the men from the North brought about the downfall of the Roman Empire. From the moment when the Great Wall of China was built the men of the North were forced to turn their attention to Europe. The Huns and all the rest of the tribes of them came over the plains of Russia to the confines of the Roman Empire. The outcome we all know. The forethought of a Chinese Emperor precipitated a crisis in Europe, and the forethought of a German Emperor precipitated a crisis in Asia. It is certain that as soon as the Germans realised, after the first Battle of the Marne, that no decisive outcome was possible in the West, it occurred to the resourceful mind of the Teuton that, perhaps, in Asia lay the way to work out the downfall of the British Empire.

Captain Blacker develops this idea with uncommon ability. From the fighting on the Belgian coast and monitor bombardments of 1916, he went back to the command of the regimental dépôt at the end of 1917. It was just then that Falkenhayn began to realise that his hope of re-taking Bagdad had vanished. In spite of plots and intrigues, and in spite of lying propaganda, the Yilderim armies wavered in his hands. Nearly all Aryan Moslems had spurned the Prussian. The author remarks with reason that some deep-seated, racial instinct had brought Moroccan Berber, Punjabi, and Nordic Pathan, as well as the Aryans of Circassia, to the side of their Occidental cousins. Even the half-Aryan Arab lent a hand—Colonel Lawrence had something to say to that—while the Mongoloid Prussian, Magyar and Bulgar, and no less Mongol Turk, made the backbone of the enemy. Captain Blacker holds that those Aryan States whose every interest drew them on to assist the Germans held aloof from the same feeling of solidarity of race. Obviously he has Afghanistan and Persia in his mind. He gives us enough matter to make us feel that he realises the influence of the Völkerwanderung on these races even now. The past is much in the present, as anyone can see who peruses this vivid piece of writing.

In the crisis of the Great War, which occurred in the winter of 1917, the Prussian imagined a great drive to the East. Held from Bagdad and Basra, he planned out a line, from Byzantium through Batum, Baku, and Bukhara, of advance against India. Captain Blacker sets forth in clear and ample detail the story of this great drive. We learn that early in 1918 a German army corps, ill-spared from the West, was on its way to Baku, there to be backed by good Turkish infantry. In Northern Afghanistan, Osmanli drill-sergeants and Magyar gun-layers laboured to drill the Afghan Army and to cajole His Majesty of Kabul to wage war against us. In Turkistan, in the remote prison camps of Kazalinsk, Perovsk and Skobelef, emissaries worked to organise scores of thousands of Magyars, Austrians and Germans, taken at Przemysl and in Galicia, into battalions and brigades, and to fit them out in good new boots and uniforms under the complacent sway of the Bolsheviks. Enver Pasha sent his emissaries to summon hordes of sheep-skinned Bashkirs, Kipchaks and every denizen of the Chorasmian waste to a predatory sweep into the plains of the Sutlej and the Ganges. It was a fine dream, and, had the doing lain in the hands of a dozen young British subalterns, it might have materialised. Enver hoped to have 200,000 Germans, Magyars, Austrians, Afghans, Tartars and Turks hammering at the gates of India while big Bertha was shelling Paris.

The author says that, in accordance with the tradition of the British Army, there were opposed to this possible concentration of 200,000 the proverbial two men and a boy. For the remarkable unfolding of this cryptic statement we refer our readers to Captain Blacker's enthralling book.

NEW POETRY.

Mr. Arkwright is hardly a poet. We hold, for instance, that, as a painting must be intelligible apart from the name given to it in the catalogue, so should a poem be capable of interpretation without the aid of the title. His subjects are not sufficiently novel to be a real inspiration either to himself or to the reader. He is at his best in some of his half-satirical pieces, whose subjects are the so-called problems to be found in every other present-day novel.

The inspiration in Mr. Van Wyck's book is different, and he is more of a craftsman, affecting the sonnet, the ballade, and the villanelle. The form in the case of the last two prompts the subject-matter—the rose garden, the sorry life of the poet Villon, Ronsard and his love. In the sonnet Pan makes lament, the troglodyte lurks scowling in his cave, or the notorieties of the French Revolution pass by. The work is carefully executed and well worth reading.

Sussex has inspired many poets, but none in such a quaint manner as Mr. Dalmon. Pan and the nymphs revel on Cissbury Hill and in Munthan Wood, but they are never out of place. The old wealden names breathe softly through this verse, which has all the flavour of Herrick or Ben Jonson, with something of the mystery of Rossetti. Where there is so much artifice in modern poetry it is pleasant to come across something fresh and open-air, breathing the spirit of comradeship. The last poem, "Things Once Shared With Another," is a veritable treasure-place of recollected sights and sounds. Lovers of Matthew Arnold's "Forsaken Merman" will compare the "Ballad of the Sorrowful Satyr" and will find in the latter something equally good:

> "Beauty had ended every grace
> In the still wonder of her face;
> And all fair faces he had known
> He worshipped in her face alone."

The last book which we take up—Mr. Force Stead's "The Sweet Miracle"—has its title from the longest piece, a versified translation of a Portuguese legend of an incident in the life of Christ. There is much excellent work in the other pieces, but this one will place the author in a very high rank. Written in rhymed couplets, it has the ease of Keats without his over-sweetness. There is something of the strength and dramatic quality to be found in Chaucerian verse. A rich landowner and a Roman knight, each in turn, send their slaves to seek the Christ without avail. He is not to be sought; He seeks, as the child of the widow found:—

> "Yet I pray that He
> May come to us. And lo! immediately
> Amid the rags and darkness of that room,
> A sweet air moved, a light began to bloom,
> And at the threshold Jesus drawing nigh
> Smiled on the child and answered, 'Here, am I.'"

THE LAKE OF GENEVA.

The author becomes a most resourceful companion while taking us over this vast district. He writes with literary charm; and a quick imagination, supplemented by considerable research, has given him legends, romance and historical incidents innumerable about the highways and byeways that he leisurely discusses. The book deals with the Lake of Geneva as a whole—first, with Geneva itself, and then in four groupings—(a) From Geneva to the Drause; (b) from the Drause to the Rhone; (c) from the Rhone to Lausanne; (d) from Lausanne to Geneva, thus circling the Lake. The illustrations are from photographs by the author, and are such as one likes to treasure in memory of pleasant days—scenes rather than views of show places, which, nevertheless, they often are. Indeed, they bear out the thoughtful and contemplative nature of the book as impressions which gave rise to historical or literary meanderings. Thus about "little, old-fashioned Coppet" imagination draws a picture of life in Madame de Stael's day—the day when "everyone was posturing on a tight-rope and trying to outdo one another in feats of wit."

Madame de Stael, in fact, is one of the best character silhouettes in the book, and there are many. This brilliant woman, who "frightened Napoleon," regarded him as a usurper; for in politics she was a "constitutional republican." "When about to meet him," she says, "I wrote down a number of tart and poignant replies to what he might have to say had he chosen to insult me!" But Napoleon never insulted her, being afraid to do so. He once said: "She carries a quiver full of arrows that would hit a man were he seated on a rainbow." Many of the great ones of literature find environment in these pages, with little touches that show us the whole scene. One picture is of Voltaire, at the mercy of a tyrannical and incapable housekeeper, who, with a whole army of servants, could not keep his house in order. Visitors called almost every day. If they were strangers, Voltaire would send down a message that he was dying. If they called again, he would further excuse himself on the ground that he was "still dying." Yet those who came to sup stayed the night and some for weeks on end. The book is fascinating, and it is hard to say whether it is so through people or places.

MONASTIC LIFE IN ENGLAND.

Cardinal Gasquet is a historian of no mean order. He is one of those writers who have done much to unravel the mystery that surrounds a great deal of the ecclesiastical policy of the Tudors; and the access which he has had to the large number of unknown manuscripts in the Vatican places him in a specially favoured position. The present work is a collection of essays and lectures, published in periodicals from time to time, which have, for the most part, a single link—namely, the life of the great English monasteries in the Middle Ages. The Abbey of St. Albans, in particular, furnishes him with the material for a number of chapters. For instance, the life of Abbot Wallingford gives him ample opportunity for displaying his historical acumen. The Abbot has long lived under a cloud of ill-rumour; but the Cardinal shows clearly how unfounded this is—how, rather, the Abbot must be regarded as one of the noblest of that house. Occasionally, it is true, the deductions seem open to question; but, on the whole, they will stand all assaults.

The student of mediæval trade and crafts will find much entertainment and sound lore in the chapters of an abbot's account book and on book-making. Both indicate not only the range of prices in those early days, but also the great difficulty that was experienced from time to time in gathering together supplies which modern locomotion lands easily at our doors. Of interest to Irish readers is the chapter on Pope Adrian's famous bull to Henry II., which Dr. Moran held to have been a forgery. The added information which the Cardinal produces lends weight to the argument. The closing chapter on the relations between Great Britain and the Holy See in the Napoleonic Wars shows that the recent resumption of diplomatic relations is by no means a new departure.

"Monastic Life in the Middle Ages." By Cardinal Gasquet. London: Bell. 8/6 net.

PEOPLE AND PLACES.

The author of "People and Places" has added one more to the number of recently published autobiographical memoirs. The first few chapters, dealing with his early life in England, are possibly a trifle egoistic. The reader suspects a desire on the author's part to make public the clever things he has said and done and the celebrities he has known. However, once he is through the early chapters, and with the almost forgotten people of a past generation left behind, the author's many and varied experiences in a number of the less known parts of the world make very enjoyable reading.

The reader is whirled with startling rapidity from Australia and Fiji to New York, from New York to the Malay Peninsula and Java, from Borneo to Somaliland, and from Spain to Ecuador. Long before the end of the book is reached the most critical reader will have forgiven the author his egoism in the opening chapters. He will feel instead a sense of obligation and gratitude to a much-travelled man for having given to his less fortunate brothers a whole host of thrilling adventures and experiences both strange and amusing. The author has a keen sense of humour, a fluent and easy style of writing, and, what is of even greater importance, something worth writing about. The book is well worth reading and keeping.

TANKS IN THE WAR.

What is a tank? This tank-driver shows that the question, like the landship itself, is not so simple. Mr. Arthur Jenkyn is a mechanical engineer, and he describes this "train and railway in one," and the way in which it lays its steel road, in interesting style and non-technical language. The driver of a tank, it appears, must be a mechanic, artilleryman, machine gunner, rifleman, bomber, signaller, and map-reader. He needs, too, to be a man of iron nerve and constitution.

The book contains much general talk of war-time soldiering. The author did not take kindly to military life, and he makes rather a novel attack on khaki as a colour. He hated his mono-coloured life in training camps very heartily. Attacks on "staring, smoking officers," the indifferent food, restricted liberty, and "iron military discipline" are delivered impartially. Every good soldier has a "grouse," however. The action stories are good and truthful. Little enough has been written of the part that tanks played in the war; but this personal sketch helps one to realise how much the landships did in the great advances; and it will cause the reader to appreciate more fully the sufferings and heroism of the crews.

"A Tank-Driver's Experiences." By Arthur Jenkyn. London: Elliot Stock.

RECENT FICTION.

Mr. Maxwell is too sincere to indulge unduly in the savagery of satire; but he sees, with the vision of the shrewd observer of humanity, the gulf that is fixed between things as they seem and things as they are. The love of Emmeline Verinder for the bluff explorer, Anthony Dyke, is immutable as fate, and we are shown its persistence through seven-and-twenty years—lonely, colourless years for the most part, with interludes of intoxicating and almost incredible adventure. Miss Verinder has sacrificed her home ties and reputation for Dyke, who has a mad wife; but, as time creeps on, this is "lived down," and none of the younger generation knows of the volcano beneath the crust of gentle spinsterhood. Anthony, optimistic, go-ahead and adventurous, has the defects of his qualities, but he never fails his "Emmie." His love for her is also a wonderful thing. In this moving story Mr. Maxwell might well make even a Mrs. Grundy question the wisdom of too slavish a submission to tyrannical convention.

"Spinster of this Parish." By W. B. Maxwell. Thornton Butterworth. 7/6 net.

Miss Atherton's solution of the eternal triangle problem demands too great credulity on the part of the reader. Her heroine, beautiful and intellectual, finds the companionship denied to her by her husband with a brilliant journalist called Masters. Their platonic friendship soon ripens into love, and the husband discovers their secret. Masters is persuaded to relinquish his magnificent job in San Francisco, and retires to New York, where he wallows in drink and filth. Madeleine, learning of his decision, also resolves to drink herself to death in her own home. Time passes, and, disgraced and divorced, she sets out to seek her love who is still "wallowing." Then follows a climax which is far-fetched and inconceivable in the extreme. They meet, stop drinking simultaneously, and live happily ever after. The reader is bound to be irritated by the unreality of such a story.

"Dormant Fires." By Gertrude Atherton. Murray. 7/6 net.

The lives of some actresses have furnished material for biographies which are stranger than anything in fiction. Maxa of Marseilles is a creation of the imagination; but Mr. Elson has made her appear so real to us that it is hard to suppose that she is simply a character in a book. She is a Cleopatra in her infinite variety; but, no matter how exceptional are the adventures in which she finds herself engaged, our belief in her is never shaken. Mr. Elson has the art of making the improbable seem possible and the impossible probable. Maxa, with her warm-hearted gipsy blood, her long category of sins, and her flashes of nobility, is a creature of flesh and blood who will worm her way into every reader's heart.

"Maxa: Episodes in a Woman's Life." By Robert Elson. Hutchinson. 7/6 net.

The scene of this book is laid in the days of Cromwell, and it presents a stirring picture of the war of that time, from the standpoint of the "King's men." Sir Richard Falconer, master of Orchards, is a scholar and dreamer; but his chivalrous love for an arrogant self-willed damsel, the daughter of a neighbour, draws him to mix with the world outside his library. To save her from tyranny at home Falconer marries Rachel Charney, but his sensitiveness makes the step likely to prove disastrous. Afterwards the call of honour makes of Falconer a man of action, and Rachel's slow recognition of his noble qualities is cleverly indicated. Mr. Warwick Deeping has never written a better romance.

"Orchards." By Warwick Deeping. Cassell. 7/6 net.

It is a pity that Mr. Lowis has not got the gift of character portrayal. His main power lies in his very excellent descriptions of life in Burma, and in his quiet way of relating some exciting incident, such as that of a dacoit raid. In "Snags and Shallows," however, he sets out to relate the love affairs of a susceptible young man whose work brings him to places where white women are a rare luxury. The interest, therefore, depends on the character of the young man, on that of the handsome Eurasian who first attracts him, and on that of the insipid English girl who finally captures his affections. None of these characters is convincing, and it is the secondary features of this novel which will command the respect of the discerning reader.

CATTLE.

DUBLIN METROPOLITAN CATTLE, North Circular road, Thursday.—Again we have to record a substantial increase in supplies of both bovine and ovine stock, with a further smart decline in the value barometer. There were several additional important cross-Channel buyers in attendance, but their presence gave no material impetus to business, which followed a slow and uncertain routine. Cattle suffered 3s. to 5s. per cwt. reduction on top of last week's decline, and sheep and lambs may similarly be quoted 3s. to 5s. per head lower. But whereas there was a fair sell-up of cattle at current rates, there remained a heavy carry-over of unsold sheep and lambs; in fact, no customers could be found for the coarser and thin descriptions.

	Numbers on sale This week	as compared with last.		Corresponding weeks of 1921.	1920.
Cattle	3,049	increase	301	2,195	2,520
Sheep and lambs	13,214	increase	1,431	10,353	8,378
Veal calves ...	4	decrease	2	2	10

Rather a larger proportion of well-finished cattle in evidence, but trade ran principally on the 9 cwt. to 11 cwt. type of beasts, preferably heifers, whilst anything above 11½ cwt. figured at palpably disproportionate rates. For the nicer run of butchers' medium-weight cattle prices were from 58s. to 60s., or 61s. per cwt.; fancy selections around 62s. to 63s., or 63s. 6d., whereas the primest type of bullocks going over 11½ cwt. or 12 cwt. were from, say, 56s. to 57s. 6d. per cwt. Useful cattle made 52s. 6d. to 55s.; commoner and thin classes anywhere from 42s. to 50s. per cwt. Cow beeves also more or less smartly discounted, but as with other descriptions of cattle there was ultimately a fair sell-up at current rates—viz., from 36s. to 45s. and 47s. 6d. per cwt. for useful to prime classes of young fat cows. Slaughter bulls not much in evidence; biddings were uncertain for the few grades offered, say, around 30s. to 36s. per cwt.

Sheep market experienced a further sharp check, which extended this morning to the primer classes of wethers; although 2-year-olds were scarce enough they could not be placed to previous like advantage. Fairly good sale for nice quality hoggets around, say, 74, 78 or 80lbs weight, and these made relatively best sale of the day. All other descriptions of sheep proved a sluggish and uncertain market. Heavy soft ewes and thin lambs almost impossible to find customers for at any reasonable figure. Choice wether mutton 1s. 2d. to 1s. 3d. and 1s. 4½d. per lb., perhaps ½d. per lb. more for fancy qualities, but both price and quality in this zone must be reckoned exceptional. Medium classes of mutton 11d. to 1s. 1d. per lb.; inferior and coarse sorts around 9d. per lb. Best lambs averaged 55s. to 65s. and 75s. each. A few pens of exceptionally big and weighty sorts brought proportionately more for special commissions at the other side of the water. The Isle of Man was a good patron for certain qualities of lambs; a fair general sale for lambs of all sizes in fat condition at current terms. Good medium lambs 46s. to 54s. each; others, say, 26s. to 44s. apiece. The sale of the four veal calves was of no general interest.

DUBLIN DAIRY CATTLE, Thursday.—There were just 300 milch and springer beasts entered for sale here. The inquiry for extra good class dairy stockers for both home requirements and shipment proved fair enough, but there was practically no sale for ordinary and common grades of cows. Choice heavy fresh milchers of some breeding realised £30 to £35, and in one fancy instance £39; medium stockers £23 to £28, and others anywhere from £14 to £22, according to age, condition, and bag.

DUBLIN PIG, Thursday.—Entries here totalled 788 head of swine, with a poor proportion of choice bacon and pork class of hogs. There was a fair representative attendance of buyers, and trade generally proved of a healthier nature, with a slightly dearer turn in values. Prime small weighted hogs £6 to £6 5/-, and perhaps in fancy cases £6 10/- per cwt. dead weight reckoned; other quotations tightened up on a proportionately firmer basis, including sow pigs.

BRISTOL, Thursday.—Beef, mutton and lamb in good supply. Beef, 120/- to 125/- per cwt. Best dead weight mutton, 1/8 to 1/9. Lamb, 1/10 to 2/- per lb. Quiet trade in store cattle, about 400 offered at late rates. Milch cows, £22 to £30; superior, £38.

YORK, Thursday.—Fewer Irish cattle. Dealers complain that the cost of a month's keep in quarantine leaves no profit. Fair show of English; small proportion of well fleshed cattle, and trade disappointingly slow at last week's rates. Dairy cattle, average supply, with steady demand, and all sold. Small show of sheep. Very quiet trade, business scarcely being reestablished.

BIRMINGHAM, Thursday.—Trade for pigs still being carried on as from local stations for immediate slaughter. The market being closed under the Foot and Mouth Disease Order, small supplies. Rates steady; business quiet. Bacons, fair demand, 22/- per score, dead weight; cutters, 19/- to 20/-; sows, 13/-.

GLASGOW, Thursday.—The Strathaven Auction Company reports smaller supplies of fat cattle; prices higher for bullocks and bulls, but cows worse. Lambs and choice hogs dearer. Ewes worse. Over 1,700 stores were offered at weekly sale at Merklands Wharf, Glasgow. Medium sized stirks and well-bred two-year-olds in good demand. Older and heavier class harder to place. Rain having now come, prospects are better for next week.—(Advt.)

GLASGOW MARKET REPORT, 14th June, 1922.—Hegarty and Kelly, 275 Duke street, Glasgow, report average supplies of fat cattle. Trade ruled firm for quality cattle of handy weights. Secondary cattle were no dearer. Sheep and lambs met a firm demand, late rates being fully maintained. Telegrams: Hegarty, Glasgow.—(Advt.)

GRAIN.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC, Thursday.—WHEAT—Cargo market firmer, but trade quiet. Pacific Aug.-Sept. 49/- sellers, No. 2 hard winter ditto 48/-, Australian 53/6 to 54/-, and Rosafe 63½lbs June-July 50/9. Parcels sold at 1/- per qr advance No. 1 Northern Manitoba July done 54/- to 54/6 August 54/7½, Australian afloat 53/6, and Rosafe 63½lbs June-July 50/9 per 480lbs. MAIZE—Cargoes dull and weak. Plate afloat sellers 34/6 to 35/-, and June-July 34/3. Parcels steadier. Plate May-June sold 33/7½, June-July 33/1½, and No. 2 American mixed June sellers 29/6 per 480lbs. BARLEY dull and nominally unaltered. OATS inactive. Plate f.a.q. May-July sellers 25/6, and No. 2 Canadian Western June 28/- per 320lbs.

LIVERPOOL, Thursday.—WHEAT—Following higher quotations from America and the Argentine, with adverse crop reports from former, speculative positions of wheat here showed a fair improvement at the outset, especially the distant position. Then values receded slightly, only to again move upwards, aided by the reduced Bank rate and good buying, though late afternoon cables caused a sharp reaction, and prices finished considerably under the best, though still marking a fair advance on the day. C.i.f. parcels No. 1 Manitoba June-July and July-August realised 53/6, No. 2 hard winter June 48/6, September-October 47/3, Rosario-Santa Fe afloat 50/- to 50/1½, June-July 50/- to Liverpool, and No. 2 hard winter June 48/6, No. 2 red winter June 48/6, Rosario-Santa Fe (63½lbs.), shipment in a month, at 50/3 to Manchester. C.i.f. parcels MAIZE kiln-dried American due in a week sold at 30/6, and River Plate May-June quoted 34/-. Wheat on the spot was firm and held for considerably higher prices. Maize spot parcels remained steady at 6/10 to 6/10½ for American mixed, 7/10 to 7/10½ old crop River Plate, and 8/1 to 8/2 per cental for new. FLOUR in moderate request at late rates.

BRISTOL, Thursday.—Farmers decline to sell English wheat at reduced prices. Millers showing more interest in foreign, and there is better business. Grinding barley an improved trade; 6d. dearer. Maize quiet, unchanged. Oats better demand; 6d. lower.

MANCHESTER, Thursday.—Foreign wheat rather lower on week, closing firm. English wheat 52/- to 53/6 (504lbs.), on rail. Maize steady; 2 mixed American 7/- to 7/11. Oats quiet; Lincolns 32/- to 34/- (336lbs.), on rail. Foreign easier. Bran quiet, unchanged; thirds firm at £8 per ton.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL, Thursday.—BACON—Live hogs at Chicago were dearer and speculative products generally showed an improvement, but the arrivals of bacon at this port were on an increased scale. The market, however, presented little new feature, Wiltshires and Cumberlands ruling quiet, with long clears and backs scarce, but bellies met a moderate inquiry at higher prices, 86/- to 90/-; otherwise prices were unchanged. HAMS remained firm at increased prices of 142/- to 148/- per cwt. for short cut, with long still nominal on scarcity. Shoulders firmly held, especially picnics, which are scarce and in fair request. Canadian Wiltshires move moderately at the recent decline. Irish bacon quietly steady, but Danish less freely offered, though Dutch offered at 128/- to 132/- per cwt. LARD on the spot is steadily held at late rates for both prime steam and American refined, but trading of only a moderate character. CHEESE quietly steady and unaltered, white Canadian being relatively scarce. BUTTER firm on limited supplies, with Danish held at 202/- to 205/-, and Irish creameries 194/- to 198/-, with Colonial nominal. EGGS firm and dearer at 12/6 to 13/- per 120 for both Irish hen and ducks.

PATRICK KEHOE, LTD., Irish Bacon Curers and Lard Refiners, Importers of American Provisions (Estd 100 years.) 103 FRANCIS ST., DUBLIN.—(Advt.)

DUBLIN VEGETABLE, Thursday.—Fair general supply of vegetables on market. Cabbage dear; other commodities average prices. Broccoli, 6/- to 7/6 per doz.; seconds, 2/3 to 3/9; do. rhubarb, 2/- to 4/6 per doz bundles; cucumbers, 6/- to 8/6 and 10/- per doz.; white turnips, 8d. to 9d. per bundle; scallions, 4d. to 8d.; lettuce, 4d. to 8d. and 1/4 per doz.; York cabbage, 56/- to 65/-, 85/-, 90/-, 100/-, and 121/- per load; bags do., 7/3 to 8/6; new Co. Dublin potatoes, 3½d. to 6d. per lb.; gooseberries, 5d. to 7d. per quart; thyme, 4d. to 6d. per bunch.

DUBLIN POTATO, Thursday.—The trade for old potatoes remains particularly sluggish and limited. Values irregular and uncertain; in fact, sellers will scarcely let a possible good customer pass by if any reasonable cut in prices may effect a sale. Repicked Champions and Daies from fresh arrivals figure around 7/- to 7/6 per cwt., and tip-top Skerries 7/6 to 8/- per cwt. Heavy arrivals of Rush and Lusk new potatoes now appear to be near at hand.

DUBLIN FISH, Thursday.—Good all-round fish supply, and trade fairly equal. Arrivals included 330 boxes from three steam trawlers; 39 packages of salmon, 20 chests lobsters, 70 boxes mackerel, 20 herrings. Salmon, live, 2/6 and 2/8 per lb.; other, 2/- to 2/4; grilse, 1/- to 1/9 and 2/-; best live lobsters, 15/- to 17/6 and 29/- per 13; second pick, 10/- to 12/6; small, etc., 5/- to 7/6 per 13; turbot, 6d. to 8/-, 15/-, 20/-, and 22/-; brill, 6d. to 5/- and 6/- each; best soles, 30/- to 40/-, and 44/- per 9 pairs; mediums, 15/- to 25/-; slips, 5/- to 7/6 per 9 pairs; large plaice, 30/- to 80/- and 90/-; codfish, 30/- to 40/-; hake, 40/- to 80/-; haddocks, 30/- to 50/-; pollock, 15/- to 25/-; conger eels, 15/- to 20/-; white soles, 40/- to 50/-; ray, 15/- to 20/-; whiting, 12/6 to 30/- and 40/-; gurnard, 3/- to 5/- and 6/-; herrings, around 16/-, and mackerel, 12/6 to 15/- per box.

BILLINGSGATE FISH, Thursday.—Supply fair; demand good. Salmon 27d. to 33d., soles 14d. to 18d., slips 18d. to 20d. per lb.; live eels 15/- to 30/-, dead 15/- to 30/-, draught; turbot, also brill, 6/- to 7/-; plaice 9/- to 11/-, halibut 10/-, lemon soles 9/- to 10/6, whitches 6/-, cod 4/- to 5/-, whiting 5/- to 6/-, hake 4/6, gurnet 4/-, haddocks 4/- to 6/- per stone.

CORK BUTTER, Thursday.—Centrifugal creamery 155/- to 155/-, factory 135/- to 150/-, first 161/-, fresh butter 154/-.

LONDON POTATO, Thursday.—Old descriptions slow and practically finished, ranging from 4/- to 8/-, according to quality, per cwt. New sorts weak on larger arrival. New Jerseys, 30/- to 31/- per cwt.; Cherbourgs, 21/- to 22/- per box; St. Malo, 28/- to 29/- per cwt., bag.

LONDON CENTRAL MEAT, Thursday.—Beef better demand. Scotch long sides, 8/8 to 9/-; short, 4d. to 8d.; English, 7/8 to 8/-; chilled hindquarters, 5/6. Mutton firmer; good demand. Scotch tegs and wethers, 12/- to 13/-; ewes, 6/- to 7/-. English wethers, 11/4 to 12/-; ewes, 6/- to 7/-; frozen, 4/- to 4/11 per cwt. Lamb maintained. English, 10/- to 12/- per cwt.

PRODUCE.

LONDON, Thursday.—SUGAR—A moderate business transpired in spot parcels of British refined at unaltered prices. Imported kinds quiet. American granulated spot sold 48/4½ to 48/6, June 20/10½ to 21/-, July 21/- to 21/1½, August 21/1½ to 21/3, c.f. and i. Petroleum and rosin unaltered. OILSEEDS—Linseed firmer; Calcutta May-July quoted £19 15/-, Plate afloat £18 5/-, June-July sold £18 to £17 17/6. Rapeseed quiet; Toria June-July quoted £18, real bold Ferozepore £17 10/-. Cottonseed steady; black Egyptian June quoted £11 5/-, white £10 15/-. Bombay June-July £9 ton.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR, Thursday (Official).—Market continues quiet. Moderate demand at slightly easier prices.

MISCELLANEOUS.

BRADFORD WOOL, Thursday.—Merinos and fine cross-breds are rather cheaper for forward delivery, whilst medium and coarse cross-breds are lower, both for prompt and future delivery. This movement is in sympathy with the proceedings in London. Business is quiet, users being well covered for some time to come, and consequently the market is not being tested.

LIVERPOOL COTTON (Closing), Thursday.—American good inquiry. Brazilian quotations raised 3 points. East Indian unchanged. Egyptian fair request. June 12.50d., July 12.42d., August 12.34d., September 12.25d., October 12.17d., November 12.07d. Sales, 10,000 bales. Imports, 227 bales. Market steady.

LONDON HAY AND STRAW, Thursday.—Fair trade late rates, ample supplies. Best meadow hay, £7 5/- to £7 10/-; medium, £5 10/- to £5 15/-; inferior, £4 to £4 10/-; best clover, £7 15/- to £8; best mixtures, £7 10/- to £7 15/-. Trussed wheaten straw, 70/- to 75/-; barley and oaten ditto, 80/- to 85/- per ton delivered London.

MANCHESTER HAY AND STRAW, Thursday.—On Produce Exchange demand for all classes of hay reported normal. Prices about unchanged. Quotations: Lincolnshire rye grass and clover £9, Cheshire ditto £7 to £7 10/-, meadow hay £5 to £6 10/-, wheat straw 55/-, oat straw 65/- per ton, delivered Manchester.

LONDON METALS MARKET.

TIN—Market ruled firmer, sellers showing some reserve in face of a good demand and prices on balance were about 12/6 per ton higher as compared with Wednesday. Cash quoted £151 5/- to £151 10/-, three months £152 5/- to £152 10/-; settlement price £151 10/-. Sales, 1,000 tons; cash done £150 15/- to £151 5/-, August £151 15/- to £152, three months £151 10/- to £152 10/-. COPPER also dearer, about 10/- per ton on balance. Cash quoted £61 17/6 to £62, three months £62 2/6 to £62 5/-; settlement price £62. Sales, 650 tons; cash done £61 12/6 to £61 17/6, August £61 17/6 to £62 2/6, three months £61 17/6 to £62 2/6. Electro, £69 to £70. LEAD easy. Sales, 700 tons; June £24 7/6, July £23 15/-, Aug. £23 10/- to £23 12/6, Sept. £23 5/- to £23 7/6. SPELTER quiet. Sales, 700 tons; June and September done £27 15/- per ton. TINPLATES quietly steady.

LONDON FREIGHTS—Thursday.

Dull conditions continue to prevail in most homeward markets, and rates in some instances are largely nominal in absence of demand. The River Plate section steadier for prompt steamers. Loading at upper ports June are quoted at about 26/-, July 25/- to U.K.-Continent. Nitrate ports quiet, and 26/- to 27/- indicated to U.K. North America displays quiet interest in heavy grain at about late rates. Montreal to Continent done at 15 cents, Mediterranean, not east of west Italy, quoted 21 cents, American Northern range to Continent paid 14 cents, option west Italy 19 cents, while 26 cents per 100lbs. established to Baltic. Eastern markets without improvement, and rates largely nominal from Indian ports. Mediterranean and Bay ports dull as regards mineral ore, and rates easy. Outward coal shows more activity, and general tone steadier. Fixtures—Kurdistan, 30,000 qrs., 10 per cent., Montreal to Antwerp-Hamburg, 10th July, cancelling 15 cents per 100lbs., heavy grain; Winburne, 38,000 qrs., American Northern range to Antwerp-Hamburg, 1st to 15th July, 14 cents, option West Italy 19 cents per 100lbs., heavy grain; Whately Hall, 28,000 qrs., 10 per cent. American Northern range to Mediterranean, not east of West Italy, July 4/6 per qr. one, 4/7½ two, 4/9 three ports, heavy grain.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

Catalogues comprising 13,635 bales wool, consisting of 9,191 bales privately owned wool and 4,444 bales on account of the British-Australian Wool Realisation Association, Limited, were brought forward yesterday. The sale passed off with good spirit for merinos and the finer grades of cross-breds. As regards medium and coarse descriptions, wools from the South Island were well competed for, but North Island sorts proved somewhat difficult of sale. As regards Cape wools, of which some 4,500 bales were offered on behalf of the British-Australian Wool Realisation Association, combing greasies may be quoted 5 per cent. and short descriptions 10 per cent. cheaper than at the close of the May series.

CHURCH UNITY.

ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY'S VIEW.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, speaking on the subject of Church Unity at the Diocesan Conference yesterday, said that an advance had been made since last year, and the recent response from the General Assemblies of Scotland had exceeded his hopes, high as they were. As regarded England itself, he hoped that everyone had read the remarkable statement, signed by Churchmen and Nonconformists, which was issued from Lambeth recently. He did not wish to exaggerate, but he could confidently say that no such statement of their common ground had ever before been issued. More than that, there had been no time during the post-Reformation centuries at which representatives of the different bodies concerned would have found themselves able to reach such agreement. In reference to the division among Church people on the subject of modernism, the Archbishop said that, speaking generally, he believed that both groups were perfectly honest. He deprecated exaggerations, which found loud and ill-considered utterance, and deplored the way in which rash suggestions had been published about the Cambridge discussion. They had never feared or discountenanced free and unfettered inquiry by reverend men in search for truth.

STORE CATTLE SALES.

MESSRS. GANLY, SONS AND CO.—Very fine selections of nice quality cattle; sale well patronised by both home and cross-Channel buyers; demand good; business very steady. Amongst the 2½ and 3 years old bullocks were useful lots at £29 10/-, £29, £28 7/6, £28 5/-, £28, £27 10/-, £27, £26 5/-, £26, £25 5/-, £24 10/-, £24, £23 10/-, £23, £22 7/6, £22, £21, £20 10/-, £20, etc. Heifers made up to £28 15/-. Nice quality young cattle were also in good request. The top price per cwt., 62/-, was obtained for a choice lot of Hereford cross heifers, the property of the Earl of Longford. A pen of Aberdeen-Angus polly bullocks, the same property, made 61/- per cwt.

MESSRS. GAVIN LOW, LTD.—The numbers of cattle at above firm's sale yesterday were similar to last week. There was a steady demand for all sorts, with little or no change in values, but with cattle now weighing better, prices per cwt. are not so high. A complete clearance was effected. Horned bullocks made £23 (44/-), £22 10/- (45/6), £22 5/- (40/6), £20 10/- (45/8), £19 5/- (42/9), £19 (44/-), £17 5/- (44/6), £17 (44/-), £16 5/- (43/6), £15 10/- (45/-), £15 (44/-), £14 10/- (43/-), £13 (47/-). Heifers, £23 15/- (46/6), £20 5/- (43/6), £20 (50/-), £19 15/- (54/-), £19 10/- (54/-), £16 12/6 (46/6), £15 15/- (45/-), £14 15/- (42/-), £14 10/- (43/-), £13 12/6 (46/-). A.A. crosses £14 12/6 (46/-), £14 10/- (45/9). Hereford crosses, £24 (55/-), £18 15/- (51/9), £14 2/6 (49/-). Pollies, £25 (46/9), £24 10/- (45/-), £24 (54/-), £21 (48/6), £16 12/6 (47/6).

MESSRS. R. AND J. WILKINSON.—The trade continues good, there being a steady competition throughout the entire sale, which was again very liberally supported by consignments. Good heifers again experienced the best demand at the following prices:—£28 (61/-), £26 (54/6), £25 10/- (55/6), £23 10/- (54/-), £22 15/- (51/-), £21 10/- (51/-), £21 5/- (55/-), £20 5/- (50/-), £19 10/- (50/-), £18 15/- (51/6), £17 15/- (51/-), etc. Nice quality bullocks also sold well, the best prices being:—£28 10/- (50/6), £27 (57/-), £26 5/- (50/-), £25 10/- (54/-), £25 10/- (50/6), £25 5/- (53/-), (51/6), and (49/-), £24 10/- (52/-), £23 10/-, (52/6 and 51/-), £22 15/- (52/-), £22 (52/-) and 51/-), £21 10/- (46/-). Whilst a few pens of A.A. crosses, Hereford crosses, and polled shorthorn bullocks fetched:—£29 (54/-), £28 10/- (55/6), £27 (55/-), £25 5/- (56/-), £24 15/- (54/-), £23 10/- (52/-), £23 (51/-), £22 (53/-), £19 15/- (50/-), £19 (53/-), £19 10/- (48/6), the top price being for A.A. heifers, £26 (61/6). Younger cattle sold at prices varying from about 40/- to 48/- per cwt. On the whole prices worked out rather steadier than last week, and a very good clearance was effected.

MESSRS. CUFFE.—There were not so many cattle in this mart as last week, and very few of the kind that are wanted, namely, fleshy heifers and polly bullocks; 55/- was top price for heifers 8½ cwt., and 52/6 was paid for smaller ones. Strong bullocks are now 10/- per cwt. cheaper than last month, and look better buying than heifers; 50/- hard to get for this class. Small cattle made 35/- to 45/-, and yearlings 30/- to 40/- per cwt.

ROYAL HOSPITAL FOR INCURABLES.

The monthly meeting of the Committee of Management of the Royal Hospital for Incurables was held at the Hospital yesterday (Thursday) morning at 9.30 o'clock, William Perrin, Esq., Chairman, presiding. Also present:—Orlando P. Beater, Esq., LL.B.; F. C. Earle Bland, Esq.; Sir Walter H. Boyd, Bart., K.C.; E. Clive Brooks, Esq.; W. Findlater, Esq.; Sir Joseph A. Glynn, William M. Hatte, Esq., F.S.I.; G. Jameson Johnston, Esq., F.R.C.S.I.; Thomas C. McCormick, Esq.; Right Hon. James MacMahon, P.C.; Henry J. Monahan, Esq., B.L.; Sir John R. O'Connell, LL.D., J.P.; Right Hon. Charles A. O'Connor, P.C., Master of the Rolls; B. M. O'Grady, Esq.; Sir George Roche. Apologies for non-attendance were received from:—A. G. Hollinshead, Esq., J.P., Hon. Treasurer; Patrick J. Brady, Esq.; Right Rev. Monsignor J. J. Dunne, P.P., V.G.; Ambrose Aliaga Kelly, Esq.; F. R. Ridgeway, Esq.

The proceedings of the last meeting of the Committee, and also that of the Visiting and Finance Committees were read, confirmed, and signed. On the recommendation of the Finance Committee cheques amounting to £412 15/2 were signed in payment of monthly accounts, leaving the large sum of £9,010 18/10 due to the bank.

The Committee accepted tenders from the following firms for supplies to the Hospital:—Messrs. McBride Bros., meat; Messrs. H. Williams and Co., Ltd., provisions, groceries, and chandlery; Messrs. Wm. Heiton and Co., Ltd., Scotch steam coal; Messrs. Thos. J. Nicholl and Son, Ltd., steam slack.

Mr. William Perrin (Chairman), in accordance with notice, moved:—"That Mr. Alfred D. Price, M.Inst.C.E., be co-opted a member of the Managing Committee of the Hospital, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Edward Lee, J.P." Mr. B. M. O'Grady seconded the proposition, which was passed unanimously.

A letter addressed to the Chairman was read from Mr. Frederick Batchelor, F.R.I.B.A., resigning membership of the Managing Committee in consequence of his having left Ireland. Resignation accepted with much regret.

The report books of the Lady Superintendent and Resident Medical Officer were read and approved of. Patients in the Hospital this day, 212, viz.—94 males, 118 females.

The Committee tender their grateful thanks for the following kind contributions received since last meeting:—£10 10/-, A. McFarland, Esq. (Life Governor) (per Chairman); £10 4/10, Mrs. H. M. Kodak pictures of the Children

He's a bonnie little chap—as happy as a sandboy and bursting with health! You like to see him growing taller and filling out, and yet, in a way, you wish you could keep him as he is—don't you? But he'll keep on growing: next summer he'll be a year older and will have lost some of his fascinating, childish ways. Make Kodak snapshots of him as he is now and so keep him with you! Such snapshots, though precious now, will be priceless in the years to come! Remember you can learn to use a Kodak in half-an-hour.

Save the children's happy days with a Kodak

All Kodaks and Brownies have been reduced in price. Here are two popular models.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

The draft of the Free State Constitution was published last night.—(P. 5 and 7.)

Several serious fires took place in Belfast again yesterday. In one case great damage was done to a weaving factory.—(P. 5.)

Speaking to his constituents in Clonakilty last night, Mr. Collins said that if the new Government failed to fulfil its task, he would be the first to go to the people and put an alternative before them.—(P. 6.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

In a statement which he made in the House of Commons last night on the general situation in India, Lord Winterton said that indications seemed to show that the country's economic position was improving, and that the corner had been turned.—(P. 6.)

ABROAD.

Weaknesses in the German Budget are pointed out in a fresh Note addressed to the German Chancellor by the Reparations Commission. No provision has been made for the deficit in the working of the State railways and postal services. The Commission asks for "definite proposals."—(P. 5.)

Three members of the Mount Everest Expedition have climbed to a point 1,800 feet from the crest of the mountain. Despatches tell a striking story of pluck and endurance.—(P. 5.)

The Hague Conference of Experts opened yesterday. The meeting was of a preliminary nature to decide on the method of procedure.—(P. 5.)

COMMERCIAL.

The reduction of the Bank of England rate of discount to 3½ per cent. (the lowest point since July, 1914), gave the London Stock Markets a better tone.—(P. 9.)

Irish Banks reduced their rate to 4½ per cent. Dublin Stock Market was dull.—(P. 9.)

SIR DAVID HARREL.

Mainly in consequence of the delicate health of Lady Harrel, Sir David Harrel is giving up his residence at Shankill, Co. Dublin, having disposed of his house. They have not yet decided where they are ultimately going to settle down, but for the present it is their intention to pay visits to friends in the South of Ireland. Sir David was born in 1841, so that he is over 80 years of age. Sir David occupied successively the positions of Chief Commissioner of the Dublin Metropolitan Police and Under Secretary, and it is understood that when he retired into private life he had a very full diary and record of the incidents of his official career in Ireland, which, no doubt, would make very interesting reading had they been published. But, on looking over them, Sir David arrived at the conclusion that, as the information which they contained had been obtained by him as an official, they were private documents, and that they should be regarded as confidential. Accordingly, he destroyed the records soon after his retirement, about twenty years ago.

The Constitution.

We print the full text of the Constitution of the Irish Free State, together with Mr. Churchill's assurance that, in the opinion of the British Government, it is in conformity with the Treaty of Peace. Nominally, the Provisional Government has kept faith with the electors who will vote to-day. The Constitution will lie on their breakfast-tables; but they cannot give any real study to this complicated, vastly important and, in many respects, novel document before they hurry to defeat the wiles of the personator. The Provisional Government, however, has been the victim of circumstances. It can be said immediately that this Constitution is a magnificent charter of liberty. Nothing is withheld from the Irish people which is necessary to their complete freedom and unfettered progress within the community of nations that form the British Commonwealth. Within that community, however, Ireland is established and must remain. The Constitution is framed on the model of the Constitution of Canada, with variations suggested by other Constitutions and by the fresh inspiration of its Irish draftsmen. Some of the latter are admirable, some are of doubtful utility, and a few seem to us to be freakish and even dangerous. The Constitution stretches the principles of democratic government within the British Empire to the furthest point. The Free State will have a two-chamber Parliament, elected by adult suffrage. The Senate will be partly elected and partly nominated. The executive body will be a council of twelve Ministers appointed by the King's representative and responsible to the Lower Chamber. Provision is made for the Swiss institution of referendum and initiative. The King's representative will have the usual powers of reservation and veto over the acts of the national assembly.

The outstanding feature of the Constitution is the virtually supreme authority which, within the limits of the Treaty, it confers on the Dail, or Lower Chamber, of the Free State Parliament. For legislative purposes, indeed, the Senate may be regarded merely as an honorific addendum to the machinery of State. It may initiate legislation, and may delay it—a useful function; but, if its views clash with those of the Dail, they may be over-ridden by the simple process of being ignored. Furthermore, the Dail will have a large influence in the nomination and election of the Senate's sixty members, only four of whom will be elected independently by the two Southern universities. These arrangements confront us immediately with the question of the protection of minority interests. Such interests are unlikely—in the beginning, at any rate—to secure anything like adequate representation in the Lower Chamber. The Act of 1920 made specific provision for them in the Senate; but the Constitution of the Free State requires them to depend for justice on the "special regard" of the President of the Executive Council, who will be the nominee of a majority in the Dail. This provision—or lack of provision—is a cause of anxiety to those representatives of the Southern loyalists who attended the conferences in London. In a letter to Mr. Churchill they express regret that the Constitution has not followed the precedent of the 1920 Act. They are not satisfied that the proposed Senate, with its limited powers, can afford genuine protection to minorities in Ireland.

The die is not yet cast. The Constitution (kept within the Treaty) can be amended in Ireland before it is ratified finally by the Irish people and by the Imperial Parliament; and the Provisional Parliament which will be elected to-day will show true statesmanship if it respects the natural fears and reasonable wishes of the Southern minority. In our own view, however, there can be only one genuine safeguard of the rights of minority interests in this or any other country. The litera scripta of the most water-tight Constitution will not protect them if it is not honoured in the true spirit of good-will. The existence of that spirit alone will give reality to the clauses of the Constitution which guarantee religious and other liberties to all classes and creeds in Ireland. Southern loyalists are ready to help to make the Constitution an instrument of national peace, unity and progress. If a common patriotism welcomes them into the common fold, if heart-service and not mere lip-service is given to the Imperial obligation, if the oath which the Constitution demands is taken sincerely by all members of the Free State Parliament, then we may be sure that the new Ireland stands upon the threshold of a splendid career. On both sides, majority and minority, "the readiness is all." The new Constitution, if it is fulfilled faithfully, will give to Irish genius a scope for constructive statesmanship, for social and economic adventure, that will rivet the sympathetic eyes of the whole world upon this small island of the West. Here is our country's supreme opportunity—supreme, perhaps, in the strictest sense—and every elector who votes for the Treaty to-day will help Ireland to seize it.

The Bank Rate.

Yesterday the English Bank rate was reduced from 4 to 3½ per cent., with the result that the Irish rate stands now at 4½. This figure is the lowest which has been reached since July, 1914, and will be welcomed generally by men of affairs. The reason for the latest reduction is obvious. Money, in the crude jargon of the Stock Exchange, has been "unloanable" for some time. Business in stocks and shares has been stagnating in London, and our London Correspondent tells us that many stockbrokers have been unable to find sufficient work to keep their staffs employed. The present reduction will help to bring about a more satisfactory condition of affairs, and, for the time being, at any rate, it will give a welcome impetus to business. Lower Bank rates, however, cannot solve Britain's economic problem. The only way in which prosperity can be restored is by an improvement in the export trade. In other words, there can be no real progress towards recovery until orders begin to arrive in Britain from foreign countries. At present such orders are sadly lacking, and the fall in the Bank rate is not likely to make any appreciable difference in their bulk. In conjunction with the engineering settlement, however, it may help to bring down costs of production, which at present constitute the most formidable obstacle in the way of British trade. In the meanwhile, Irishmen are wondering why the Irish Bank rate should be so high. The difference of one per cent. is purely arbitrary, and there is no real excuse for its maintenance. Irish trade has been hit extremely hard of recent years. All our banks are in a very flourishing condition, if their balances are any criterion of their prosperity; and a further reduction of the Irish rate would be exceedingly welcome.

Postal Improvements.

We congratulate the Postmaster-General on the promptitude with which he has given effect to the suggestions that were made to him by Irish business men in regard to the mail services. His promised reforms will come into force on the first day of next month. They will affect the time-tables of the principal railways and of the cross-Channel mail boats; but the changes will be all for the better and will result in a greatly improved service of mails. In the first place, the night mail will leave Kingstown for Holyhead an hour later than it leaves at present. This arrangement will find general approval among the business community; for it will allow letters for England and the Continent to be posted with a special fee up to 8.18 p.m. at Westland row railway station, whereas, at present, the latest hour for posting is 7.18 p.m. The general night mail at certain specified places in Dublin will be collected about half an hour later than it is being collected now, while an all-round effort will be made to "speed up" services. The provinces will benefit by the change even more widely than Dublin. In Cork, for instance, the day mails do not arrive until 1 o'clock, which is luncheon hour, while the return mails leave at 2 p.m., giving business men no time to answer their letters. Under the new system the mails will arrive before one, and the return mail will not leave Cork until 3 p.m. This advantage will be enjoyed in varying degrees by provincial centres in all parts of the country, and will tend to stimulate trade with Great Britain. The next improvement must be cheaper rates.

"Inferior Irishmen."

Mr. Lothrop Stoddard, an American, has written a book entitled "The Revolt Against Civilisation," which is causing a great stir. He is in despair of our civilised race, and adduces a remarkable mass of carefully sifted evidence to prove that man is on the downward path. One of his arguments is rather amusing. Nearly two million soldiers in the American Army, he says, were examined thoroughly in "intelligence tests," and only 4½ per cent. of them were of "very superior intelligence." Foreign-born recruits were responsible for a most interesting analysis. Englishmen head the list with 8.7 per cent. of "inferiority" and 19.7 per cent. of "superiority." They are followed by Dutchmen, Danes, Scotsmen, Germans, Swedes, Canadians, Belgians, Norwegians, and Austrians, while at the heel of the hunt come the poor Irish, who are 39.4 per cent. "inferior" and only 4.1 per cent. "superior." The only conclusion which we can draw from this apparently humiliating array of figures is that intelligent Irishmen do not join the American Army. We may be wrong; but, if Mr. Stoddard is right, Ireland's cup of bitterness is full, indeed.

Splicing the Main Brace.

The administration of the Prohibition Laws in America is causing some discontent among the distilling and brewing interests. The discovery has been made that intoxicating drinks are being sold on American ships while they are outside the three-mile limit. Under the last Government prohibition applied to all ships which flew the American flag. Now, however, this interpretation has been found to impose a serious disadvantage on the shipping trade, and the enforcement of prohibition upon the high seas has been dropped. The decision has provoked much criticism in the House of Representatives. One deputy declared that the Government was guilty of the most blatant hypocrisy by devoting large sums of the national revenue towards the enforcement of the prohibition laws, while it was violating them itself in the favour of particular interests. The new outcry is a further expression of the growing impatience with the anomalies and absurdities of the "dry" régime.

THE DAY.

A STUDY IN CONTRASTS.

"Have you a vote?"

That is the one insistent question to-day: Have I a vote! The train jerks it at me as we throw the miles behind us—it is the song of the wheels: "Are you voting? Are you voting?"

Two women of the working class sit opposite me. "An' why wouldn't I be voting?" she says in answer to the same question from her companion, as one who would say: "An' why wouldn't I be eating my breakfast." In lower tones they discuss the merit of this or that candidate, and they are well posted, it seems, as to their qualifications. Nor is there any doubt in their minds about the meaning of the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5.

Knots of young men and women on the country bridges—at the street corners—on the steps of the village store, or gathered round the ramshackle inn, discuss the vote.

Byrne—O'Connor—Teague—and a hundred other names fall on the ear. Moreover, the tone in which these names are spoken tell of intimacy and eager interest.

"Is it Mollie Cassidy that's in it?" I catch the derisive question as I pass by one little group. "Sure she'll vote if Mick has to drag her to it by the hair of her."

Yes, the masses will vote to a woman—make no mistake about that—even if in the doing of it they may have to count out some of the hairs of them—golden or grey, as the case may be.

Moreover, they will fill up their papers aright. Paddy Byrne—Michael Cassidy—Mick Owen—haven't they known them since——

* * * *

Tea time, and my journey ends with a deep armchair and Wedgewood china, that gives forth a delicious aroma of fragrant China tea.

"Oh, no," says my hostess, "I'm afraid not. It's rather tragic, isn't it? You see we thought we were on the register, and then when Charley found out we weren't, he moved heaven and earth to get us on, but it was no use."

Two young women in a far corner are having an animated discussion:

"My dear, she always plays a net game, so, of course——. No we're not voting. It's Mrs. Carlyon's tennis tea that day; we can't miss that. So stupid to have the polling just on that day, isn't it?"

A younger member of the party bursts out indignantly: "Isn't it a rotten shame? I won't be able to vote after all. Oh, I've got one all right, but Daddy says he can't spare Higgins to take me in. He's seeing to the reels or something for next month's fishing."

"Well," chimes in an elderly lady, with a face like a placid plum pudding. "I never asked for the vote, and I never unsexed myself to get it. I think its positively indecent for women to vote, and I'm not going to countenance such behaviour by using it."

"I'd vote all right," says a pretty young woman, handing up her cup for the third time, "but I know I'd be too dog for words after the Murrays' dance on Thursday . . ."

A languid length of orange sponge-cloth gracefully draped on a lounge chair interrupts her with a sigh—

"If only there weren't those twos and threes and ones and things! But I never could do arithmetic, could I, Jack?"

"Never," assents Jack, with most likely a lively reminiscence of her bank book.

Dancing—tennis—fishing, and—the Treaty!

For my charming hostess, and for Charlie, who should have moved heaven and earth a fortnight earlier, it is, indeed, too late.

But for you who have the opportunity, can you not summon to your side the genii of right and duty?

The masses voting to a woman, and you, who should counter-balance that vote—playing tennis!

Truly a unique picture.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

Princess Yolande, daughter of the King and Queen of Italy, arrived in Paris from Rome on Wednesday evening, and will leave for London to-day. The Princess, who is just twenty-one, is understood to be travelling incognito, but will be met by several of the officials from the Italian Embassy.

The Earl of Balfour will be the principal speaker at the banquet which will be given next Monday by the Pilgrims to welcome ex-President Taft to London. Among those who have promised to attend the dinner are the American Ambassador, the Duke of Devonshire, the Earl of Derby, Field Marshal the Earl of Ypres, Sir Hamar Greenwood, and many of the High Court Judges.

* * *

A Primrose League garden party will be given by the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland early next month, at Sutton place, their residence in Surrey. The Duchess has issued invitations for a small dance at Hampden House on the 29th inst.

* * *

The Earl and Countess of Huntingdon have left Burton Hall, Loughborough, and are now at Great Cumberland place for the remainder of the London season. A good many foreigners have arrived in London during the last few days, including Prince Yugala, of Siam, who left Paris for England on Wednesday. Prince Knud, of Denmark, is another visitor, and the Danish Minister and Countess Ahlefeldt-Laurvig are giving a dance in his honour on Tuesday next at the Danish Legation. The Comte de Noailles has arrived in London from Paris, and Count and Countess Laszlo Karolyi from Buda Pesth.

The marriage of the Hon. Mrs. McLaren and Lieut.-Colonel B. Freyberg, V.C., D.S.O., C.M.G., was celebrated by special licence on Wednesday at St. Martha-on-the-Hill, Surrey. The bride is the widow of the Hon. Francis McLaren, who was killed when flying in 1917. As a child she spent several years in Dublin when her father, Sir Herbert Jekyll was Private Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant (Lord Houghton). The date and hour of the ceremony had been kept a secret, and only a few relatives and intimate friends were present at the church.

The marriage arranged between Lieut. Vernon E. B. Nicholson, R.N., H.M.S. Maidstone, and Emma Margery, elder daughter of the late Owen A. Armstrong will take place on Tuesday, 20th June, at St. George's, Portsmouth.

* * *

A marriage is arranged and will shortly take place between Charles Walpole Crofts, son of the late Christopher Crofts, of Ballythomas, Mallow, Co. Cork, and Muriel Pauline, only child of Edmund Lynch-Athy, D.I., and Mrs. Lynch-Athy, Renville, Oranmore, Co. Galway.

Mr. Gerard Black will return to 11 Clare street on Monday, 19th.

MARRIAGE OF MR. J. H. McCOY AND MISS GRIFFITHS.

The marriage was celebrated at All Saints' Church, Grangegorman, on the 7th inst., of Mr. J. Hamilton McCoy and Annie, the eldest daughter of Captain Griffiths, R.E. The church had been decorated for the occasion, and was filled with guests and visitors. The ceremony was performed by Captain the Rev. Scott Little and the Rev. J. Shortt, who met the bride and party at the church door.

The bride was dressed in ivory crepe satin, draped with silver lace and orange blossom. She wore a Limerick lace veil, fastened with a tiara of pearls, a gift from Miss Ball, of Marlborough road, Donnybrook. The bridesmaids were Misses Kathleen and "Babs" Griffiths, sisters of the bride; Miss Isobel McCoy, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Madge Corker, cousin of the bride. A reception was held at the bride's home, at which some 80 guests were present. Afterwards the newly-married pair motored to Kingstown, en route for London and Eastbourne. The presents were as follow:—

Bride's father and mother, piano and mirrors, household and table linen; bridegroom's father and mother, canteen of cutlery; bridegroom's gift to bride's mother, aquamarine and pearl gold brooch; bridegroom to bride, fur beaver coat; bride to bridegroom, gold signet ring; bridegroom's gift to bridesmaids, gold pendants; best man's (Mr. Leslie McCoy) gift, cheque; presentation from the Hibernian Bank, silver tea service; Captain the Rev. and Mrs. Scott Little, silver salters (two sets).

The following also sent presents:—Mrs. Ball, Miss Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Corker, Mr. and Mrs. McCaig, Rev. Bertie and Miss Mollan, Miss Burnes, Mr. Evans (Liverpool), Mr. and Mrs. R. Griffiths, Miss Griffiths, Lieutenant Sharpe, R.E.; Mr. and Miss Waugh, Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Scott, Mr. C. and Captain Mollan, R.A.M.C.; Mrs. Mollan, grandmother to bride; Mr. and Miss Armstrong, Captain and Mrs. Morrell, Mr. Clegg, Mr. and Mrs. Digby Wolsley Morton, Colonel and Mrs. Higgins, Major and Mrs. Ward, Mr. Armstrong, Rev. THE COLLEGE RACES.

Though yesterday was a grey day, and sadly lacking in sunshine, the afternoon held fine and proved propitious for the College Races, which attracted a goodly crowd into the College Park, which is looking lovely at present. The programme of events afforded plenty of interest, and exciting finishes were vigorously applauded. Many spectators sat on the slopes round the racing track, and there were numerous visitors in the enclosure round the pavilion, where plenty of seats had been provided, and where at the close of the proceedings Mrs. Bernard distributed the prizes, which made a handsome display, to the successful competitors.

Amongst those who were present were:—The Right Hon. the Most Rev. Dr. Bernard, Provost of Trinity College, with Mrs. Bernard and party; Mr. William Jellett, M.P., and the Misses Jellett; Sir Robert Woods, M.P., and Lady Woods and party; Sir Robert Tate, Mr. George Stewart, Sir Henry and Lady McLaughlin, the Misses McLaughlin, Dr. and Mrs. Bethel Solomons, Dr. Ella Webb and party, Mrs. Stuart, Captain Goulding, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Murray, Mr. Colthurst, etc., etc.

ROYAL DUBLIN FUSILIERS.

The monthly meeting of the Royal Dublin Fusiliers Repatriated Prisoners of War Committee was held in Dublin on Wednesday, June 7—the Right Hon. Andrew Jameson, D.L., in the chair.

Of the 47 applications before the Committee 34 received monetary grants, six were postponed for further information, and three were not within the scope of the fund.

The Secretary reported that 21 fresh names had been added to the books during the month.

The Committee's office, 26 South Frederick street, Dublin, is open daily for interviews from 9.30 to 10.30. All communications by letter are promptly attended to.

LONDON LETTER.

MR. CHURCHILL'S SURPRISE.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
THURSDAY NIGHT.

The lure of Mr. Churchill's expected statement upon Ireland attracted an unusually large attendance to the House of Commons. The public galleries, too, were well filled, but there was a strange and, as it turned out, a significant emptiness about the Peers' and Distinguished Strangers' Galleries. The explanation came quite early in the proceedings when Sir Donald Maclean asked whether the Colonial Secretary would make a statement as to the present Irish situation. Most of us expected that Mr. Churchill would suggest the deferring of his answer till questions were over; but, to the general surprise, he replied that he had come to the conclusion that it would be better to postpone his statement until the middle or end of next week.

He proceeded, however, to give the House some information: first, that the general state of Ireland, both North and South, was quieter than when the House separated for the recess; and, secondly, that the draft of the new Constitution which the Government generally approves would be published in the Press tomorrow morning. So far so good. But when Mr. Inskip asked if so important a document ought not first to be presented to Parliament, Mr. Churchill replied that it was only being published because the Provisional Government intended to publish it; and that, strictly speaking, it was only through the courtesy of the Provisional Government that His Majesty's Ministers had been able to examine it.

Sir W. Joynson Hicks hotly protested against this view, and was advised by Mr. Churchill not to adopt an air of indignation, since what he had said was quite in accord with precedent. There was nothing in the relations between the Mother Country and the Dominions which obliged the Provisional Government to show the document at this stage. The right time for its serious examination would be when it had been adopted by the Irish Parliament, about to be elected. This statement, though, no doubt, strictly according to the card, evidently surprised many members.

MORE MYSTERY.

There is still a certain air of mystery about the whole affair. Mr. Churchill was by no means so jaunty in manner as he had been earlier in the day, and, as for the Prime Minister, his face was a picture of gloom both during question time and later, when, for no apparent reason, he sat on the Treasury Bench listening to Lord Winterton's exposition of Indian affairs.

On the assumption that no untoward event in Ireland or elsewhere precipitates a general election—and rumours to this effect were again prevalent to-day—there is now very little doubt that the House will have to meet in the autumn. In refusing to give a day for a discussion on criminal insanity, apropos of the True case, Mr. Chamberlain said that he could not undertake to find time for discussions of this kind if the House were to adjourn at a reasonable time, "in view of the probability of an autumn session."

On the vote for the India Office, Lord Winterton confirmed the good opinion earned by his exposition of the Burma Constitution earlier in the week. He put the House in a good temper at once by recalling his own back-bench protests against Ministerial prolixity, and promising to be as brief as his big subject permitted. His audience was not very large, but for some time it included the Prime Minister, the Leader of the House, and two other Cabinet Ministers—an unusual compliment for an Under-Secretary.

WAITING.

Much discussion took place in the Lobby on the announcement by Mr. Churchill that his statement on Ireland would have to be postponed until next week. Members did not seem to be of the opinion that there had been a break of any kind in the negotiations; but the conclusion seemed to be that the Government had decided to wait the result of the Southern Ireland elections and the reception of the modified Constitution. Many members, however, expressed disappointment at the renewed postponement of the statement.

After he left the House this afternoon the Prime Minister entertained to tea at Downing street the members of the Italian civic deputation now on a visit to London. On Monday he is to give a luncheon to M. Poincaré, and to this function all the members of the Cabinet have been invited, as well as many other distinguished persons. Mr. Lloyd George also intends to be present at the dinner to be given to Mr. Taft by the United States Ambassador on Saturday week.

Furs and warm wraps were the general wear at Ascot again to-day, and it was noticed that the attendance had fallen off considerably. Probably many people are at home suffering from colds and chills caught while defying the inclement weather of Tuesday and yesterday. The meeting has been a profound disappointment to many; for, if all had gone well, it would have been one of the most brilliant of Ascots for many years. The rain, however, if it has spoilt the pleasure of thousands, has been an inestimable boon to the country at large. Last night there was steady rain for hours, and it is believed that the root and vegetable crops have been saved and that the corn crops should now give a magnificent yield.

Saturday, June 24th, has been fixed for the wedding of the Hon. Lucia White, the daughter of Lord Annaly, to the Hon. G. Monckton-Arundell, the only son of Lord Galway. The ceremony will take place at St. Mark's Church, North Audley street, and, since Miss White is a maid of honour to Queen Alexandra, it is likely that Her Majesty will be present.

I am asked to state, for the information of his friends in Ireland, that Major G. J. Hall, O.B.E., R.E., who has just undergone a severe operation, is making satisfactory progress.

THE BANK RATE.

The reduction of the Bank rate will, it is hoped in the City, give a much-needed fillip to business. The stock markets have been so dull of late that the brokers and jobbers have found it difficult to find work for their staffs. With an Irish settlement, a clearing of the Labour crisis, and an abundant supply of cheap money, there would be every reason to hope for an improvement in the stock markets. Still, it does not come, and nobody seems able to give an adequate reason.

City people are engaged in wondering what will happen in Russia now that Lenin has been placed on the shelf for a time. Their interest is due to the fact that M. Kameneff will be one of the three rulers of the country in the interval. He was quite well known in the City when he was here, and it will be remembered that he solemnly promised not to engage in propaganda work, but broke the promise, and was ordered back to Russia. He is a Jew, his real name being Rosenfeld, and he is rather a sinister-looking figure—black-bearded, neat in his dress, and quietly spoken. He is only thirty-seven, but looks nearly twenty years older. In the meanwhile, a letter-writer in Russia says that there is no improvement. "Inhibitive prices and starvation are here, side by side with terrible waste and reckless debauchery."

MUD-SPLASHING MOTOR CARTS.

It is understood that Rialtas Sealadach na hEireann has decided to enforce from the 1st proximo the regulation which requires that every heavy motor car used on any highway shall be fitted with a device so constructed and fixed, and of such a character as will prevent mud or water being thrown by such heavy motor car upon any person or property, or upon any other vehicle.

FREE STATE'S CHARTER

FULL TEXT OF THE DRAFT CONSTITUTION.

SEVERAL NOVEL ARTICLES

SOUTHERN UNIONISTS AND THE SENATE.

The draft Constitution of the Irish Free State, as amended at the London Conferences, was issued for publication last night. The full text is printed on Page 7.

Mr. Churchill says that it is in conformity with the Treaty, and Mr. Griffith says that it makes Ireland a free and democratic State, with power to control and develop her own resources and to live her own national life.

In some respects the Constitution is more liberal than that of any other Dominion. The King's position, however, as head of the State is made absolutely clear. Every member of the Senate and of the Chamber must swear that he will be faithful to the King "by virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland with Great Britain and her adherence to and membership of the group of nations forming the British Commonwealth of nations."

The King's representative will summon and dissolve Parliament—just as in Canada—and all legislation must receive the Royal Assent through him. He has the usual right of reservation and veto upon all acts of the National Assembly.

There will be an Executive Council consisting of twelve Ministers, four of whom must be members of the Lower Chamber. The Council will be appointed by the King's representative on the nomination of the Lower Chamber.

An interesting innovation borrowed from Switzerland is the people's right to "referendum and initiative."

The Southern Unionists who attended the Colonial Office Conference have sent a note to Mr. Churchill in which they express dissatisfaction with the constitution of the Senate.

OFFICIAL EXPLANATION.

THE MAIN POINTS IN THE CONSTITUTION.

The Provisional Government's Publicity Department issued the following statement last night:—

"By the Treaty between Great Britain and Ireland, signed at London on the 6th day of December last upon the basis of which the armed conflict between the two countries was brought to a close, peace was established on the footing of the release by Great Britain of its hold on Irish Government and of Ireland taking her place as a member of, and an equal in, the community of nations forming the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"Under the terms of that Treaty Ireland was recognised as free to construct her own Constitution for her own Government according to her own ideas, subject only to the condition of harmonising her constitutional position with that of the other nations in the community, and establishing constitutional expression through the modes and formulæ which are the constitutional language recognised by all the members of the group of nations.

CHARTER OF LIBERTY.

"This is the charter of constitutional liberty set forth in the first four articles of the Treaty, in the record of which the constitutional position of Canada is chosen as the type, because of the great advance that had been made by that Dominion on the road to liberty in association.

"These are the outstanding features of the document. The other provisions are in the nature of collateral agreements relating to mutual defence, protection of minorities, and matters arising out of the new position.

"The Provisional Government have caused a Constitution to be drafted for the purpose of giving effect to the Treaty so entered into between the two countries, and securing for Ireland in fullest measure the liberties won and recognised by the Treaty.

"They are now submitting to the people the Constitution which has been drafted under their instructions, limited only by the agreed terms set out in the Treaty and the further assurances which have been given in respect of the security and representation of minorities.

FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS.

"The Irish Free State is declared to be a co-equal member of the 'Community of Nations forming the British Commonwealth.'

"All legislative, executive, judicial, and governmental powers are declared to be derived from the people.

"The far-reaching effects of this clause are obvious. It practically amounts to a declaration of the sovereign authority of the Irish people. It is, of course, in no other Dominion Constitution, but is in the Constitution of nearly every sovereign State in existence.

"Another remarkable article, which, of course, is also not in the Constitution of the Dominions, provides for citizenship in the Free State.

"Irish is declared to be the national language, and all public acts, proclamations, and pronouncements must be published in the Irish language. They may also be published in English.

"The strong democratic tone of the draft is obvious from such provisions as those abolishing titles of honour, making inviolable the personal liberty and the dwellinghouses of citizens, freedom of conscience and the free profession and practice of religion; establishing the right of free expression of opinion and the right of all citizens to assemble peaceably and without arms, and to form associations and unions; the prohibition, except under State supervision, of the exploitation by private individuals of the natural resources of the country; the abolition of sex distinctions and what amounts to virtual adult suffrage, etc., etc.

"The Legislature shall consist of two Houses. The Lower House will be called Dail Eireann, or the Chamber of Deputies, and the Upper House/Seanad Eireann or the Senate, and both together will be known as the Oireachtas.

"Every citizen who has reached the age of 21 years, and who is not otherwise incapacitated, shall be eligible to become a member of the Dail.

"There are the usual provisions as to safeguarding members from arrest, making Parliamentary reports and utterances privileged, etc.

"An Article enables the Oireachtas, if it so decides, to pay its members and provide them with free travelling facilities 'in any part of Ireland.'

"The Oireachtas must hold at least one session a year, and the sittings of each House are to be in public, save in cases of special emergency, when, with the assent of two-thirds of the members present, they can be held in private.

CHAMBER AND SENATE.

"The Legislature has power to fix the number of members from time to time, but the total number of members of the Dail shall not be fixed at less than one member for each 30,000 of the population or at more than one member for each 20,000 of the population. Members shall be elected upon principles of proportional representation. The Dail will meet within one month of its election, and shall continue for four years unless dissolved earlier.

"The Senate is to consist of 60 citizens who have done honour to the nation by reason of useful public service or other special qualifications.

"A citizen to be eligible to the Senate must be 35 years of age, and must be nominated by the Dail. The term of membership will be 12 years.

"A significant feature of the draft is the dominant position of the Dail. With regard to the imposition of taxes and duties and the appropriation of revenues, the Dail will have legislative authority exclusive of Seanad Eireann.

"With regard to other legislation a bill initiated in the Dail must go forward to the Senate. The Senate may amend such bill, and the Dail can then consider such amendment, but a bill passed by the Dail and considered by the Senate shall, after a certain period, be deemed to be passed by both Houses of the Oireachtas in its form as last passed by the Dail. On the other hand, a bill initiated in the Senate shall, when passed by the Senate, be introduced into the Dail. Should the Dail amend such a bill it shall be considered as having been initiated in the Dail.

KING'S VETO.

"Powers of reservation and veto by the King's representative are expressly stated to be governed by the law practice and Constitutional usage governing the like witholding of assent or reservation in the Dominion of Canada.

"The Oireachtas is given power to create subordinate legislatures, and confer on them certain limited authority.

"Other powers are to provide for the establishment of vocational councils representing branches of the social and economic life of the nation, and to raise and maintain armed forces. A novel and democratic departure in Constitutions is the incorporation of the Swiss idea of the referendum and initiative.

"Another pleasant feature is the express declaration that the Irish Free State shall not be committed to active participation in any war without the assent of the Oireachtas, save only in the case of actual invasion.

THE EXECUTIVE.

"Another place in which Swiss ideas of government have been largely borrowed is to be found in the section relating to the establishment of an Executive Council. This Council shall consist of not more than 12 Ministers who will be responsible to the Dail, and of whom four shall be members of the Dail, and a number not exceeding eight shall be selected from all eligible citizens who are not members of the Dail.

"There will be a President of the Executive Council to be known as an t-Uachtaran, and a Vice-President who will be known as an Tanaist.

"Ministers hold office until they lose the support of the majority of the Dail.

"Ministers who are not members of the Oireachtas shall be nominated by a Committee of members of the Dail chosen by a method to be determined, so as to be impartially representative of the Dail.

"Ministers who are members of the Dail shall alone be responsible for all matters relating to external affairs, whether of policy, negotiations or executive acts.

"Ministers who are not members of the Dail shall, by virtue of their office, possess all the rights and privileges of Dail membership, except the right to vote.

THE JUDICIARY.

"The Courts of the Irish Free State shall consist of Courts of first instance, including a High Court, vested with full original jurisdiction in and power to determine all matters and questions, whether of law or fact, and also Courts of local and limited jurisdiction.

"The Supreme Judiciary Authority in the country will reside in a Court of Final Appeal, to be known as the Supreme Court, at which appeals from the other Courts will be heard and decided. Power is given to the Courts to interpret in law, having regard to the provisions of the Constitution.

"A notable achievement with respect to the Judiciary is the insertion of the South African precedent in connection with appeals to the Judicial Committee of the British Privy Council.

"The South African precedent in this respect is by far the best in Dominion Constitutions."

EVE OF THE POLL.

ACTIVITIES IN DUBLIN.

The eve of the elections was marked by much activity in Dublin. Some new electioneering posters were luridly displayed. King William's statue in College Green was decorated with vivid placards urging the claims of the Labour candidates, while an elaborate cartoon was profusely posted with the object of injuring the prospects of the Independent candidates—a sure indication of their strength. There was much speculation as to the results of the contests, especially regarding the number of Anti-Treaty nominees likely to be returned. The opinion was generally expressed that the present strength of the Republicans will be reduced, and that some of the Treaty supporters of the panel will also make way for Labour and other Independent candidates.

The publication, long deferred, of the text of the Constitution will greatly stimulate interest in the contests, especially in regard to the prospects of the Republicans, whose objections to the document are not likely to be reflected in the polling, while supporters of the Treaty will be satisfied with its accordance with the Articles of Agreement. The fact that Mr. Churchill deemed it advisable to postpone his promised statement in the House of Commons yesterday has been taken as a healthy sign that matters have been satisfactorily adjusted in London. It was hoped that he would have given a review of the situation, but it was realised that in view of the elections his decision was justifiable.

POLLING IN DUBLIN.

By an inadvertence the name of the Arran Quay Ward was omitted yesterday from our list of the polling districts in the North-West Division of Dublin. The polling for that ward will take place in St. Patrick's Schools, 63, North King street. There are 19 polling booths and no fewer than 12,481 voters on the register.

Polling for Glasnevin Ward will take place in St. Peter's National Schools, Phibsborough.

ITALY'S FOREIGN POLICY.

RELATIONS WITH FRANCE.

ROME, Thursday.

During a debate on the Foreign Affairs Budget yesterday in the Chamber of Deputies, Signor Schanzer denied that the Government had not done its duty regarding the question of the emigration of Italians into Tunis. He said that steps had been taken for safeguarding Italian interests. Italy's policy towards France was clear and loyal, and was reciprocated by France, who would examine the Italian demands on this question in a calm spirit.

Signor Schanzer, referring to Palestine, promised to discuss with Great Britain the terms of the mandate in the religious and economic interests of Italians in Palestine.

In the matter of reparations the problem was being studied with the greatest care for the protection of Italian interests.—(Reuter.)

THE TELEPHONE EXCHANGE.

The Postmaster-General has made arrangements, out of consideration chiefly of the newspaper offices in Dublin, to set up a special bureau at the Central Exchange, Dublin, to which inquiries may be addressed by telephone for information as to the results of the elections for the next few days.

COMPOSITION OF SENATE.

SOUTHERN UNIONISTS DISSATISFIED.

PROTECTION OF MINORITIES.

The representatives of the Unionists of Southern Ireland who participated in the Irish conferences in London have forwarded the following letter to the Secretary for the Colonies:—

"34 Portland Place,
"June 14, 1922.

"The Right Hon. Winston Churchill, M.P.

"We, the undersigned, wish to place it on record that although, according to the pledge of His Majesty's Government and the Provisional Government, we have been given the opportunity of seeing and discussing those articles of the Irish Constitution which affect the composition and relations of the two Houses, the other articles of the Constitution have not been submitted to us. Our advice and suggestions have been limited to the composition of the Senate and its relation to the Lower House.

"We fully recognise the desire to meet our views, and the concessions which have been made during the prolonged discussions which have taken place on the scheme as originally submitted to us.

"Nevertheless, we regret that the precedent of the Senate now in existence for Southern Ireland under the Act of 1920 has not been followed, and we are not satisfied that any Senate constituted as proposed by popular election, and with powers so strictly limited, can afford a genuine protection to minorities in Ireland.

(Signed)

"Midleton, J. H. Bernard, Bp.; Donoughmore, Andrew Jameson."

[Note—The 1920 Act provided that the Senate of Southern Ireland should consist of the Lord Chancellor, the Lord Mayor of Dublin, the Lord Mayor of Cork, 17 representatives of commerce, Labour, and the scientific and learned professions, nominated by the Lord Lieutenant; four Archbishops or Bishops of the Roman Catholic Church, two Archbishops or Bishops of the Church of Ireland, 16 peers, and 14 representatives of County Councils.]

MR. GRIFFITH'S VIEW.

FREE AND DEMOCRATIC STATE.

Mr. A. Griffith, in an interview with a representative of the Press Association at his hotel last night, said:—

"The Constitution is that of a free and democratic State, and under it Ireland, for the first time for centuries, secures the power and opportunity to control and develop her own resources and to lead her own national life."

Mr. Griffith and his colleague, Mr. Hugh Kennedy, K.C., left London for Dublin last night.

STATEMENT BY MR. CHURCHILL.

"IN CONFORMITY WITH THE TREATY."

In the House of Commons yesterday afternoon Mr. Churchill again postponed his statement on the Irish situation.

He said that he had come to the conclusion that in all the circumstances he would be better advised to postpone any statement the House might desire him to make until next week—(cries of "Oh")—and probably until the middle or the latter part of next week.

"Nothing of special urgency," Mr. Churchill continued, "requires to be dealt with at the moment, and on the whole the state of the country, both in Southern and Northern Ireland, and on the frontier, is quieter than it was when we separated for the Whitsuntide recess.

"There are two events of considerable importance which will take place to-morrow. The first is the Irish election, and the second is the publication of the Irish Constitution. So far as the Irish elections are concerned, the less we say about them at this stage the better.

"So far as the Irish Constitution is concerned unexpected progress has been made. The Constitution will be published in to-morrow morning's newspapers on both sides of the Channel, and it is my duty to state on behalf of His Majesty's Government that in their opinion the Constitution is in conformity with the Treaty.

"To-morrow morning, therefore, everyone will be able to study the Constitution for himself, and probably by Tuesday next all the Irish election results will be complete. We shall then be far better able to form an opinion on the general situation in Ireland, and I shall be able to give a fuller and truer appreciation of the position than I could do with the elections unheld and the Constitution unpublished."

Replying to Captain Foxcroft, Mr. Churchill said that it was at the desire of the Provisional Government, who expressed a wish that an opportunity might be afforded to the Irish electors of seeing a copy of the draft Constitution, that an amendment was inserted in the Irish Free State (Agreement) Act postponing the election. The date of the publication of the Constitution in Ireland was a domestic matter in which the Government did not desire to interfere.

Captain Foxcroft asked if the election would take place and the Constitution be promulgated on the same day.

Mr. Churchill—That is exactly what is going to happen.

Sir William Davison—Will the electors of Ireland have an opportunity of approving of the Constitution?

Mr. Churchill—Our business in this matter will be very serious when it comes to us in the regular course; but there is nothing in the Treaty to justify us in requiring the Irish Provisional Government to put the Constitution before the electors at the election.

On the contrary, we, as far as we have any opinion in the matter, would have preferred to have gone on the simple issue of the Treaty many months ago; but it was by the wish of the Provisional Government that events have taken the course they have.

"IMPERIALISTIC FRANCE."

AMBASSADOR'S APPEAL TO BRITAIN.

Presiding at a dinner in London last night of the French Chamber of Commerce, the French Ambassador appealed to the French Colony to help in clearing away the misunderstandings between England and France, and dealt with the prejudices which he said existed in this country against France, that she was imperialist and militarist, that by her unreasonable claims she was ruining the German market, and that Germany was in a desperate financial condition.

France, he said, more than any other nation loathed war, because more than any other nation she suffered from war. What they wanted was that the victory so dearly bought should not bring about the ruin of France.

ARCHBISHOP AND UNITY.

APPEAL FOR GOOD ORDER.

On Tuesday Most Rev. Dr. Gilmartin, Archbishop of Tuam, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to about 150 children in Currandulla Church. Addressing the congregation after Mass, His Grace said that we had passed through troubled times. At present we had got the country to ourselves. The keeping of law and order was now in our own hands. Were we going to show the world that we can govern ourselves, or were we going to show that we are not fit to govern? He appealed to the men who are charged with the government of the country to keep law and order, and to make no distinctions. "Do not," said His Grace, "allow anybody to interfere with his neighbour." We had our own police and our own military to protect the rights of the people, and he was sure that they would do so. He advised the people to keep together, and to have no disunion amongst themselves.

PRESENTING A REVOLVER.

At the Dublin City Commission Court yesterday, Christopher Keegan was convicted of having assaulted Mrs. Ida Geoghegan by presenting a revolver at her on April 7th, in her house, Essex quay, under circumstances previously reported. Mr. Justice Samuels passed a sentence of six months' imprisonment.

BLIND MAN'S TOUR.

Although totally blind, Captain Gilbert Nobbs left Liverpool yesterday in the Cunard liner Samaria for Boston on a world business tour. He was afflicted by blindness through a head wound received while serving in the London Rifle Brigade in France in 1916.

This is his third world tour since the Armistice.

GERMAN BUDGET WEAKNESS.

OPTIMISTIC ECONOMY ESTIMATES.

NEW REPARATIONS NOTE.

AUTONOMY OF THE REICHSBANK.

Certain weaknesses in the German Budget proposals, as submitted to the Reparations Commission, are pointed out in a new Note addressed to the German Government.

The Note says that, in estimating its surplus, the Government has omitted to take into account the deficits on State railways and postal services. "Definite proposals" on this matter are requested.

Heed is taken of the Chancellor's assurance that the proposed new arrangements safeguard the independence of the Reichsbank. The German Government, it is emphasised, will have only the right to veto the selection of the President, who must, in any case, be a member of the Council of Administration.

Any advances from the bank to the State must be made in accordance with the usual principles of good management.

PUBLIC SERVICE COSTS.

NO PROVISION MADE.

The Reparations Commission in a new Note sent to the German Government says:—

"In its letter to the Chancellor, dated May 31, the Reparations Commission stated that there were several points in the Chancellor's letter of May 28 which required more complete elucidation, and that the questions not settled would form the subject of a further communication which would be addressed to him shortly.

"The Commission accordingly has the honour to make the following communication to the German Government:—It has already been agreed that the text of the proposed arrangements for the settlement of the following questions should form the subject of deliberations with the Committee of Guarantee:—

"(1) Control of the Empire's revenue and expenditure.

"(2) The abuse of the export of capital.

"(3) Statistics."

The Commission will accordingly await the result of the deliberations of the Committee of Guarantees with the German Government on those points.

The following questions still remain to be settled:—

"The Forced Loan—The Commission understands that all arrangements will be made in good time so that receipts secured under this head before January 1, 1923, shall amount to at least 40 milliards.

"Deficit in Public Services Budget—The Commission feels bound to observe that the Budget plan submitted to it makes no provision for supplementary receipts to meet the expenses of the Public Services. In 1922 the expenditure provided for reducing the cost of living amounts to only 250 millions, as compared with one and a half to two milliards in 1921.

"Other subsidies and subventions have been suppressed as far as existing obligations allowed and a modification of administrative organisation was possible.

"Furthermore, expenses of other kinds have been struck out. It is by these means that the expenditure figures in the 1922 Budget have been reduced by 24½ millions as compared with the Budget of 1921.

"It appears from the final remark of the appended plan that economies of a minimum total of three milliards are anticipated in the extraordinary Budgets of general administration and the public services, but nothing is said of the ways and means for meeting the extraordinary expenditure of these services, which railways, and 2,534 millions marks in respect railways, and 2,534 million marks in respect of posts.

The Reparation Commission awaits from the German Government definite proposals on this question.

FIDUCIARY CIRCULATION.

NEED FOR A CHECK.

"Autonomy of Reichsbank.—In order to secure to the Reichsbank real independence, it is not only necessary that it shall be an independent institution, but also that its personnel shall likewise be independent.

The Commission goes on to refer to the appointment of the President and members of the board of directors of the bank, and states that the provisions of the law on these points are not quite clear.

"The Commission goes on to refer to the immediate adoption of the new law definitely settling these various points, provided that the German Government pledges itself to give effect to the intentions of the Commission by administrative process. It reserves to itself, however, the right to demand a new law if experience shows the necessity for it.

"As long as the Reichsbank is authorised to issue notes against Treasury Bonds, one can hardly expect to see its autonomy used effectively according to the principles of a sound banking policy.

"While it would at present be premature to attempt purely and simply to re-establish the limitation of the note issue, it considers that the German Government must prepare forthwith measures which it would be ultimately necessary to introduce with a view to the re-establishment of a reasonable limitation of the bank's right of issue, and make steady and serious efforts for its realisation progressively, and for its application as soon as, and according as, circumstances permit.

"Unless such action is taken, it is much to be feared that the sacrifices now asked of the German people to check the growth of the floating debt will not attain the desired end.

HAGUE PRELIMINARIES.

EXPERTS' INFORMAL MEETING.

THE HAGUE, Thursday.

In the course of the short opening meeting of The Hague Conference here to-day, it was explained that the objects of the Conference are to settle the constitution of the Commission to inquire into Russian conditions, and to consider the general line to be adopted.

The Conference will have to decide on its methods of working, and also whether there will be sub-commissions, and what are to be the relations between the latter and the main commission.

Although the Conference itself only sat for an hour, the principal delegates remained behind for an informal and most useful exchange of views until the evening. As a result, there was a direct conversation between about two-thirds of the delegates, and there was found to be a quite general agreement on the whole situation.

So far there is no suggestion of any divergence of opinion. The preliminary Conference has to finish by the 20th, when the nations will have to say whether they will take part in the commission, and this decision will be communicated to the Soviets on that date.

Altogether there were representatives of 29 nations at the opening meeting to-day.

When the delegates assembled in the morning, Sir Philip Lloyd Greame said that it was a good omen that the meeting was being held in the Palace of Peace. Holland was the home of successful conferences, and this, together with the practical character of the Dutch people, gave rise to the hope that good business might be done at what was essentially a business conference.

Sir Philip then formally proposed the holding of preliminary conferences, and said that that was the desire that had generally been entertained at Genoa.

The chief Belgian delegate proposed an adjournment till eleven o'clock to-morrow, which was agreed to.

FRANCE'S AIR ESTIMATES.

PARIS, Wednesday.

The Minister of Marine, in a statement to the Senate Commission on the Army and Navy, with reference to the lowness of the French Estimates for naval aviation purposes, said that the French Estimates were 37,000,000 francs, compared with America's 166,000,000 and Great Britain's 250,000,000.—(Reuter.)

"BATTLE WITH MOUNTAINS."

1,800 FEET FROM TOP OF EVEREST.

STORY OF PLUCK AND ENDURANCE.

(COPYRIGHT OF THE MOUNT EVEREST COMMITTEE THROUGH THE TIMES.)

PHARIJON (via Simla), Wednesday.
(FROM GENERAL BRUCE.)

Finch and Captain Bruce, with one Gurkha, camped at 25,000 feet on Mount Everest for two nights, and finally attained 27,200 feet. Oxygen was employed.

Rongbuk Glacier Camp, May 28.

In this very short time we have carried out the most successful and the most daring feat in high mountaineering yet recorded; and not only that, but one of the greatest feats in pure human endurance in any field of activity.

The most tremendous efforts have been made by all to complete the line of communications. There are three camps on the East Rongbuk Glacier. The whole character of the glaciers coming from Everest is unusual. Where on any side pressure occurs, or where any branch glacier joins the main glacier, the surface is inconceivably broken up. Furthermore, the surface itself is incredibly hard and black. It is impossible to compare them with the Swiss glaciers.

The camp is wonderfully situated in a cirque of snow directly under the north column. It forms the advance base of operations, and has enough food stocked for ten British, plus a large number of porters, besides a full Alpine kit and a large and bulky oxygen plant.

The first camp boasts a cobbler, with a complete outfit.

The terrible enemy here is the weather, which seldom smiles, and on this occasion did its best to annihilate the party. I leave Mallory to give his own account of the climb, but I assure all mountaineers that no more desperate or more magnificent battle against the mountains was ever made. It is unnecessary to ask them to sympathise with Morshead in the terribly trying circumstances in which he was placed.

STRIKING NARRATIVE.

AIRLESS WASTES AT 26,800 FEET.

The following is Mallory's narrative:—

"We had not proceeded many yards when we found our way barred by a crevasse, an obstacle impassable—at least without ladders. Presently a fresh burst of energy carried us to the other end of the crevasse, and we climbed up steep snow to the crest.

"The way was not straightforward, but in half an hour from the shelf we reached the north column. We felt the sting of the west wind blowing over the pass in the bitter chill of the sunless slopes. The porters were evidently feeling the cold more acutely the higher they went.

"The ridge of stones ended abruptly and it became clear that if we were to establish a camp at all we must race for shelter to the east side of the ridge.

"Perhaps none of us yet realised how much we had already suffered from the cold. Norton's ear was thrice its normal size; three of my fingers were frost touched, but luckily the effects of frostbite are not very serious in the early stages. Far more serious was Morshead's condition."

A further disaster was that Norton's rucksack was lost. It slipped from his knees during a halt and must now lie somewhere at the head of the Rongbuk glacier.

"At the moment I was setting out I heard bad news from Morshead:—'I think I won't come with you,' he said, 'I am quite sure I should only keep you back.'

"On such a question only the man concerned was able to judge. We three, Mallory, Somervell, and Norton went on without him.

"The lungs governed the speed-making. The pace was a miserable crawl from the Alpine point of view, but our lungs made us pause to admire the view oftener than is correct in the best circles.

"At 2.15 we reached, as it were, the head of the rocks, still, perhaps, 600 feet below the north-east shoulder of the mountain, and commanding a clear view to the summit. The pace of the party was extremely slow, and there was an obvious risk in spending much more time in going up. Greatly as we desired to gain the shoulder, of which we were undoubtedly physically capable, the only wisdom was to retreat. The aneroid registered 26,800 feet. We turned to descend, with sufficient strength, we believed, for a long task before us.

"At four o'clock, Morshead welcomed us back to our camp of the previous night at 25,000 feet.

"As I write, Finch and Captain Bruce are already making an attempt on the mountain. Noel is established at the north column indefatigably photographing."

SURVEYORS' INSTITUTION.

THE REFEREES BILL.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Irish branch was held yesterday at their offices, 110 Grafton street. Mr. Harry Franks presided in the unavoidable absence of the Chairman, Mr. W. H. F. Verschoyle, and there were also present—Mr. Wm. Power-Steele, Mr. J. Graves Clayton, Major James Ferguson, Mr. E. F. Leslie-Ellis, Mr. R. H. R. Stewart, Mr. T. N. Edgeworth, Major C. G. C. Hemphill, Mr. Geo. B. Harvey, Mr. W. H. Hinde, Major E. C. Hamilton, and Mr. B. J. Newcombe, Secretary.

Apologies for absence were received from Mr. W. H. F. Verschoyle, Mr. A. H. Lee-Norman, Mr. W. C. L. Sullivan, Mr. Charles Dickinson, Mr. G. de L. Willis, Mr. W. A. Cheeke, and Mr. W. J. Ward.

The Committee had under consideration the Referees and Arbitrators (Procedure) Bill, which has been passed in the Northern Ireland Parliament, as it affects members of the Surveyors' Institution practising in the acquisition of land compensation arbitrations in future.

A letter was read from the Council of the Institution deciding that in future the Middle and Senior Grade Irish Intermediate Board examinations will exempt pupils in the surveyors' profession from he students' preliminary examination of the Institution.

TRAFFIC CONTROL.

TRIBUTE TO LONDON POLICE.

PARIS, Friday.

Mr. Richard Enright, New York's Chief of Police, who is visiting Europe to study the police methods, and to bring about closer co-operation between the United States police and the police forces of Europe, is making arrangements for an international police congress in New York on September. In an interview he expressed admiration for French police methods, but expressed astonishment at the frequent traffic blocks in Paris streets, speaking favourably of the London police street traffic system.—Reuter.

SIR R. SMITH'S FUNERAL.

IMPOSING PROCESSION.

ADELAIDE, Thursday.

Thousands had gathered outside St. Peter's Cathedral by 9 o'clock this morning to secure a view of the funeral of Sir Ross Smith, due to take place at 2.30 in the afternoon. The streets in the neighbourhood of the North road Cemetery were thronged. Business houses were closed, and the Courts adjourned at 1 o'clock, as a token of respect.

After a brief Service at the Cathedral, the funeral cortege moved off, preceded by a firing party. The coffin, bearing the dead airman's decorations and personal equipment, was piled high with wreaths, and, escorted by members of the Air Force, was conveyed to the cemetery on an Air Force lorry. It was followed by 14 official carriages.—(Reuter.)

£1 "PITCH AND TOSS."

At Cambridge Bankruptcy Court Jabez Basham, a poultry dealer, of Haverhill, stated that he lost £50 in "calling pieces" on the table. Asked to explain, he said it was a form of pitch and toss, the men calling "heads" or "tails" to coins for £1 notes. He lost most of his money at this.

"ANTIQUE ORDER OF BACCHUS."

When he arrived at Nottingham to lay the foundation stone of new College buildings, Lord Haldane was "captured" by students, and initiated into the "Antique Order of Bacchus." After draining a tankard of beer, he was dragged through the streets on a fire engine.

He smilingly entered into the pleasantries. He assured the students that he now felt one of themselves, they having given him authority to add to his other titles the letters "V.P.O.B.," signifying "very priceless old bean."

FROM TO-DAY'S LONDON PAPERS.

THE CONSTITUTION.

HOW SETTLEMENT MAY BE ATTAINED.

"THE TIMES" OF TO-DAY SAYS:—

The Irish Constitution was only issued to the Press late last evening. In view of its importance and of the breadth of its scope we must, therefore, postpone considered judgment upon its terms. We confess at once to some disappointment that the public cannot read it in the light of the full statement Mr. Churchill was expected to have made yesterday in the House of Commons. In the absence of an authoritative appreciation of the situation that has resulted from the recent negotiations, the document must be studied without knowledge of important circumstances or the aid the Government might have lent to the formation of a true perspective.

Mr. Churchill has, however, given an explanation of his reticence that the public can accept. Until the outcome of the Irish elections is known a factor essential to complete elucidation of the position will be missing. He also gave on behalf of the Government, as we hoped he would, the immediate assurance that the country required. He has definitely stated that, in the Government's opinion, the Constitution is in conformity with the Treaty.

If, as the first governing clause seems to show, that opinion is justified, one of the most serious obstacles in the path of Irish peace will have been successfully surmounted. Whatever the obstacles that still exist, or may arise in the future, it is a matter of real importance that Irishmen in Ireland actually have passed and placed upon record an instrument of government which, if faithfully upheld, may prove a practical solution of their age-long problem.

Mr. Churchill has told the House of Commons that both in the North and South, and upon their common frontier, the state of Ireland is distinctly quieter. Mr. de Valera, we rejoice to learn, has spoken with a moderation that, by its very unwontedness, encourages hope in regard to the Northern difficulty. The situation is still too clouded and obscure for confidence.

The difficulties presented by the proved power of the extremists and by the weakness of Irish public opinion are immense and still most menacing. We have, nevertheless, refused, even in the darkest hours, to despair. The road that the Government have followed since the truce has, indeed, been long and arduous. Even now the greatest difficulties and perplexities may be ahead. Of this, however, we are confident—that through the policy of the Treaty alone can an Irish settlement ultimately be attained.

POLISH POLITICS.

ANOTHER CRISIS.

The Berlin Correspondent of The Times says:—Polish politics have produced one of the periodical crises. The cause of the trouble on this occasion was the action of the Chief of State, Marshal Pilsudski, who intervened in politics to bring about the resignation of the Prime Minister, Ponikowski, in order to select in his place a Minister whom he thought more suitable to the occasion. The result is a Parliamentary struggle about the rights and privileges of the Chief of State.

Marshal Pilsudski's position has always been rather vaguely defined, and the new Constitution which was obtained last year, and which considerably limits the President's powers, does not come into force until after the general election. This has been fixed for the autumn. In the present battle the Socialists and Peasant Parties are backing Ponikowski; the bulk of the Right is against him.

CHEERING EVENTS.

CHEAPER MONEY AND TRADE.

The Times to-day says:—The reduction in the Bank rate yesterday from 4 to 3½ per cent. and the settlement of the engineering dispute are two cheering events of first class significance to the business community. The effect of the latest reduction is likely to be sentimental, as well as practical.

Besides bringing down the cost of financing trade to a figure more closely in touch with monetary conditions, the reduction will inspire confidence, not only in this country, but abroad because it once more gives London the distinction, which was the foundation of its monetary supremacy, of being the cheapest market in the world in which to borrow.

THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

MARKETS BRIGHTER.

The Times to-day says:—Stock Markets were distinctly dull at the opening of business yesterday, but following the announcement of the reduction in the Bank rate, gilt-edged securities and the Home Railway market quickly assumed a firmer appearance. War Loan closed 1/16 above the lowest point of the day, and the heavy stocks in the Home Railway market also rose sharply. Several other markets also assumed a brighter appearance, notably that for Industrial shares, but, generally speaking, there was no improvement in the volume of business. Buying orders again came to hand from New York for Brazilian and Mexican Bonds. Paris sold Mexican Eagle shares.

"WHOLLY ADMIRABLE."

The Daily News, commenting on the Irish Constitution, says:—There is certainly nothing in the document issued yesterday that suggests, on a cursory review, any desire to go behind the Treaty. No one who is honestly willing to see autonomy on the Dominions' model granted to Ireland can well quarrel with the terms of this Constitution. The general principles laid down are wholly admirable, and the great value of it is that it is an Irish Constitution, drawn up by Irishmen for Ireland.

WEAKNESS OF SENATE.

In a leading article on the Irish Constitution, after referring to the elections, the Morning Post says:—When the whole framework and foundation of the business is so gross a mockery of constitutionalism, and government by consent, and legality, we need hardly scrutinise the provisions of the Constitution. Otherwise we might remark upon the equivocal wording of the section which provides for the King's assent to measures passed by the Irish Parliament. And we might remark, also, upon the futility of creating a Senate so feeble in powers as the Upper Chamber provided for by this Constitution.

IDEAL WOMAN.

PARIS, Thursday.

Considerable prominence is given to a study of French women, published by the German newspaper, Germania, in which French women are praised for their orderliness, economy, and good taste. "They make good housewives, and are often excellent business women." The writer adds: "They are generally elegantly dressed, each woman choosing what suits her individuality, whereas the German woman has not this instinct, and wears clothes that do not suit her, simply because they are fashionable."

MORE TROOPS FOR FERMANAGH.

A special train brought 200 infantry to Kesh on Thursday from Omagh. Kesh is four miles from the border at Pettigo.

BLAZING CITY FACTORY.

INCENDIARIES BUSY IN BELFAST.

ENORMOUS TOTAL CLAIM.

MANIFESTO TO GREAT BRITAIN.

There were several serious fires in Belfast yesterday, one of which was in a weaving factory, where great damage was done to the building and its contents.

Claims for compensation arising out of malicious burnings in the city are now estimated at a million and a half sterling.

FACTORY ALIGHT.

GREAT DESTRUCTION.

The first call came at about 2 o'clock a.m. from the headquarters of the Newforth Weaving Factory, in Amelia street, which was alight. The brigade immediately responded from headquarters and from several of the divisional stations.

The big concern affected was located between Bedford street and Great Victoria street, where many large buildings were standing in close proximity. Isolating tactics proved successful after a very stiff fight. The engine-room, bobbin shop, and yarn store were completely destroyed, while the winding and reeling shops suffered considerable damage.

While the Amelia street outbreak was still in hands the brigade were called to the premises of Mr. Hume, paper-box manufacturer, Mountpottinger road. There they found the building well alight on the two storeys, and the total destruction of the concern was threatened. In a comparatively short time the flames were brought under control, and it was then only a matter of beating them out and of making the portion of the premises that remained safe from a renewal of the fire. The damage suffered, however, was very considerable to the structure and its contents. The whole ground department and the storey above it were gutted.

At 5.30 o'clock the brigade received a summons to Dawson street, off the New Lodge road, where a private house was attacked by fire. A speedy response was made, and in the course of twenty minutes the men were able to return, not much damage having been caused to the building.

In the evening another big fire occurred, which it is believed was the work of incendiaries. The premises involved were those of Joseph Rea and Co., gas and oil engine makers, in Chichester street. The flames had got good hold on the upper part of the building before they were noticed, and considerable damage was done before the brigade got the outbreak under control.

It was estimated that between the 20th and 29th of May malicious burnings in the city would amount to a sum aggregating over half a million sterling. A further list of claims was published yesterday, and the total amount claimed to date cannot be less than a million and a half sterling.

The following are some of the principal claims:—Archibald Watson and W. McWordie, Divis street, £85,351; Wordie Property Co., £52,950; R. Robinson and Co., Sheriff street, £35,000; Wm. Campbell and Co., Talbot street, £20,000; Ministry of Education for Northern Ireland (Model School), £29,744; James McBride, Cromac street, £13,000; Irish Flax Spinning Co., Gilford street, £65,000; Harold Moore, Ltd., Hawthorne street, £51,000; Wm. Nichol, Alfred street, £30,000.

ULSTER'S POSITION.

MANIFESTO TO BRITISH PEOPLE.

The Ulster Association for Peace with Honour issued the following manifesto yesterday to the British people:—

"Events are taking place to-day which demand a restatement in the clearest possible language of the present position. It might have been thought that the position of Ulster would have been understood by all who take even a superficial interest in affairs, but it has been made abundantly evident that this is not so. Propaganda on the largest possible scale and of the most unscrupulous kind has been in progress for some time, and our cause has been ruthlessly assailed and our people maligned. It is, therefore, imperatively necessary that the position be restated, that our aims and objects be clearly defined, and that our inalienable right to remain an integral part of the British Empire be once more enunciated, not only to the British public, but to the whole English-speaking people.

"Ulster is now at the greatest crisis in her history: She has achieved for herself, by industry and hard work, a proud position in the commercial and industrial world. Her sons have borne their full share in the burden and responsibilities of the Empire, and, when danger threatened, rallied loyally to her call. In the political chaos of recent years the province has more than once shown its willingness to make large sacrifices in the interests of peace. Her people have loyally accepted the form of government imposed on them by the Imperial Parliament, and are doing their best in the face of unparalleled difficulties to promote the social welfare of all classes in the community, and to encourage the development of trade and commerce in the interest of all. The great desire of the loyal population is to have peace to carry on their business.

"They are prepared to co-operate on equal terms with those who may be opposed to them politically, and to see that they are accorded equal rights of citizenship. They are not prepared, however, to submit to the domination of any outside authority, nor will they allow themselves to be terrorised by force of arms. The people of Ulster have made great sacrifices in the hope of securing peace, and they are still desirous of securing that end; but it is not a peace at any price they seek; it must be peace with honour.

"They are not prepared to surrender their rights as British citizens; they do not ask to be relieved of their Oath of Allegiance. To them Britain is still the Motherland; her traditions are their traditions, her flag their flag. We have taken our stand for these things, because to us here in the oldest colony of the Crown they are sacred."

SOAP WORKS ABLAZE.

The Fire Brigade received a call at 2 o'clock this morning to Messrs. Shaw's soap works, Mountpottinger. The fire was still blazing at 3 o'clock, and the flames could be seen at a great distance over the city.

LONDON'S MUNICIPAL HOME.

TO BE OPENED BY THE KING.

During a discussion in the House of Commons last night on the London County Council's Money Bill, Major Gray, a member of the London County Council, stated that the amount expended on the new County Hall on the south side of the river up to January last was £2,339,554, while the capital estimate so far passed by the Council amounted to £2,643,829. The Council was now asked to approve of estimates for other portions of the work amounting to £596,600, which brought the total estimate to £3,239,929. Apart from war troubles, the cost of the County Hall had fallen within the estimate. Three out of the four blocks of buildings had been practically completed, and work was proceedings on the fourth. The building would be opened by the King. Next month would see a municipal home that would be commensurate with the dignity of the city. It was being built in the hope that it would stand for centuries.

PARIS HOTELS "DEAL."

PARIS, Thursday.

The Astoria, Beau Site, Campbell and Columbia Hotels, which were seized as enemy property at the outbreak of the war, have been sold for £130,000 each. The purchaser is understood to be Sir Marland de Grasse Evans, Bart.

Sir Marland is acting for an English syndicate, which has endeavoured on several occasions to acquire large Paris hotels. A number of Americans were also in the field for the purpose, but they were outbid.—(Reuter.)

FERMANAGH SHOW CANCELLED.

The Fermanagh Farming Society has decided to cancel this year's cattle and horse show on account of the present unsettled state of the country. The Fermanagh Society is the oldest of its kind in Ireland.

IRISH MAILS.

IMPROVED SERVICE ARRANGED.

NIGHT DEPARTURE ONE HOUR LATER.

The Postmaster-General of Southern Ireland announces that the mail improvements which were promised some weeks ago will be brought into operation on July 1. The changes will affect the departure of the night boat from Dun Laoghaire (Kingstown), and, in addition, the main railway systems in Ireland.

At present the night mail boat leaves Dun Laoghaire at 7.50 p.m., and this will be altered to start one hour later.

On the Great Southern and Western, the Midland Great Western, and Dublin and South-Eastern lines the morning down mails will leave from 20 to 15 minutes earlier, so as to afford an earlier delivery of the important mails forwarded by the morning trains, and to help in extending the interval for replies at all offices served. The departure of the down night mail trains on the two first-named systems will be timed later, as will also the up night mail train from Cork.

The day mail services from the North, South, South-East, and West will run about one hour later, thus giving extended posting facilities throughout Ireland generally.

Dublin will directly benefit under the alterations, by having 30 minutes longer for posting for the general night mail at certain centres, e.g., the Rotunda Rink, O'Connell street, College Green, Harcourt road. Correspondence for England, etc., may be posted, with late fee, in the special pillar box in Westland Row up to 8.18 p.m. The present time is 7.18 p.m.

To a greater extent will the provinces gain. In the case of Cork, for example, the day mails are now delivered at one o'clock, which is luncheon hour, and posting for the return day mail must be made before 2.0 p.m. This interval was so insufficient that the day mails from the South—one of the best services afforded—could not be taken advantage of to any extent, and the unsatisfactory arrangement was a subject of repeated complaint by the Chambers of Commerce of Dublin, Cork, and the public generally. Under the altered service the day mails will be delivered in Cork before one o'clock, and posting for the return mail can be made up to 3.0 p.m. This brings about a much-desired improvement, and one that will be appreciated by the large body of the public affected. Facilities on similar lines will be afforded at the other centres, such as Limerick, Waterford, Galway, Dundalk, Tralee, Mallow, Cobh (Queenstown), Wexford, etc., etc.

BURNED NEWSPAPERS.

A DECREE FOR £1,200.

At the Tipperary Quarter Sessions, before Acting County Court Judge Sealy, the Freeman's Journal Company claimed £1,012 for the destruction of their newspapers at Limerick Junction from 13th March till 13th May last, and £500 for consequential loss.

Evidence was called to prove that the parcels of newspapers were removed from the railway station by armed men and burned.

The Assistant Manager of the Freeman's Journal stated that the loss on sales in the two months was estimated at £1,012, and the consequential damages, loss of advertising, etc., he estimated at £500.

A decree was given for £1,200 to be levied off the East Riding of the county.

THE SHAW COMMISSION.

INTEREST ON AWARDS.

Sir John Butcher asked the Secretary for the Colonies, in the House of Commons, whether his attention had been called to the fact that the awards for malicious injuries to property made by Lord Shaw's Commission carried interest only from the date of such awards, whereas the original awards made in these cases carried interest at 5 per cent. from the date of such original awards, and that the claimants thereby, through no fault of their own, lost the interest on the amount of the new award for the period, often amounting to nearly two years, between the date of the original award and the date of the new award, and whether he would take steps to remedy this cause of complaint.

Mr. Churchill—It is the duty of the Commission to determine what compensation ought in reason and in fairness to be awarded in the cases which come before them, and I have no reason to suppose that in discharging that duty they fail to take into consideration the period of time which has elapsed between the injury and the award. His Majesty's Government can see no ground for any action on their part in the matter.

RAID AT CASTLEKNOCK.

POLICEMAN'S REMARKABLE STORY.

At a District Court held yesterday at 41 Parnell square, Dublin (before Mr. W. O'Reilly and Mr. M. Foley), James Burke and James Sullivan, 24 Gardiner's place, Timothy J. Ryan, Gardiner's place, and P. McLaughlin, Ignatius avenue, who were on remand, were charged with having on May 25th stolen a quantity of property relating to motor cars, from Mr. Glass of Castleknock, County Dublin. They were also charged with having on May 17th stolen a motor car from Dr. Oliver Gogarty, of Dublin.

Mr. P. H. O'Reilly conducted the prosecution, and Mr. O hUadhaigh defended the accused.

On the previous occasion Owen Donnelly, an intelligence officer, gave evidence, in which he stated that he had the prisoners under observation for some time, and that he heard Burke say that it was their intention to raid the Ministry of Pensions, and take £40,000. Mr. Donnelly now gave further evidence, in which he stated that some of the accused made the raid on Mr. Glass's premises in Dr. Gogarty's car. When Mr. Glass remonstrated with the raiders for their search of his house for money, or anything that they could take away, Burke said that he ought to be glad that the place was not burned down. They took away a Ford car.

The witness was supposed to be with the raiders as a gunman. That was the capacity in which those who were not drivers were supposed to be there. He never said to anyone that he had instructions to raid Glass's, the Orangeman's. He did not hear anyone talk about orders previous to the expedition. Witness told Glass that his name was on the books of the Orange Hall when he denied he was an Orangeman. He did not hear any remark about not letting Glass out of sight. When he left the three-seater car at the garage in the North Circular road he put a paper slip on it marked, "I.R.A. car. To be left till called for. I.O. F. 1." This was in pursuance of an arrangement with the owner of the garage. Burke told him that he had presented a Sunbeam car to the forces at 44 Parnell square. Burke had something to do with an escape of political prisoners. Witness assisted him. He carried out a splendid job. He was friendly with Burke until shortly after the escape, when he ceased to be friendly, although he continued to appear so.

The Court returned Burke, Sullivan, and Ryan for trial, and decided to refuse informations regarding the last raid in the case of M'Loughlin, and discharged him.

LONDON'S ADOPTED DAUGHTER.

Marshal Petain was present at a demonstration at the City Temple, London, last night on behalf of Verdun—London's adopted daughter—and acknowledging the compassionate interest manifested by the Free Churches in the invaded regions of France said that it proved that they had brushed aside the odious calumny that France was an imperialistic and militarist Power.

Mr. Lloyd George wrote:—"Historians of the future will write the name of Verdun in letters of gold."

STRANGLINGS IN HORSES.

Some consternation was caused in South-West Norfolk yesterday by a report that three horses belonging to Mr. E. C. Thompson, of Manor Farm, Hockwold, has been shot, one being severely injured across the ribs and flank, another in the neck, and a third in the throat. Mr. Thompson, believing that they had been shot, issued a notice offering a reward for the discovery of the perpetrator. The police called in two veterinary surgeons, who reported that the horses were suffering from "stranglings," and that they could find no symptoms of maiming.

FERRARI STAMP SALE.

PARIS, Thursday.

At the sale of the Ferrari stamp collection, which was continued here to-ady, a Hawaii stamp dated 1851, of 52 cents denomination, blue type, defective and obliterated, was sold for 80,000 francs, not counting expenses. The 207 lots of stamps from the Philippine Islands, Colombia, Holland, Lombardy, the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg, Hawaii, and New South Wales fetched 432,555 francs.

The Hawaian stamp was bought for Mr. Arthur Hind, the New York collector.—Reuter.

BANK CLERKSHIPS.

Recent Successes:—Hibernian Bank (March)—A. Dempsey, M. Geoghegan, T. Moriarty, F. O'Flanagan. National Bank—E. Coury, J. O'Reilly. Munster and Leinster Bank (May)—G. Fox, F. Thompson.—Rosse College, Stephen's Green, Dublin.—(Advt.)

TURNING THE CORNER.

INDIA'S ECONOMIC POSITION.

The House of Commons yesterday went into Committee of Supply on the Civil Service Estimates on a vote of £75,000 for the department of the Secretary of State for India.

Earl Winterton reviewed the political, financial and general situation in India. He said that the country had in the past year come under the full force of the world's trade depression, but indications seemed to show that the corner had been turned. The estimates for the present year foreshadowed a deficit. The Government of India was as alive to-day as ever to the imperative need of rehabilitating the financial position of the country, and he believed that it would justify the confidence which its handling of Indian finance in the past had already established. Lord Inchcape was going out to India in the autumn to preside over a Retrenchment Committee. Having regard to the great resources of the country, he looked forward to a renewal of India's progress in all directions. The increased association of Indians with the Executive Government was bound to lead to developments that would add to the strength and security of Indian finance.

INDIAN CIVIL SERVANTS.

Referring to the sympathy with which Indian Moslems regarded Turkey as a great Moslem Power, he said that the Government desired to show all possible respect for the religious beliefs of the people. It was no part of the policy of the Government to put one religion against another. Their sole concern was to secure conditions that would, as far as possible, be just to all. As to the political rights accorded to Indians in the Dominions overseas, he pointed out that at the last Imperial Conference the principle was accepted that Indians domiciled in any part of the Empire should enjoy rights of citizenship. That principle was being acted on everywhere, except in South Africa, and there the Union Government had entered into direct communication with the Government of India on the subject. One of the most difficult questions was that arising out of the position of the Indian Civil Service. Members of the Service had great difficulties to contend with. Prices had risen in India as elsewhere, and the old amenities and attractions of life had largely disappeared. Many of the men found themselves worse off than they were ten years ago, and had difficulty in meeting their financial obligations, but signs were not wanting that economic conditions were improving, and the Services would share in the benefit. There was another side to the question. They could not expect men to work well whose service was carried out in a constant atmosphere of vituperation and abuse. (Hear, hear.) The need of the assistance of the India Service was never greater than to-day, and it would continue throughout and beyond the period of transition. Race hatred never could hasten the advent of responsible government. (Hear, hear.)

Referring to the retirement scheme, he said that it was a mistake to think that the Secretary of State and the Government of India wished to thin out the numbers of the Indian Civil Service. Turning to the internal political situation and the long period of unrest which culminated in the arrest of Mr. Gandhi in March last, he said that since then the country had become progressively quieter. Some of those who adopted the extreme doctrine of non-co-operation had been assailed by doubts, and were beginning to consider whether much of what they desired could not be accomplished by a proper use of the Constitution recently provided. He thought that movement would increase and make headway. On the question of whether Mr. Gandhi ought not to have been arrested earlier the Government of India took the view that to have arrested him when at the height of his triumphant career would have involved the risk of grave disaster without any certainty of putting a stop to his propaganda. The Government preferred to wait until he had shown a complete failure to produce any constructive results, and his downfall was then accepted with perfect calm. In the circumstances, the Government of India considered that their policy had succeeded.

NO CHANGE IN POLICY.

He wished to emphasise the fact that there had been no change of policy in regard to India. The Government regarded it as their duty to carry out the letter and spirit of the Government of India Act. The debates in the Indian Legislature were being conducted with dignity and credit, and every day of its existence it had disclosed new potentialities. He rejected suggestions that the Constitution conferred on India either needed amendment, or that it had failed, and should be scrapped. He was struck with the persistence with which enemies of Great Britain throughout the world cherished the belief that this country had lost faith in itself. That idea was fostered to some extent by people at home who claimed to be super-patriots. That was a delusive dream. Exactly the opposite was the case. (Cheers.)

Mr. Spoor said that he was surprised at the utter want of appreciation of the real situation in India revealed by Lord Winterton's speech. This optimism was not justified. The policy of blood and iron could no more bring peace in India than in Ireland. India was practically bankrupt. Unless there was a rigid change in our relations India would be lost to Britain and Britain would be lost to India.

Mr. Waddington dwelt on the importance of developing the cotton-growing industry, pointing out that Germany, with fewer spinners than we possessed, were taking more cotton than we were for manufacturing purposes.

Sir C. Yate said that he regretted that Mr. Spoor's speech was calculated to encourage all the rebels and enemies of the Government in India.

Mr. Acland said that sooner or later the India Office would have to consider, along with the War Office, the question of reducing the pay of the British Army in India. The Army there cost seven millions more with less numbers than in 1914, while there had been no appreciable increase in the pay of the Indian Civil Service. There ought to be a readjustment of the pay in both Services.

At 8.15 the debate was interrupted by consideration on the report stage of the London County Council (Money) Bill.

BELFAST LINEN TRADE.

MORE PROMISING CONDITIONS

The official report of the Belfast Linen Trade for the past week states:—The demand for the small lots of Irish flax offered was well maintained, and value was against buyers. The markets are now practically closed for the season, and it is too early to accurately forecast the acreage of the new crop, which is, however, much below last year's average. The rain has helped the new crop, and braird are looking well.

On the Continent prices are sharper, owing to the demand for the small quantity of flax offered. The rain has saved the late sown flax, which is looking well, but flax which was sown early will be a poor crop owing to the dry weather.

There will be no further report on flax for a few weeks.

The market for yarns shows signs of increasing strength, with a better turnover. Spinners are feeling the pinch, not only in the upward tendency of raw material, but in the difficulty of getting flax suitable for their requirements. Hemp fibre is quoted at a slight advance.

Business in weaving has maintained the improvement noted last week, but there was nothing outstanding in the character of the demand, which included bleached yarn linen for dyeing for dress purposes.

There has been another week of the same promising conditions as the past three or four. Some orders are coming along in most of the leading lines. Handkerchiefs have been duller for some time than was expected, as many orders are yet to be fixed up in U.S.A. particularly. Piece goods have been quiet, but several orders have been taken for immediate delivery.

LONDON FILMING SCENE.

Pedestrians chancing by Trafalgar square, London, in the small hours of yesterday morning may have heard the silence of the square disturbed by the tramp of numerous feet, as from Whitehall came a surging mob of men and women.

It was the filming of another scene from the Goldwyn film-play, "The Christian." By the light of 20 arc-lights placed on top of the surrounding buildings, Mr. Richard Dix, in the part of John Storm, on the steps of the Monument, predicted, in the face of the angry mob, the approaching end of the world. The mob itself consisted of 2,000 picked "supers."

MISSING DAUGHTER.

A search for her missing daughter, whom she believes to have eloped with a Canadian ex-officer, is being made at London register offices by Mrs. Gillings, of Victoria, S.W.

"My daughter Myrtle," she told a reporter yesterday, "is just over 20, and some time ago she met and fell in love with a Canadian ex-officer.

"One morning I discovered she had left home, and I am almost certain she has run away to get married.

"I had advised her to wait until she knew the man better, but she would not listen to my advice."

The Imperial Bank of India has reduced its minimum rate of discount from 6 to 5 per [illegible].

LAST WORDS TO THE ELECTORS.

MR. COLLINS AND CRIMINAL ACTS.

Touring his constituency of South Cork yesterday Mr. Michael Collins addressed a meeting at Clonakilty where he asked the electors to support the agreement in the spirit in which it was made. That spirit was to establish a Government that would secure proper order and stable conditions in the country. Whatever their political views the immediate necessity was to restore order in the country. Whatever Government was brought into power should deal with criminal acts as criminal acts, whether they were committed in the name of freedom, or of Labour, or of the Irish Republic. That was the spirit in which he signed the agreement, and that was the spirit in which he was going forward.

If the new Government could not fulfil its task he would be the first to go to the people and put an alternative before them. Their duty was to vote for the people that they thought would carry out their policy.

DUBLIN MEETINGS.

Last night a public meeting in support of the four panel candidates—Madame Markievicz, Alderman Charles Murphy, Alderman Thomas Kelly, and Daniel McCarthy—was held in York street, Dublin. There was large attendance.

Alderman Murphy said that they were fighting the elections as a united panel, because both sides of the Dail were agreed upon nine out of ten points. There was one outstanding point for the present, and that was whether the Treaty was or was not sufficient and necessary, and that would be decided later on. When that great national issue was settled the Labour and so-called business interests could come along and seek individual representation.

Madame Markievicz, who was received with cheers, said that there was no question of the Treaty or the Constitution involved in the present elections. These were matters for consideration later. They wanted law and order in Ireland, they wanted to see the crops sown and work found for the unemployed, and they wanted to do something for the people starving in Mayo and Donegal, and even in Balrothery. They wanted to see the people peaceful, contented, and happy, with decent homes and a better mode of existence. They wanted unity also in order to be able to deal with the difficulties in North-East Ulster. Therefore, she advised the electors to send back the panel candidates to the Dail.

Madame Markievicz, Alderman Murphy and others also addressed a meeting in Sandwith street last night, in support of the Panel candidates.

IN THE PROVINCES.

Messrs. P. J. Rutledge, J. Devins, T. Clarke, Dr. Crowley, and the Mayor of Sligo made a strong appeal for the Panel candidates at a meeting held yesterday evening in Ardnaree.

While Mr. Devins was speaking a man in the crowd asked why Free State soldiers were being arrested in Ballina. Mr. Devins replied that Republican soldiers had been arrested elsewhere. It was to avoid such incidents that the pact had been arranged. He hoped that there would be no intimidation at the election.

Dr. Crowley declared that the time was inopportune for the farmers or labourers to seek representation in the Dail.

Mr. P. J. Moloney addressed a series of meetings yesterday in south Tipperary, in support of the Panel candidates, of whom he is one.

At a largely attended meeting in Cahir, the Rev. Richard Meskill, C.C., who presided, said that the policy contained in the agreement between Messrs. Collins and de Valera was the only one that promised unity and ordered Government.

Mr. P. J. Moloney said that it was unfortunate that Labour candidates had forced a contest in that constituency.

Mr. Moloney next addressed a meeting at Clogheen, over which Mr. Joseph McGrath presided.

At Tipperary, Mr. William Hogan, Greenane, presided over a large meeting, and speeches in support of the Panel candidates were delivered by Mr. Moloney and Mr. Denis Quinlan Cullen.

POSITION IN LONGFORD.

Major-General John McKeon and Mr. Francis McGuinness addressed a large meeting in Longford on Wednesday, immediately after the races, and final rallies were made throughout the county yesterday in support of the Pro-Treaty candidates.

Mr. P. Belton as the candidate chosen by the Ratepayers' and Farmers' Association, is stated to have the support of the majority of the voters in Lanesboro' and Rathcline. He has not addressed any public meetings, but he confined himself to issuing pamphlets, in which he asks the following questions:—(1) If the Panel candidates must be returned, what is the need for an election? (2) If there is disunity, was it not the Panel candidates who created it? (3) If they are returned, what guarantee has the country that the next six months will be different from the past six months? (4) You heard of Englishmen and Canadians in the Dail. Are you going to re-elect them at the point of the revolver? (5) If you want freedom, vote for the free candidate who fought for his country, who worked for his country, and is now prepared to work for you.

The supporters of Mr. Belton and of Mr. Lyons, the Labour candidate, are confident of success at the polling booths.

PERSECUTION DENOUNCED.

Mr. Francis Fahy, addressing a large and enthusiastic meeting of Panel candidates at Ballinasloe yesterday afternoon, declared that they were in favour of breaking up the ranches, but not of the seizure of lands without due compensation being awarded to the owners. They were not in favour of persecuting people on account of their religion, as had been done lately in Ballinasloe. He wanted to say that he did not want the votes of men who persecuted others on account of their religion, and neither did the other men on the platform. Because Belfast had lost its civilisation, were they, in God's name, going to follow in the footsteps of Belfast and disgrace themselves? They would not do it. The seizure of grass lands and the persecution of Protestants was done by selfish people for a selfish end. There were men coming out now who were seizing the property of others and persecuting Protestants, but they would not help during the last three years, when they wanted them to do so.

Mr. George Nicolls, solicitor, said that there was a lot of unadulterated blackguardism going on which was done by men who were never in the Sinn Fein movement, who were the friends of the police and of the British Army when they were in the country, and as soon as the police were gone started the robberies, plunderings, and burnings. The proper place for them was in the jails of which the Irish Government had control, and there they were going to put them.

Mr. Liam Mellowes said they stood for complete independence, but not for the dominance of any particular creed in Ireland. It did not matter whether a man was a Protestant or a Catholic so long as he believed in the freedom of Ireland. They had greater respect for a Protestant who held these views than for a Catholic who was afraid to stand up for his freedom. The fight would go on until their complete independence was recognised.

BIG MEETING IN WEXFORD.

The panel campaign in County Wexford concluded with a demonstration of very large dimensions in Wexford last night.

Mr. S. A. O'Leary, who presided, said that if the panel nominees were not returned a handle would be given to England and her wily statesmen that the national spirit in Ireland was weakening.

Mr. Power O'Mara, Limerick, appealed for the suffrages of the people in gratitude for the services rendered by the panel candidates for independence.

Mr. Austin Stack, who received a great ovation, said that the outcome of the struggle which took place on the soil of Ireland was the establishment of the Republic, which had functioned and he hoped would not die. The young men of Ireland had decided to defend that Republic. He did not care about threats of excommunication, and he would say that every life taken by the I.R.A. was taken on moral grounds, and that the excommunication edict or threat should be carried to England. Dail Eireann succeeded in making the Irish question an international issue, and they were not going to rest satisfied until Ireland was as free as Britain, France, or the United States. The members of Dail Eireann had agreed to sink differences, and to go forward united on certain policies, which included the re-establishment of law and order and the economic re-building of the nation.

They had decided in the third place that if the Orange bigots were to be taught a lesson it would be taught them. (Cheers.) One solid Government was essential to settle that policy. Let us hope, continued Mr. Stack, that the policy towards the North will have to be a peace policy, but if the blackguards continue to violate, assault, outrage, and murder our fellow-countrymen in the North-East we must have unity in dealing with them.

FARMERS CONFIDENT.

Mr. John Rooney, Farmers' Party candidate for County Dublin, in a statement issued yesterday from his Election Committee Rooms, 37 Upper Fitzwilliam street, stated that he and the other farmers' candidates were fully confident of a triumphant victory at the polls to-day. Everywhere the people, realising the importance of the agricultural industry and the danger of economic chaos, and even famine, if it is neglected, were rallying enthusiastically to their side. In his own constituency he was sure of a united farmers' vote, and he believed that all who stand for stability, peace, and constructive work would give him full support. Unlike other candidates grouped under a label which the people did not appreciate, he stood for a definite, fixed interest—the interest of the land and business. Everybody knew where he stood. He supported the Treaty unequivocally, and supported anything making for order and sound economic government. Concluding, Mr. Rooney asked that those who wanted peace and better business, and full freedom for all citizens, should come to the polls and give him their preference vote. It was quite a common thing to hear people say, "Business is wretched," "There are no markets," "Prices have fallen to nothing," "The country is going bankrupt," etc., etc., but there was little use in talking merely. Now the people had a chance to elect men who represented business, and especially agriculture. He believed that farmers' candidates and the other business men would be returned everywhere if the people came to the polls and recorded their votes early.

LABOUR'S BELIEF.

Alderman Corish, the Labour candidate, evoked loud cheers at a largely attended meeting in Wexford by declaring that as the result of the election campaign all was well, and that Labour was going to win. He did not believe in the pact, which he asserted was arranged for electioneering purposes. He believed that the differences in Dail Eireann were not yet settled, and that there would be a resumption of the wrangling which had taken place during the past six months if the third Dail did not include an opposition party, who would keep the Assembly up to concert pitch.

Mr. D. Heuston said that if the members of Dail Eireann considered the economic problems of the country they would not have spent six or seven months wrangling over the words, "Free State or Republic."

Mr. O'Calaghan said that Labour had been asked again to stand down on the plea of national unity, but he knew that the workers of Ireland were not going to allow a red herring to be drawn across their path.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

COMMANDEERED MOTOR CARS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—During the past year a large number of motor cars has been seized in Southern Ireland by armed forces. These cars have never been returned, and, in fact, are being used daily at present. Most of the owners are loyalists and members of the Church of Ireland. Many clergy of the Church of Ireland prefer to suffer silently rather than complain of the treatment which they have received. They are unable to visit and carry out the duties of their sacred office properly, having no means of travelling over large areas.

The recent Collins-de Valera pact was supposed to establish some semblance of law and order in the South; yet we motorists see our cars driven furiously about the country. Many of these cars are now being sold for a mere trifle. The owners can get no justice and are powerless.—Yours, etc.,

"A SUFFERER."

MOTORING IN IRELAND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—No doubt, many of your readers will have noticed from your columns that numerous motor cyclists have been summoned and fined in the Dublin Police Courts for not having number plates on their machines. I was one of these unfortunates. It seems rather hard lines, however, that the motor cyclist community should be fined for this offence, while many of the motor cars in Dublin have no number plates and are allowed the use of the roads without any means of identification. Are the police afraid of motor cars?—Yours, etc.,

"A. J. S."

Dublin, June 15th, 1922.

ORDERED TO QUIT.

PERSECUTION OF PROTESTANTS.

Notwithstanding the vigorous and persistent condemnations of the clergy in Ballinasloe against the outrages which have, during the past fortnight, disgraced that town, says our Galway Correspondent, such outrages have not abated. This week a number of Protestants in the area were warned to leave the town, and some of them have actually left.

Shots were fired in the town on Sunday morning without any reason being assigned, but fortunately no one is reported to have been injured.

On Monday Mr. Salter, manager in Mr. Woods' boot establishment, received notice to leave the town. He has since left. Mr. Swan, a Protestant, who lives in Cleamore with his wife and family, and is agent for Messrs. Guinness, received a final notice to leave. Mrs. J. Rezin, a Protestant widow residing at Cleamore, with her eighteen-year-old daughter; a linesman named Davidson, and Mr. W. Crawford, the stationmaster, all of whom are Protestants, have been warned. Messrs. Crawford and Swan have not left.

Speaking again this week, the Rev. Father Heenan condemned the outrages in the strongest manner, as uncharitable, un-Christian, and un-Irish.

The Ulster Association yesterday despatched the following telegram to Mr. Winston Churchill:—

"Ulster Association learns with regret of continued indignities upon Protestants in Southern Ireland, and begs to get assurance from representatives Southern Ireland now meeting you in conference that these outrages against loyal and inoffensive citizens will cease, and that they will be guaranteed rights and privileges accorded other citizens of Empire."

PEMBROKE AMBULANCE.

REFUSAL OF A DOCTOR'S CALL

At a special meeting of the Pembroke Urban Council last night (Mr. O'Connor, Chairman, presiding), the complaint of Dr. McElhinney in reference to the refusal of the Fire Brigade to send out the ambulance to take a very urgent case to hospital for an operation, was discussed.

The hearing of the complaint was adjourned from the last meeting, when it was stated that on ringing up, Dr. McElhinney was told at the ambulance station that the car could not be taken out, and that the Rathmines and Pembroke ambulances would not attend. As a result an ambulance had to be got from Beggar's Bush Barracks to take the patient to hospital.

Captain Hutson, Chief of the Fire Brigade, said that he could not take out the ambulance on account of one man being on strike and another on holidays, as it would involve the whole Brigade in trouble. Besides, he had no other men to drive at the station.

After a prolonged discussion, on the motion of Mr. Good, a resolution was passed, Mr. Maguire dissenting, stating that the Council, having fully investigated the complaint made by Dr. McElhinney, were of the opinion that the refusal to attend the case was arrived at under a misunderstanding, and Captain Hutson, having informed the Council that all ambulance cases would be immediately attended to in future, the Council would take no further action in the matter; but should any repetition arise the Council would take a very serious view of such neglect.

WESTERN NIGHT'S TALE.

LEGEND INTERFERES WITH BUSINESS.

In the course of a murder trial in France, in which a Mme. Bessarabo and her daughter are accused in connection with the death of the former's second husband, there has been much talk of money paid as commission in connection with an option relating to an oil concession in Mexico.

The concession, which comprises some 15,000 hectares in the Oaxaca Valley, in Southern Mexico, is locally called El Higs, or Fig Tree, and, according to an old legend, the ground contains unheard-of treasures. The story goes on to say that three men would die violent deaths before it was discovered.

This gloomy prediction did not, however, deter prospectors from carrying out searches, but they found no gold, silver, or even copper.

When the existence of petroleum in Mexico became known oil prospecting was actively carried on in the district. M. Bessarabo was the first to offer a concession to Paris financiers. After Bessarabo's death his colleague, Becker, took up the concession, and a few days later was found hanged. Lastly, a Parisian publicity agent named Leon became interested, but he was killed by a madman.

The legend, therefore, appears to have come true.—(Reuter.)

MOTOR CAR CARRIED OFF.

While a wedding party was being held in a house at Port House, Leitrim, ten armed men entered and compelled Mr. Allen, of Drumshambo, who was one of the party, to come out and hand over his motor car to them. Mr. Allen was obliged to drive the car to the public road, and the raiders then took possession of it and disappeared.

IRISH POLICE PENSIONERS.

Sir John Butcher asked the Secretary for the Colonies, in the House of Commons yesterday, whether he was aware that many old R.I.C. pensioners were being driven out of Southern Ireland and forced to take refuge in England and elsewhere; would the Government give them free railway warrant for themselves and their families, and reasonable disturbance allowances.

Mr. Churchill said that the Government could not see their way to regard the cases of R.I.C. pensioners as different from those of other civilians compelled in the special circumstances to leave Ireland. They could apply to Sir Samuel Hoare's Committee.

LECTURER'S TRAGIC DEATH.

After delivering a lecture at University College, London, yesterday evening, Mr. F. W. Sanderson, Head Master of Oundle School, Northampton, suddenly fell from his chair and expired on the platform within a few minutes. Mr. H. G. Wells, who was chairman, was just expressing the thanks of the audience to the lecturer, when Mr. Sanderson, who had resumed his seat, slipped sideways from his chair and fell heavily to the platform. Death was due to heart failure.

DUBLIN AND THE PROVINCES.

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS

300 RAIDS ON A RAILWAY.

Our Londonderry Correspondent says that some 300 raids have been made on trains on the Londonderry and Lough Swilly Railway during the last three weeks, particularly at Burnfoot Station. Food, tobacco, and general merchandise have been stolen, and passengers searched and questioned. A wagon-load of ice consigned to Burtonport for the salmon fishery industry was "allowed" to go through, but it was intimated that any further consignment would be stopped. Two hundred empty petrol tins and some steel drums are among the loot. The raids are carried out by parties of ten to twelve men, armed with rifles.

DUBLIN.

PUBLIC SERVICES PENSIONS.—Mr. Cosgrave, Minister of Local Government in the Irish Provisional Government, received a deputation from the Superannuated Employés Association, Dublin, which urged the desirability of directing local boards to put the Increase of Pensions Act, 1920, into force, and the necessity for increasing the pensions of public ex-servants generally. Mr. Cosgrave said that he would give the matters his fullest and most sympathetic consideration.

LAMBAY WRECK RECALLED.—At the Alexandra Wharf yesterday two men launched a lifeboat which formerly belonged to the Laird Line steamer Shamrock, which was wrecked on Lambay Island some years ago. The boat was bought by the two men, who repaired it and fitted an engine during their spare time.

ST. STEPHEN'S PAROCHIAL HALL.—A fancy dress dance has been arranged to take place on Thursday evening next, the 22nd, not for yesterday, as announced in error.

CONNAUGHT.

UNSTAMPED INSURANCE CARDS.—In a resolution, passed unanimously, the County Galway Insurance Committee protests against the action of the Galway City Council in refusing to stamp insurance cards, in spite of the orders of Dail Eireann and the Provisional Government. Private employers were thereby encouraged to adopt a similar course. The Committee suffers a loss of £80 a year in respect of each thousand persons who fail to have their cards stamped.

I.R.A. v. CIVIL COURTS.—Cases in which tenants are being sued for rent were adjourned for a month at Castlebar Republican Court on Wednesday, as the local I.R.A. authority has issued an order that no land rents are to be paid in that area until further orders. The solicitor for the claimant made a strong protest against "military interference." The presiding judge said that they were not living in normal times.

LEINSTER.

OUTDOOR RELIEF IN DEMAND.—Estimates for outdoor relief are being exceeded in every union in the county, it was reported to the Wexford Public Health Committee yesterday. In some cases the estimate is exceeded by 100 per cent. It is probable that at the end of the year there will be a deficit of £4,500.

ULSTER.

RAIDS IN DONEGAL.—Raids for arms have been made on loyalist houses in the Carrigans, Co. Donegal, district, but none have been found. At Fahan a motor-boat belonging to a loyalist has been stolen. Armed men ordered a Newtowncunningham loyalist resident to leave his house, as it was to be occupied by armed forces.

King's County Council is applying to Dail Eireann for a grant of £2,000 to relieve distress in Pullagh, Tullamore.

Further parties of "harvesters," chiefly women from Connaught, left Dublin for Great Britain yesterday.

Armed raiders stole Masonic regalia and personal property from the house of Mr. E. Mitchell, Ballina, Maryborough.

Claims by John Baird, publican, and Albert Yorke, creamery manager, Clady, for £500 compensation for being kidnapped were dismissed at Strabane yesterday.

A man named McGrath, of the I.R.A., Carrick-on-Suir, has died from a wound accidentally caused by a revolver that he was carrying.

Six men were charged at a Republican Court in Wexford with attempting to rob a bank at Gorey on Tuesday. They were remanded.

Ellen Traynor, Lily Watson, and Elizabeth Byrne were found not guilty at the Dublin City Commission yesterday of having stolen cigarettes and whiskey from 22 Corporation street.

A compensation award of £137 was made at Strabane yesterday to W. J. Wood, Castlederg, for the malicious burning of his barn and the death of a mare from injuries.

James McDermott was found guilty at the Dublin City Commission yesterday of having stolen a bicycle the property of a student at Alexandra College, Dublin, and put back for sentence.

A seven-year-old boy named Joseph Nolan, a labourer's son, of Rylands, Ferns, Co. Wexford, was drowned in the River Slaney while paddling. The current swept him off his feet.

"Dozens" of prosecutions are to be made at Londonderry, said a District Inspector yesterday, of men who have made false declarations in order to draw the dole while they were, in fact, in employment.

Armed men visited ex-policemen living in Birr and Cloughjordan and ordered them to leave the district. At Eyrecourt an ex-sergeant was so badly kicked that he had to be taken to a Dublin hospital.

A verdict of accidentally drowned was returned at an inquest yesterday on Private Richard C. Dixon, R.A.S.C. (M.T.), of the Royal Barracks, Dublin, who lost his life while bathing in the Liffey near the Neptune Boat Club house.

In putting back for sentence a man named Patrick Ashcroft, who was found guilty at the Dublin City Sessions of wounding another man with a razor, the judge said that the prisoner's excuse, that he was drunk at the time, would be taken into account when sentence was passed.

Two ships which have figured in the news recently—the Seattle Spirit, which was searched for arms at Cork, and the Stella Maris, a German ship, which did not halt off Queenstown until warning gunshots had been fired from a warship—are expected at Dublin Port during the week-end.

PRINTING TRADE WAGES.

THE EMPLOYERS' NOTICES.

Mr. A. E. Goodwin, Secretary of the Master Printers' Federation, stated last night that from the returns reaching the employers' headquarters from their district organisations, it was clear that all the principal printing firms in the country, including a very large number of provincial newspaper proprietors, had posted the notice regarding a reduction in wages, commencing on the 1st July.

In London, it is stated, the daily and Sunday newspapers were not involved, and because of this the firms principally interested in the printing of periodicals had not posted notices, but general printers, lithographers, and bookbinders who employed the majority of the work people, had posted notices.

Mr. Goodwin added:—"Most of these notices will take effect before the end of next week. Wages in the printing trade were settled on a national basis in 1919, when the cost of living index figure was 110, and since that increases amounting to 22s. 6d. per week were granted. The index figure now is 81, and the reduction of 7s. 6d. in the country, and 5s. in some unions in London was agreed to last year. It can be seen that when the 15s. reduction now notified is made, and which is to be taken by instalments until January next, the workers in the printing trade would still be in a better position than in 1919.

SMART POLICE WORK.

Mr. C. R. A. MacDonnell, Montore, Bray, Co. Wicklow, writes to say that a small motor car, his property, was stolen on Wednesday morning last. He reported his loss to the Irish Republican Police at Bray at 4.15 p.m., and at 8 p.m. received a message from them that his car had been recovered. He received his car in Dublin, where he had been asked to identify it. He pays a tribute to the Irish Republican Police for their smart piece of work.

GRANGEGORMAN HOSPITAL.

At the meeting of the Grangegorman Mental Hospital Committee yesterday Alderman M. Staines was re-elected Chairman, and Mr. Raul was re-elected Vice-Chairman.

The Chairman said that they had kept their undertaking to the bank to wipe out their overdraft in twelve months, and their financial position was now quite satisfactory.

Mr. P. J. Munsden was elected architect, and Dr. John Dunne was elected Junior Medical Officer.

The following elections to the Academic Française took place in Paris yesterday afternoon:—M. Georges, Goyan Catholic writer, vice M. Denys Cochin; and M. de Dolbol, critic and historian, vice M. Emile Boutroux.

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSED FAIRLY STRONG.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)

NEW YORK, Thursday.

Stocks opened firm. Bullish trade news and the reduction in the bank rate by the Bank of England encouraged buying, Oils, Public Utilities, Motors and low-priced Railroads being in demand. Then the market slumped 2 to 3 points under active professional selling and forced liquidation. Popular Industrials were offered in large blocks, and broke badly, with International Mercantile Marine Preferred leading, owing to a less favourable outlook for legislation in the Federal Shipping Subsidy. Covering in the final dealings, however, caused a rally of 1 to 3 points, and a steadier tone ruled at the close.

FRENCH WEALTH STATISTICS.

PARIS, Thursday.

Statistics published here show that whereas in 1914 the wealth of france amounted 300 milliards of francs, it now reaches about 800 milliards. Taking the exchange at 50 francs to the £ these sums represent respectively £6,000,000,000 and £16,000,000,000. There are 14,000,000 Frenchmen with less than £400, a thousand millionaries, and 50 with ten millions.—(Reuter.)

IRISH HARBOUR BOARDS.

Mr. Thomas F. Rutledge, Chairman of Westport Harbour Commissioners, has addressed a letter to each Harbour Authority in Ireland suggesting that a representative should be appointed to attend a meeting, to be held on a suitable date, to consider the necessity for reviving and reconstituting the Irish Harbours Association, as, no doubt, the Government will submit to the Dail in the near future new legislation affecting very materially the harbours and trade of Ireland.

ELECTION ADDRESSES & NOTICES.

GENERAL ELECTION, JUNE, 1922.

Borough of Dublin.

Division—South City Dublin.

It having come this afternoon to the knowledge of Sir John Robert O'Connell and Dr. Myles Keogh, Candidates for this Division, that the name of Alderman Charles Murphy, also a Candidate, had inadvertently been omitted from the list of Candidates on the Card issued by them; and as they are most anxious that the interest of any Candidate should not by any possibility be prejudiced by anything done by them or on their behalf, they desire to state that they did not intend that any Elector should receive the impression from the Card in question that Alderman Charles Murphy had withdrawn his candidature; and if that impression has been conveyed to any Elector they wish at the earliest moment to correct it, their sole desire being to have a free and fair Election and to do nothing that could possibly prejudice or in any way adversely affect the interests of any other Candidate.

This 14th June, 1922.

GENERAL ELECTIONS, 1922.

BOROUGH OF DUBLIN.

SOUTH CITY DUBLIN.

As Election Agent for Sir John Robert O'Connell and Doctor Myles Keogh, I beg to call attention to an error in the Polling Card issued on their behalf. The name of Constance Georgina Countess De Markievicz should have appeared first on the card and not third, as appears on the said card. On behalf of Sir John Robert O'Connell and Doctor Myles Keogh, I desire to express regret for any annoyance or inconvenience caused to the Countess De Markievicz or any electors by the error in the card, which occurred through inadvertence in the pressure of business preparing for the election.

Dated this 15th day of June, 1922.

BILLETING REFUGEES.

MR. CHURCHILL SAYS THAT IT HAS STOPPED.

Mr. Rawlinson asked the Secretary for the Colonies, in the House of Commons yesterday, whether his attention had been called to the fact that many British subjects in Dublin and elsewhere were compelled by Republicans to feed and lodge Republican families alleged to be refugees from Ulster, and what hope there was of this compulsory billeting being put an end to.

Mr. Churchill—This is a matter for the Provisional Government, upon whom the responsibility for maintaining law and order now rests. I understand, however, that, so far as Dublin is concerned, compulsory billeting has now ceased, and that the Provisional Government have acquired public buildings for the accommodation of refugees.

Mr. Rawlinson—What representations have been made by the Government to the Provisional Government?

Mr. Churchill—The attention of the Provisional Government is constantly drawn to many matters of this kind. Many times a week—sometimes several times a day—matters are brought by the British Department on this side to the attention of the Irish Provisional Government.

Mr. R. McNeill—Is the right hon. gentleman aware that in a great number of cases these so-called refugees are not refugees at all, but men sent out by the Republicans in the North at the point of the pistol for propaganda purposes?

Mr. Churchill—I cannot tell. A great many people have gone from the North to the South and from the South to the North, and a good many people from both North and South have come here.

Mr. Devlin—Will you appoint a commission to inquire into the number of these refugees?

Mr. Churchill—No, I cannot.

SICK HEADACHES?
ANY KIND OF HEADACHE?

No One
Need Have Them Now

There is only one certain, natural and permanent cure. "Headache powders," opiates and narcotic drugs are only palliatives. They never cure.

By Nurse Alice Landles.

Headaches are always caused by self-poisoning. Auto-intoxication the medical men call it. Liver and kidney poisons, known as toxins, are drawn into the blood through the thousands of absorbent intestinal glands. These excite the heart, also clog the liver, kidneys and other organs. As the heart pumps faster, the blood pressure increases and congestion occurs in the small veins of the head, so throbbing and shooting pains are felt, also you may feel those gnawing, grinding pains in the back, over the fouled kidneys. You experience mental languor, dizziness, feverishness, insomnia, and despondency. You nauseates, breath and taste are bad in the morning, complexion becomes sallow and broken out. You are in a receptive state for any disease. But don't resort to habit-forming heart depressants, with their harmful reactions. Acetanilide, aspirin, bromides, or other "headache powders" are only temporary expedients and never cure.

Ask your chemist for a few ounces of refined Alkia Saltrates, a compound which in its pure state gives you a reproduction of the solvent, eliminative and curative properties found in various famous medicinal spring waters. Dissolve a level teaspoonful of this in a half-tumbler of hot water and drink before breakfast occasionally, then note how much better you feel right away. It washes all pain-causing poisons and impurities out of the system, sweetens the breath and cleanses, purifies and freshens the entire alimentary tract. It is practically tasteless, and harmless as sugar, in any quantity. It renders headaches impossible and increases your bodily and mental efficiency, so you at once begin to enjoy life as Nature intends you should.—A.L.

FULL TEXT OF THE DRAFT CONSTITUTION.

FULFILMENT OF TREATY.

IRELAND'S VITAL DOCUMENT.

The following is the text of the draft Constitution of the Irish Free State:—

These presents shall be construed with reference to the Articles of Agreement for a Treaty between Great Britain and Ireland set forth in the Schedule hereto annexed (hereinafter referred to as "the Scheduled Treaty") which are hereby given the force of law, and if any provision of this Constitution or of any amendment thereof, or of any law made thereunder is in any respect repugnant to any of the provisions of the Scheduled Treaty, it shall, to the extent only of such repugnancy be absolutely void and inoperative, and the Parliament/Oireachtas and the Executive Council/Aireacht of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann shall, respectively, pass such further legislation and do all such other things as may be necessary to implement the Scheduled Treaty.

SECTION I.—FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS.

ARTICLE 1.

The Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann is a co-equal member of the Community of Nations forming the British Commonwealth of Nations.

ARTICLE 2.

All powers of government and all authority, legislative, executive, and judicial, are derived from the people, and the same shall be exercised in the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann through the organisations established by, or under, and in accord with, this Constitution.

ARTICLE 3.

Every person domiciled in the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann at the time of the coming into operation of this Constitution who was born in Ireland, or either of whose parents was born in Ireland, or who has been so domiciled in the area of the jurisdiction of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann for not less than seven years is a citizen of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann, and shall within the limits of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann enjoy the privileges and be subject to the obligations of such citizenship, provided that any such person being a citizen of another State may elect not to accept the citizenship hereby conferred; and the conditions governing the future acquisition and termination of citizenship in the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann shall be determined by law. Men and women have equal rights as citizens.

ARTICLE 4.

The national language of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann is the Irish language, but the English language shall be equally recognised as an official language. Nothing in this Article shall prevent special provisions being made by the Parliament/Oireachtas for districts or areas in which only one language is in use.

ARTICLE 5.

No title of honour in respect of any services rendered in, or in relation to, the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann may be conferred on any citizen of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann, except with the approval or upon the advice of the Executive Council of the State.

ARTICLE 6.

The liberty of the person is inviolable, and no person shall be deprived of his liberty except in accordance with law. Upon complaint made by or on behalf of any person that he is being unlawfully detained, the High Court/Ard Chuirt, and any and every judge thereof, shall forthwith enquire into the same, and may make an order requiring the person in whose custody such person shall be detained to produce the body of the person so detained before such Court or Judge without delay, and to certify in writing as to the cause of the detention, and such Court or Judge shall thereupon order the release of such person unless satisfied that he is being detained in accordance with law.

ARTICLE 7.

The dwelling of each citizen is inviolable, and shall not be forcibly entered except in accordance with law.

ARTICLE 8.

Freedom of conscience and the free profession and practice of religion are inviolable rights of every citizen, and no law may be made, either directly or indirectly, to endow any religion, or prohibit or restrict the free exercise thereof, or give any preference or impose any disability on account of religious belief or religious status, or affect prejudicially the right of any child to attend a school receiving public money without attending the religious instruction at the school, or make any discrimination as respects State aid between schools under the management of different religious denominations, or divert from any religious denomination or any educational institution any of its property except for the purpose of roads, railways, lighting, water, or drainage works or other works of public utility, and on payment of compensation.

ARTICLE 9.

The right of free expression of opinion, as well as the right to assemble peaceably and without arms, and to form associations or unions is guaranteed for purposes not opposed to public morality. Laws regulating the manner in which the right of forming associations and the right of free assembly may be exercised shall contain no political, religious, or class distinction.

ARTICLE 10.

All citizens of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann have the right to free elementary education.

ARTICLE 11.

The rights of the State in and to natural resources, the use of which is of national importance, shall not be alienated. Their exploitation by private individuals or associations shall be permitted only under State supervision, and in accordance with conditions and regulations approved by legislation.

SECTION II.—LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS.

A. THE LEGISLATURE.

ARTICLE 12.

A Legislature is hereby created, to be known as the Parliament/Oireachtas of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann. It shall consist of the King and two Houses: the Chamber of Deputies/Dail Eireann and the Senate/Seanad Eireann. The power of making laws for the Peace, Order, and Good Government of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann is vested in the Parliament/Oireachtas.

ARTICLE 13.

The Parliament/Oireachtas shall sit in or near the City of Dublin, or in such other place as from time to time it may determine.

ARTICLE 14.

All citizens of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann, without distinction of sex, who have reached the age of twenty-one years, and who comply with the provisions of the prevailing electoral laws, shall have the right to vote for members of the Champer of Deputies/Dail Eireann, and to take part in the Referendum or Initiative. All citizens of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann, without distinction of sex, who have reached the age of thirty years, and who comply with the provisions of the prevailing electoral laws shall have the right to vote for members of the Senate/Seanad Eireann. No voter may exercise more than one vote, and the voting shall be by secret ballot. The mode and place of exercising this right shall be determined by law.

ARTICLE 15.

Every citizen who has reached the age of twenty-one years, and who is not placed under disability or incapacity by the Constitution or by law, shall be eligible to become a member of the Chamber of Deputies/Dail Eireann.

ARTICLE 16.

No person may be at the same time a member both of the Chamber/Dail Eireann and of the Senate/Seanad Eireann.

ARTICLE 17.

The oath to be taken by Members of Parliament/Oireachtas shall be in the following form:—

I ...., do solemnly swear true faith and allegiance to the Constitution of the Irish Free State as by law established, and that I will be faithful to H.M. King George V., his heirs and successors by law, in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland with Great Britain and her adherence to and membership of the group of nations forming the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Such oath shall be taken and subscribed by every member of the Parliament/Oireachtas before taking his seat therein before the representative of the Crown or some person authorised by him.

ARTICLE 18.

Every member of the Parliament/Oireachtas shall, except in case of treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest in going to and returning from, and while within the precincts of either House, and shall not be amenable to any action or proceeding at law in respect of any utterance in either House.

ARTICLE 19.

All reports and publications of the Parliament/Oireachtas, or of either House thereof, shall be privileged, and utterances made in either House, wherever published, shall be privileged.

ARTICLE 20.

Each House shall make its own rules and Standing Orders, with power to attach penalties for their infringement, and shall have power to ensure freedom of debate, to protect its official documents and the private papers of its members, and to protect itself and its members against any person or persons interfering with, molesting, or attempting to corrupt its members in the exercise of their duties.

ARTICLE 21.

Each House shall elect its own Chairman and Deputy-Chairman, and shall prescribe their powers, duties, and terms of office.

ARTICLE 22.

All matters in each House shall, save as otherwise provided by this Constitution, be determined by a majority of the votes of the members present other than the Chairman or presiding member, who shall have and exercise a casting vote in the case of an equality of votes. The number of members necessary to constitute a meeting of either House for the exercise of its powers shall be determined by its Standing Orders.

ARTICLE 23.

The Parliament/Oireachtas shall make provision for the payment of its members, and may, in addition, provide them with free travelling facilities in any part of Ireland.

ARTICLE 24.

The Parliament/Oireachtas shall hold at least one session each year. The Parliament/Oireachtas shall be summoned and dissolved by the Representative of the Crown in the name of the King, and subject as aforesaid, the Chamber/Dail Eireann shall fix the date of re-assembly of the Parliament/Oireachtas and the date of the conclusion of the session of each House, provided that the sessions of the Senate/Seanad Eireann shall not be concluded without its own consent.

ARTICLE 25.

Sittings of each House of the Parliament/Oireachtas shall be public. In cases of special emergency either House may hold a private sitting with the assent of two-thirds of the members present.

SECTION II.—LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS.

B. THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES/DAIL EIREANN.

ARTICLE 26.

The Chamber/Dail Eireann shall be composed of members who represent constituencies determined by law. The number of members shall be fixed from time to time by the Parliament/Oireachtas, but the total number of members of the Chamber/Dail Eireann shall not be fixed at less than one member for each thirty thousand of the population, or at more than one member for each twenty thousand of the population, provided that the proportion between the number of members to be elected at any time for each constituency and the population of each constituency, as ascertained at the last preceding census, shall so far as possible, be identical throughout the country. The members shall be elected upon principles of Proportional Representation. The Parliament/Oireachtas shall revise the constituencies at least once in every ten years, with due regard to changes in distribution of the population, but any alterations in the constituencies shall not take effect during the life of the Chamber/Dail Eireann sitting when such revision is made.

ARTICLE 27.

At a General Election for the Chamber/Dail Eireann the polls shall be held on the same day throughout the country, and that day shall be a day not later than thirty days after the date of the dissolution, and shall be proclaimed a public holiday. The Chamber/Dail Eireann shall meet within one month of such day, and shall, unless earlier dissolved, continue for four years from the date of its first meeting, and not longer. The Chamber/Dail Eireann may not at any time be dissolved except on the advice of the Executive Council/Aireacht.

ARTICLE 28.

In case of death, resignation or disqualification of a member of the Chamber/Dail Eireann, the vacancy shall be filled by election in manner to be determined by law.

SECTION II.—LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS.

C. THE SENATE/SEANAD EIREANN.

ARTICLE 29.

The Senate/Seanad Eireann shall be composed of citizens who have done honour to the nation by reason of useful public service, or who, because of special qualifications or attainments, represent important aspects of the nation's life.

ARTICLE 30.

Every University in the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann shall be entitled to elect two representatives to the Senate/Seanad Eireann. The number of Senators, exclusive of the University members, shall be fifty-six. A citizen to be eligible for membership of the Senate/Seanad Eireann must be a person eligible to become a member of the Chamber/Dail Eireann, and must have reached the age of thirty-five years. Subject to any provision for the Constitution of the first Senate/Seanad Eireann, the term of office of a member of the Senate/Seanad Eireann shall be twelve years.

ARTICLE 31.

One-fourth of the members of the Senate/Seanad Eireann, exclusive of the University members, shall be elected every three years from a panel constituted as hereinafter mentioned at an election at which the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann shall form one electoral area, and the elections shall be held on principles of Proportional Representation. One member shall be elected by each University entitled to representation in the Senate/Seanad Eireann every six years.

ARTICLE 32.

Before each election of members of the Senate/Seanad Eireann (other than University members) a panel shall be formed consisting of:—

(a) Three times as many qualified persons as there are members to be elected of whom two-thirds shall be nominated by the Chamber/Dail Eireann voting according to principles of Proportional Representation, and one-third shall be nominated by the Senate/Seanad Eireann voting according to principles of Proportional Representation; and

(b) Such persons who have at any time been members of the Senate/Seanad Eireann (including members about to retire) as signify by notice in writing addressed to the President/Uachtaran of the Executive Council their desire to be included in the panel.

The method of proposal and selection for nomination shall be decided by the Chamber/Dail Eireann and Senate/Seanad Eireann respectively, with special reference to the necessity for arranging for the representation of important interests and institutions in the country, provided that each proposal shall be in writing and shall state the qualifications of the person proposed. As soon as the panel has been formed a list of the names of the members of the panel, arranged in alphabetical order, with their qualifications, shall be published.

ARTICLE 33.

In case of the death, resignation, or disqualification of a member of the Senate/Seanad Eireann (other than a University member) his place shall be filled by a vote of the Senate/Seanad Eireann. Any Senator so chosen shall retire from office at the conclusion of the three years' period then running, and the vacancy or vacancies thus created shall be additional to the places to be filled under Article 31. The term of office of the members chosen at the election, after the first fourteen elected, shall conclude at the end of the period or periods at which the Senator or Senators by whose death or withdrawal the vacancy or vacancies was or were originally created would be due to retire provided that the fifteenth member shall be deemed to have filled the vacancy first created in order of time, and so on.

In case of death, resignation, or disqualification of a University member of the Senate/Seanad Eireann the University by which he was elected shall elect a person to fill his place, and the member so elected shall hold office so long as the member in whose place he was elected would have held office.

SECTION II.—LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS.

D. LEGISLATION.

ARTICLE 34.

The Chamber/Dail Eireann shall in relation to the subject matter of money bills as hereinafter defined have legislative authority exclusive of the Senate/Seanad Eireann.

A money Bill means a Bill which contains only provisions dealing with all or any of the following subjects, namely, the imposition, repeal, remission, alteration or regulation of taxation; the imposition for the payment of debt or other financial purposes of charges on public moneys or the variation or repeal of any such charges; supply; the ppropriation receipt custody issue or audit of accounts of public money; the raising or guarantee of any loan or the repayment thereof; subordinate matters incidental to those subjects or any of them. In this definition the expressions "taxation," "public money" and "loan" respectively do not include any taxation money or loan raised by local authorities or bodies for local purposes.

The Chairman of the Chamber/Dail Eireann shall certify any bill which in his opinion is a money bill to be a money bill, but, if within three days after a Bill has been passed by the Chamber/Dail Eireann two-fifths of the members of either House by notice in writing addressed to the Chairman of the House of which they are members so require the question whether the bill is or is not a money bill shall be referred to a Committee of Privileges consisting of three members elected by each House with a Chairman who shall be the senior judge of the Supreme Court, able and willing to act, and who in the case of an equality of votes, but not otherwise, shall be entitled to vote. The decision of the Committee on the question shall be final and conclusive.

ARTICLE 35.

The Chamber/Dail Eireann shall as soon as possible after the commencement of each financial year consider the budget of receipts and expenditure of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann for that year, and, save in so far as may be provided by specific enactment in each case the legislation required to give effect to the Budget of each year shall be enacted within that year.

ARTICLE 36.

Money shall not be appropriated by vote, resolution or law, unless the purpose of the appropriation has in the same session been recommended by a message from the Representative of the Crown acting on the advice of the Executive Council.

ARTICLE 37.

Every Bill initiated in and passed by the Chamber/Dail Eireann shall be sent to the Senate/Seanad Eireann, and may, unless it be a Money Bill, be amended in the Senate/Seanad Eireann and the Chamber/Dail Eireann shall consider any such amendment; but a Bill passed by the Chamber/Dail Eireann and considered by the Senate/Seanad Eireann shall not later than than two hundred and seventy days after it shall have been first sent to the Senate/Seanad Eireann, or such longer period as may be agreed upon by the two Houses; be deemed to be passed by both Houses in its form as last passed by the Chamber/Dail Eireann, provided that any Money Bill shall be sent to the Senate/Seanad Eireann for its recommendations, and at a period not longer than fourteen days after it shall have been sent to the Senate/Seanad Eireann, it shall be returned to the Chamber/Dail Eireann which may pass it, accepting or rejecting all or any of the recommendations of the Senate/Seanad Eireann, and as so passed shall be deemed to have been passed by both Houses. When a Bill other than a Money Bill has been sent to the Senate/Seanad Eireann a Joint Sitting of the Members of both Houses may on a resolution passed by the Senate/Seanad Eireann be convened for the purpose of debating, but not of voting upon, the proposals of the Bill or any amendment of the same.

ARTICLE 38.

A Bill may be initiated in the Senate/Seanad Eireann, and if passed by the Senate/Seanad Eireann shall be introduced into the Chamber/Dail Eireann. If amended by the Chamber/Dail Eireann the Bill shall be considered as a Bill initiated in the Chamber/Dail Eireann. If rejected by the Chamber/Dail Eireann it shall not be introduced again in the same session, but the Chamber/Dail Eireann may reconsider it on its own motion.

ARTICLE 39.

A Bill passed by either House and accepted by the other House shall be deemed to be passed by both Houses.

ARTICLE 40.

As soon as any Bill shall have been passed or deemed to have been passed by both Houses, the Executive Council shall present the same to the Representative of the Crown for the signification by him in the King's name of the King's assent, and such Representative may withhold the King's assent or reserve the Bill for the signification of the King's pleasure, provided that the Representative of the Crown shall in the withholding of such assent to or the reservation of any Bill act in accordance with the law, practice, and constitutional usageusage governing the like withholding of usage governing the like withholding of Canada.

A Bill reserved for the signification of the King's Pleasure shall not have any force unless and until within one year from the day on which it was presented to the Representative of the Crown for the King's Assent the Representative of the Crown signifies by speech or message to each of the Houses of the Parliament/Oireachtas or by proclamation that it has received the Assent of the King in Council.

An entry of every such speech, message, or proclamation shall be made in the Journal of each House, and a duplicate thereof duly attested shall be delivered to the proper officer, to be kept among the Records of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann.

ARTICLE 41.

As soon as may be after any law has received the King's assent, the Clerk, or such officer as the Chamber/Dail Eireann may appoint for the purpose, shall cause two fair copies of such law to be made, one being in the Irish language and the other in the English language (one of which copies shall be signed by the Representative of the Crown, to be enrolled for record in the office of such officer of the Supreme Court as the Chamber/Dail Eireann may determine), and such copies shall be conclusive evidence as to the provisions of every such law, and in case of conflict between the two copies so deposited, that signed by the Representative of the Crown shall prevail.

ARTICLE 42.

The Parliament/Oireachtas shall have no power to declare acts to be infringements of the law which were not so at the date of their commission.

ARTICLE 43.

The Parliament/Oireachtas may create subordinate legislatures, but it shall not confer thereon any powers in respect of the Navy, Army or Air Force, alienage or naturalisation, coinage, legal tender, trade marks, designs, merchandise marks, copyright, Patent rights, weights and measures, submarine cables, wireless telegraphy, post office, railways, aerial navigation, customs and excise.

ARTICLE 44.

The Parliament/Oireachtas may provide for the establishment of Functional or Vocational Councils, representing branches of the social and economic life of the nation. A Law establishing any such Council shall determine its powers, rights and duties, and its relations to the Government of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann.

ARTICLE 45.

The Parliament/Oireachtas has the exclusive right to regulate the raising and maintaining of such armed forces as are mentioned in the Scheduled Treaty in the territory of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann, and every such force shall be subject to the control of the Parliament/Oireachtas.

SECTION II.—LEGISLATIVE PROVISIONS.

E. REFERENDUM AND INITIATIVE.

ARTICLE 46.

Any Bill passed or deemed to have been passed by both Houses may be suspended for a period of ninety days on the written demand of two-fifths of the members of the Chamber/Dail Eireann or of a majority of the members of the Senate/Seanad Eireann presented to the President of the Executive Council not later than seven days from the day on which such Bill shall have been so passed or deemed to have been so passed. Such a Bill shall be submitted by Referendum to the decision of the people if demanded before the expiration of the ninety days either by a resolution of the Senate/Seanad Eireann, assented to by three-fifths of the Members of the Senate/Seanad Eireann or by a petition signed by not less than one-twentieth of the voters then on the register of voters, and the decision of the people on such Referendum shall be conclusive. These provisions shall not apply to Money Bills or to such Bills as shall be declared by both Houses to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety.

ARTICLE 47.

The Parliament/Oireachtas may provide for the initiation by the people of proposals for laws or constitutional amendments. Should the Parliament/Oireachtas fail to make such provision within two years, it shall, on the petition of not less than one hundred thousand voters on the register, of whom not more than twenty thousand shall be voters in any one constituency, either make such provision or submit the question to the people for decision in accordance with the ordinary regulations governing the Referendum. Any legislation passed by the Parliament/Oireachtas providing for such initiation by the people shall provide (1) that such proposals may be initiated on a petition of fifty thousand voters on the register; (2) that if the Parliament/Oireachtas rejects a proposal so initiated it shall be submitted to the people for decision in accordance with the ordinary regulations governing the Referendum; and (3) that if the Parliament/Oireachtas enacts a proposal so initiated such enactments shall be subject to the provisions respecting ordinary legislation or amendments of the Constitution as the case may be.

ARTICLE 48.

Save in the case of actual invasion, the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann shall not be committed to active participation in any war without the assent of the Parliament/Oireachtas.

ARTICLE 49.

Amendments of this Constitution within the terms of the Scheduled Treaty may be made by the Parliament/Oireachtas, but every such amendment must be submitted to a Referendum of the people, and shall not be passed unless a majority of the voters on the register record their votes and either a majority of the voters on the register or two-thirds of the votes recorded are in favour of the amendment.

SECTION III.—THE EXECUTIVE.

A. EXECUTIVE COUNCIL/AIREACHT.

ARTICLE 50.

The Executive Authority of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann is hereby declared to be vested in the King, and shall be exercisable in accordance with the law, practice and constitutional usage governing the exercise of the Executive Authority in the case of the Dominion of Canada by the Representative of the Crown.

There shall be a Council to aid and advise in the Government of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann to be styled the Executive Council. The Executive Council shall be responsible to the Chamber/Dail Eireann, and shall consist of not more than twelve Ministers/Airi appointed by the Representative of the Crown, of whom four Ministers shall be members of the Chamber/Dail Eireann and a number not exceeding eight chosen from all citizens eligible for election to the Chamber/Dail Eireann who shall not be members of Parliament/Oireachtas during their term of office, and who if at the time of their appointment they are members of Parliament/Oireachtas shall by virtue of such appointment vacate their seats, provided that the Chamber/Dail Eireann may from time to time on the motion of the President/Uachtaran of the Executive Council determine that a particular Minister or Ministers not exceeding three may be members of Parliament/Oireachtas in addition to the four members of the Chamber/Dail Eireann above mentioned.

ARTICLE 51.

The Ministers who are required to be members of the Chamber/Dail Eireann shall include the President of the Executive Council and the Vice-President of the Executive Council/Tanaist. The President of the Executive Council shall be the chief of the Executive Council, and shall be appointed on the nomination of the Chamber/Dail Eireann, and the Vice-President of the Executive Council and the other Ministers who are members of the Parliament/Oireachtas shall be appointed on the nomination of the President of the Executive Council; and he and the Ministers nominated by him shall retire from office should he fail to be supported by a majority in the Chamber/Dail Eireann, but the President of the Executive Council and such Ministers shall continue to carry on their duties until their successors are appointed.

ARTICLE 52.

The Ministers who are not members of the Parliament/Oireachtas shall be nominated by a Committee of members of the Chamber/Dail Eireann, chosen by a method to be determined by the Chamber/Dail Eireann so as to be impartially representative of the Chamber/Dail Eireann. Such Minsters shall be chosen with due regard to their suitability for office, and should as far as possible be generally representative of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann as a whole, rather than of groups or of parties. Should a nomination not be acceptable to the Chamber/Dail Eireann, the Committee shall continue to propose names until one is found acceptable.

ARTICLE 53.

Each Minister not a member of the Parliament/Oireachtas shall be the responsible head of the Executive Department or Departments as head of which he has been so appointed as aforesaid, provided that, should arrangements for Functional or Vocational Councils be made by the Parliament/Oireachtas, these Ministers or any of them may, should the Parliament/Oireachtas so decide, be members of and be nominated on the advice of such Councils. The term of office of any such Minister shall be the term of the Chamber/Dail Eireann existing at the time of his appointment, or such other period as may be fixed by law, but he shall continue in office until his successor shall have been appointed; and no such Minister shall be removed from office during his term unless the proposal to remove him has been previously submitted to a Committee chosen by a method to be determined by the Chamber/Dail Eireann, so as to be impartially representative of the Chamber/Dail Eireann, and then only if the Committee shall have reported that such Minister has been guilty of malfasance in office, or has not been performing his duties in a competent and satisfactory manner, or has failed to carry out the lawfully expressed will of the Parliament/Oireachtas.

ARTICLE 54.

The Ministers who are members of the Parliament/Oireachtas shall alone be responsible for all matters relating to external affairs, whether policy, negotiations, or executive acts. Subject to the foregoing provision, the Executive Council shall meet and act as a collective authority, provided, however, that each Minister shall be individually responsible to the Chamber/Dail Eireann for the administration of the Department or Departments of which he is head.

ARTICLE 55.

Ministers who are not members of the Chamber/Dail Eireann shall, by virtue of their office, possess all the rights and privileges of a member of the Chamber/Dail Eireann, except the right to vote, and shall (if not members of the Parliament/Oireachtas) comply with the provisions of Article 17 as if they were members of the Chamber/Dail Eireann, and may be required by the Chamber/Dail Eireann to attend and answer questions.

ARTICLE 56.

Should the President of the Executive Council die, resign or be permanently incapacitated, the Vice-President of the Executive Council shall act in his place until a President of the Executive Council shall be elected. The Vice-President of the Executive Council shall also act in the place of the President of the Executive Council during his temporary absence.

ARTICLE 57.

The members of the Executive Council shall receive such remuneration as may from time to time be prescribed by law, but the remuneration of any Minister shall not be diminished during his term of office.

ARTICLE 58.

The Representative of the Crown, who shall be styled the Governor-General of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann, shall be appointed in like manner as the Governor-General of Canada, and in accordance with the practice observed in the making of such appointments. The salary of the Governor-General of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann shall be of the like amount as that now payable to the Governor-General of the Commonwealth of Australia, and shall be charged on the funds of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann, and suitable provision shall be made out of those funds for the maintenance of his official residence and establishment.

ARTICLE 59.

The Executive Council shall prepare the Budget of receipts and expenditure of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann for each financial year, and shall present it to the Chamber/Dail Eireann before the close of the previous financial year.

SECTION III.—THE EXECUTIVE.

B. FINANCIAL CONTROL.

ARTICLE 60.

All revenues of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann, from whatsoever source arising, shall, subject to such exceptions as may be provided by law, form one fund, and shall be appropriated for the purposes of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann in the manner and subject to the charges and liabilities imposed by law.

ARTICLE 61.

The Chamber/Dail Eireann shall appoint a Comptroller and Auditor-General to act on behalf of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann. He shall control all disbursements and shall audit all accounts of moneys administered by, or under, the authority of the Parliament/Oireachtas, and shall report to the Chamber/Dail Eireann at stated periods to be determined by law.

ARTICLE 62.

The Comptroller and Auditor-General shall not be removed except for stated misbehaviour or incapacity on resolutions passed by the Chamber/Dail Eireann and the Senate/Seanad Eireann. Subject to this provision, the terms and conditions of his tenure of office shall be fixed by law. He shall not be a member of the Parliament/Oireachtas, nor shall he hold any other office or position of emolument.

SECTION IV.

THE JUDICIARY.

ARTICLE 63.

The judicial power of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann shall be exercised and justice administered in public courts established by the Parliament/Oireachtas by judges appointed in manner hereinafter provided. These courts shall comprise Courts of First Instance and a Court of Final Appeal, to be called the Supreme Court/Cuirt Uachtarach. The Courts of First Instance shall include a High Court/Ard Chuirt, invested with full original jurisdiction in and power to determine all matters and questions whether of law or fact, civil or criminal, and also Courts of local and limited jurisdiction, with a right of appeal as determined by law.

ARTICLE 64.

The judicial power of the High Court shall extend to the question of the validity of any law having regard to the provisions of the Constitution. In all cases in which such matters shall come into question, the High Court alone shall exercise original jurisdiction.

ARTICLE 65.

The Supreme Court of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann shall, with such exceptions (not including cases which involve questions as to the validity of any law) and subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by law, have appellate jurisdiction from all decisions of the High Court. The decision of the Supreme Court shall in all cases be final and conclusive, and shall not be reviewed or capable of being reviewed by any other Court, Tribunal, or Authority whatsoever.

Provided that nothing in this Constitution shall impair the right of any person to petition His Majesty for special leave to appeal from the Supreme Court to His Majesty in Council or the right of His Majesty to grant such leave.

ARTICLE 66.

The number of judges, the constitution and organisation of and the distribution of business and jurisdiction among the said Courts and judges, and all matters of procedure shall be as prescribed by the laws for the time being in force, and the regulations made thereunder.

ARTICLE 67.

The judges of the Supreme Court and of the High Court and of all other Courts established in pursuance of this Constitution shall be appointed by the representative of the Crown on the advice of the Executive Council. The judges of the Supreme Court and of the High Court shall not be removed except for stated misbehaviour or incapacity, and then only by resolutions passed by both the Chamber/Dail Eireann and the Senate/Seanad Eireann. The age of retirement, the remuneration, and the pension of such judges on retirement and the declarations to be taken by them on appointment shall be prescribed by law. Such remuneration may not be diminished during their continuance in office. The terms of appointment of the judges of such other courts as may be created shall be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE 68.

All judges shall be independent in the exercise of their functions and subject only to the Constitution and the law. A judge shall not be eligible to sit in the Parliament/Oireachtas and shall not hold any other office of emolument.

ARTICLE 69.

No one shall be tried save in due course of law and Extraordinary Courts shall not be established. The jurisdiction of Courts Martial shall not be extended to or exercised over the civil population save in time of war, and for acts committed in time of war, and in accordance with the regulations to be prescribed by law. Such jurisdiction shall not be exercised in any area in which civil courts are open or capable of being held, and no person shall be removed from one area to another for the purpose of creating such jurisdiction.

ARTICLE 70.

A member of the armed forces of the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann not on active service shall not be tried by any Court Martial for an offence cognisable by the Civil Courts.

ARTICLE 71.

No person shall, save in the case of summary jurisdiction prescribed by law for minor offences, be tried without a jury on any criminal charge.

SECTION V.

TRANSITORY PROVISIONS.

ARTICLE 72.

Subject to this Constitution and to the extent to which they are not inconsistent therewith, the laws in force in the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann at the date of the coming into operation of this Constitution shall continue to be of full force and effect until the same or any of them shall have been repealed or amended by enactment of the Parliament/Oireachtas.

NOTE:—Articles 73 to 76 and Articles 79 contain transitory provisions which will be published in the course of a few days.

ARTICLE 77.

After the date on which this Constitution comes into operation the House of the Parliament/Oireachtas elected in pursuance of the Irish Free State (Agreement) Act, 1922, being the Constituent Assembly for the settlement of this Constitution, may, for a period not exceeding one year from that date, but subject to compliance by the members thereof with the provisions of Article 17 of this Constitution, exercise all the powers and authorities conferred on the Chamber/Dail Eireann by this Constitution, and the first election for the Chamber/Dail Eireann, under Articles 26 and 27 hereof, shall take place as soon as possible after the expiration of such period.

ARTICLE 78.

The first Senate/Seanad Eireann shall be constituted immediately after the coming into operation of this Constitution in the manner following—that is to say:

(a) The first Senate/Seanad Eireann shall consist of two members elected by each of the Universities in the Irish Free State/Saorstat Eireann and 56 other members, of whom 28 shall be elected and 28 shall be nominated;

(b) The 28 nominated members of the Senate/Seanad Eireann shall be nominated by the President of the Executive Council, who shall in making such nominations have special regard to the providing of representation for groups or parties not then adequately represented in the Chamber/Dail Eireann;

(c) The 28 elected members of the Senate/Seanad Eireann shall be elected by the Chamber/Dail Eireann voting on principles of Proportional Representation.

(d) Of the University members one member elected by each University to be selected by lot shall hold office for six years, the remaining University members shall hold office for the full period of twelve years;

(e) Of the 28 nominated members 14 to be selected by lot shall hold office for the full period of twelve years, the remaining 14 shall hold office for the period of six years;

(f) Of the 28 elected members the first 14 elected shall hold office for the period of nine years, the remaining 14 shall hold office for the period of three years;

(g) At the termination of the period of office of any such members, members shall be elected in their place in manner provided by Article 31;

(h) Casual vacancies shall be filled in manner provided by Article 33;

(i) For the purpose of the election of members for any University under this Article all persons whose names appear on the Register for the University in force at the date of the coming into operation of this Constitution shall, notwithstanding anything in Article 14, be entitled to vote.

The Schedule which accompanies the Draft Constitution consists of the Articles of Agreement for a Treaty between Great Britain and Ireland.

WOMEN AND CAMBRIDGE.

Replying yesterday to a deputation, which urged that, if any additional grant were made to Cambridge University, women students should be admitted on terms of complete equality with men, the Minister of Education said that the Government hoped to introduce legislation during this session giving effect to the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Universities; but he must point out that there was great uncertainty in the present Parliamentary position; and, in view of the congestion of business, it would be wrong for him to give any definite promise of legislation at the present time.

Yesterday the French Chamber voted an appropriation of £2,000,000 for the preliminary expenses of the 1924 Olympiad.

Because as Harry Boland, T.D., said "During the next six months there are big internal questions to be dealt with, the three most pressing being—Land Settlement, Housing, & Unemployment."

LABOUR MUST BE THERE

when these questions are under discussion.

Because the Labour Members in the New Dail will greatly strengthen the National forces and prevent the present Coalition re-opening their quarrel.

Because the Belfast Problem will be solved ultimately through the influence of the Labour movement, when the workers of all Ireland unite on a common economic policy.

Because Labour has taken a full share in the National struggle, but is not willing to remain longer standing on the doorstep. Labour claims admission to the Council Chamber.

Because the defence of civic liberties and the protection of the rights of the workers require the presence of a vigilant and independent Labour Group in the Dail.

INCLEMENT CONDITIONS.

GOLDEN MYTH WINS GOLD CUP.

COLLABORATOR DISAPPOINTS.

Though there was fortunately no rain for the Gold Cup afternoon, the conditions were of an inclement character, so much so that the usual Royal procession was dispensed with, the King and Queen and their party from Windsor travelling by road in motor cars. This was a great disappointment to the majority, for the State procession up the course is regarded as one of the chief features of Cup Day. A night's rain had improved the prospects of Yutoi, but, though a great stayer, he is, after all, only a handicap horse, and he never looked like justifying his position of favourite. The connections of Franklin hoped for a slowly-run race, though at the same time Donoghue, for one, believed he would get the course. But that was exactly what he failed to do, being well beaten a quarter of a mile from the finish, when pressure was brought to bear. As a matter of fact, Lister, on Flamboyant, saw to it that the race was truly run; but the horse could not maintain his position once Golden Myth challenged him.

It was a fine double for Sir George Bullough's colt to put up—the Gold Vase and the Gold Cup, and the display renders the previous day's failure of Chivalrous all the more inexplicable, for at Manchester Golden Myth was unable to extend the last-named. It is remarkable that the brothers Jarvis in succeeding years should have so decisively made their mark on the Royal meeting. Fred Jarvis had been particularly confident regarding his Gold Cup winner.

Brought out a second time, Collaborator failed to repeat his previous success in the Rous Memorial Stakes, for Sicyon on 14lb. worse terms confirmed the York form of the two horses. It is to be feared that Collaborator is a brilliant animal that cannot be relied on.

Lord Derby met with Varzy's fortune, for whilst Alienor credited him with the Granville Stakes, Glorioso badly let the stable down in the Churchill Stakes. There were only three runners, and Arquebus was started to make the pace for Glorioso. This he did to some purpose, but he had no sooner given way to Glorioso than The Winter King came along to beat the pair.

Town Guard, who credited the owner of Captain Cuttle with the New Stakes, is not trained along with the Derby winner by Fred Darling, but by Gilpin at Newmarket. He is by Hurry On, and, though a smart colt enough, is not so good as some two year olds that have been seen out at the meeting. He may, too, have been lucky, for the much-expected Legality lost much ground at the start.

The Wokingham Stakes on this, the concluding afternoon, will attract a good field, including Monarch, who is much fancied, and may atone for his previous failures this season.

Betting—11 to 8 on Collaborator, 100 to 30 agst The Yellow Dwarf, 7 to 1 Drake's Drum, 10 to 1 SICYON, 33 to 1 any other.

Drake's Drum proved most unruly going to the post and got away bad . Collaborator made the running from Drake's Drum and The Yellow Dwarf for half way. Sicyon then became prominent, and, taking the lead at the distance, he won somewhat cleverly by two lengths; five lengths separated second and third. The Yellow Dwarf was fourth, and Prestongrange last.

Lord Derby's Crevasse, 5, 9-1 ......E. Gardner 0
Lord Carnarvon's Franklin, 4, 9-0 S. Donoghue 0
Lord Londonderry's Polemarch, 4, 9-0 ...J. Childs 0
Mr. J. A. de Rotschild's Milenko, 4, 9-0 ....G. Hulme 0

(Winner trained by J. Jarvis.)

Betting—5 to 2 agst. Yutoi, 4 to 1 Franklin, 7 to 1 King's Idler, 8 to 1 each GOLDEN MYTH, North Waltham, and Ballyheron, 100 to 7 each Crevasse and Polemarch, 20 to 1 each Flamboyant and Milenko.

Flamboyant made very strong running, followed by Milenko, Yutoi, Crevasse, Franklin, King's Idler, North Waltham, Ballyheron, and Polemarch last. So they ran for a mile, when North Waltham moved up. In the Sainley bottom Yutoi joined Flamboyant, with North Waltham, Golden Myth, and Franklin most prominent of the remainder. Flamboyant still led round the turn, but a quarter of a mile from home Golden Myth took up the running and won by three-parts of a length, with four lengths dividing second and third. Yutoi was fourth, North Waltham fifth, King's Idler sixth, Polemarch next, and Milenko last.

3.0 (3.9)—THE GRANVILLE STAKES, £15 each, with £500 added. Second £50. 5 f.

Lord Derby's ch. f. ALIENOR, by Swynford—Eleanor M., 3, 8-4 ......Gardner 1
Mr. W. Singer's LEIGHON TOR, 3, 9-1 ....Childs 2
Lord Zetland's DYNAMIC, 3, 9-1 ......Jelliss 3
Mr. A. F. Basset's South Crofty, 3, 9-0 Carslake 0
Lady Nunburnholme's Claro, 3, 8-7 ......Beary 0
Mr. E. de St. Alary's Mysia, 3, 8-4 ..Archibald 0
Mr. de Pledge's Boreas, 2, 7-2 (car. 7-5) Spear 0

(Winner trained by G. Lambton.)

Betting—6 to 4 agst. Mysia, 7 to 2 ALIENOR, 4 to 1 Leighon Tor, 10 to 1 any other.

Claro was badly away, and Dynamic led from Alienor, Mysia, Boreas, and Leighon Tor. After going half-way Leighton Tor went to the front, but was challenged close home by Alienor, who won by three-parts of a length; three lengths separated second and third. Mysia was fourth, South Crofty fifth, and Boreas last.

3.30 (3.31)—THE CHURCHILL STAKES, £10 each, with £1,000 added. For four-year-olds. Second, £100; third, £50. 2 m.

Lord Rosebery's br. c. THE WINTER KING, by Son-in-Law—Signorinetta, 8-13 ..Elliott 1
Lord Derby's GLORIOSO, 8-13 ....Gardner 2
Lord Derby's ARQUEBUS, 7-7 ....Wragg 3

(Winner trained by J. Jarvis.)

Betting—11 to 10 on Glorioso, 11 to 10 agst. THE WINTER KING, 20 to 1 Arquebus.

Arquebus made play from Glorioso, with The Winter King lying off rather a long way. This order prevailed until the straight, when The Winter King challenged and won a fine race by a head, with Arquebus a bad third.

Lord Derby declared to win with Glorioso.

4.0 (4.7)—THE NEW STAKES, £10 each, with £1,000 added. For two-year-olds. Second 10 per cent., third 5 per cent. of the whole stake. 5 f.

Mr. H. King's Tarpon, 8-10 ....H. Jones 0
Mr. Z. G. Michalinos' Miltiades, 8-10 ......Beary 0
Mr. H. Watson's Snow Crown, 8-10 ....Lane 0

(Winner trained by Gilpin.)

Betting—11 to 10 on Legality, 5 to 1 agst. Papyrus, 7 to 1 Miltiades, 8 to 1 each TOWN GUARD and Tarpon, 20 to 1 Sweet Bird colt, 33 to 1 any other.

Snow Crown was left. Town Guard showed the way to Papyrus, Tarpon, Legality, and Imperial. Approaching the distance Legality took closer order, but Town Guard was in front throughout, and won by a length; three lengths separated second and third. Tarpon was fourth, Imperial fifth, Miltiades next and Topboot last.

4.30 (4.31)—ALL-AGED STAKES, £5 each, with £500 added. Second £50. 6 f.

Mr. J. White's ch. f. PHARMACIE, by Charles O'Malley—Prescription, 4, 9-5 ......Donoghue 1
Mr. J. B. Joel's HAMLET, 4, 9-5 ......Beary 2
Lady Fitzwilliam's TORLINDA, 3, 9-4...Jelliss 3
Mrs. Rudd's Granite, 4, 8-11 ......V. Smyth 0
Lt.-Col. Parkinson's Silvanus, 3, 8-4 ......Piper 0

(Winner trained by Cottrill.)

Betting—5 to 1 on PHARMACIE, 10 to 1 agst. any other.

Hamlet was in front for a furlong from Pharmacie and Torlinda, with the other two outpaced. Subsequently Pharmacie assumed command, and won very easily by a length and a half, with six lengths separating second and third. Granite was last.

5.0 (5.1)—THE RIBBLESDALE STAKES, £15 each, with £500 added. Second £50. 1 m.

Mr. J. Arkwright's ch. c. DRY TOAST, by Cicero—Dinner, 3, 8-7 ....Carslake 1
Mr. A. Walker's CRAIGANGOWER, 3, 8-7 ....Beary 2
Mr. J. P. Hornung's CORPORAL, 4, 8-11...Fox 3
Mr. J. B. Joel's Trumpeter, 3, 8-0....J. Brennan 0
Lord Derby's The Downs, 3, 7-4 ....Wragg 0

(Winner trained by Persse.)

Betting—6 to 5 on Craigangower, 11 to 4 agst. DRY TOAST, 8 to 1 The Downs, 100 to 8 any other.

The Downs made the running for a quarter of a mile from Craigangower, Corporal, and Trumpeter. In the straight Corporal came away, with Dry Toast and Craigangower next, and challenging below the distance, Dry Toast went on to win easily by four lengths, a length and a half separating second and third.

An objection to the winner for bumping and boring was overruled.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

After a dreadful morning in town, yesterday developed better than was anticipated, and the racing was carried on under quite favourable conditions, though the wind was cold at times. The going was improved by the overnight rain, of course, and, as was generally anticipated, with the softened going changes of form were to be expected.

The Wokingham Stakes will not attract a large field to-day. In fact, at the time of writing not more than about ten or eleven runners appear likely to contest the issue. Perhaps Monarch, Polydipsia, Plato, and Two-Step may be the best of the lot likely to face the starter, and I shall leave the issue to

MONARCH and TWO-STEP.

For the minor races I fancy the following:—

Ascot High-Weight Handicap—R. Dawson's selected.

Hardwicke Stakes—Nippon.

Windsor Castle Stakes—Torlonia or Wasp.

Jersey Stakes—Silurian.

Alexandra Stakes—Nippon or Air Balloon.

King Stand Stakes—Vencedor; if absent, Fordingbridge.

1.30—THE ASCOT HIGHWEIGHT STAKES (h'cap), £500 added to a sweepstakes of £15; second, £20. Swinley Course (1¼m.)

ROSCOMMON.

TWO WINNERS FOR MR. USSHER'S STABLE.

MR. GEORGIE MAKES AMENDS.

There was a big crowd at Roscommon yesterday, proving that the old-established meeting at Lenabane has lost none of its popularity. The course, which offers a fine galloping stretch, was in good order, and fields, considering the demand that has been made on horses of late, were of very fair size. Backers had a good day, as four first favourites scored, and in another instance a horse that was almost first choice got home. Mr. Ussher brought off a double event with Ben Brady and Yours Only, and the former, a hitherto rather disappointing horse, won the Byrne Steeplechase in quite easy style. For this Nothing Wrong, who had been sent on from Ballaghadereen, was made favourite, and he ran right well, but his weight told, and he was beaten half a mile from home and was pulled up. Sunflower III. could never go the pace with the others, and he retired very early from the contest, but Royal Weather, Maid of the Walk, and Aughaval all ran well. The second win for Brackenstown was scored by Yours Only, on whom odds of 7 to 2 were laid to beat Billy Pitt in the Neilan Plate, and this he did in a canter after the other had shown in front for the greater part of the journey. Mr. Coen, who had such a successful time at Ballaghadereen, had his colours again carried successfully in the Whelan Plate by Successor, but it took J. Canty all his time to get this odds-on favourite home. St. Molaise was the chief source of danger, but he just failed to last out. Myra M. ran well for a long way, but Gristle never looked like scoring. Waving Feather very readily annexed the Mapother Plate, and with Quirke content to wait until half a mile from home he then came away, and quite easily got the better of Gristle. Mr. Georgie made amends for his defeat at Longford by annexing the Hayden Plate, for which he was not quite so good a favourite as Mr. Vigorous, but the latter failed to stay after showing prominently in the early stage, and was beaten out of a place. Storm performed creditably, but she, too, was unable to last out the journey. There was close wagering between three in the Harrison Plate, but the race itself was a one-sided sort of affair, and it fell a ready prey to Sancho Panza. Details:—

2.0—WHELAN PLATE of 40 sovs. A flat race. 2 m.

Mr. P. D. Coen's SUCCESSOR, a, 11-3 ....Joseph Canty 1
Mr. D. Hamilton's ST. MOLAISE, 6, 11-3 ....J. Hogan, junior 2

(Winner trained by R. G. Cleary.)

Betting—6 to 4 agst. SANCHO PANZA, 7 to 4 Covenant, 2 to 1 Saxona, 100 to 8 Leonore.

Leonore showed the way to Sancho Panza, Saxona, and Covenant, for half-way, when Covenant improved her position, but could make no impression on Sancho Panza, who won by eight lengths; twelve lengths separated second and third. Only three finished.

4.30—NEILAN PLATE of 40 sovs. A handicap steeplechase. 2 m.

Mrs. Croft's ch. g. YOURS ONLY, by Yourshire—The Accepted, a, 10-9........C. Aylin 1
Mr. R. G. Cleary's BILLY PITT, a, 10-9 ....J. McCarthy 2

(Winner trained by Mr. H. Ussher.)

Betting—7 to 2 on Yours Only.

Billy Pitt made the running until the straight, when Yours Only came away, and won by ten lengths.

GOLF.

IRISH LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP.

MRS. GOTTO THE WINNER.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

NEWCASTLE (CO. DOWN), Thursday.

To-day Mrs. Claude Gotto won the Irish Ladies' Championship. An Ulsterwoman, a native of Castlerock, she is a daughter of Mr. Byron, the hon. secretary of the Castlerock Club. Resident in Dublin for some years past, she is the present captain of Dun Laoghaire (Kingstown) Club, and an interesting circumstance in connection with her victory is that she is the first married lady to achieve championship honours in this country. More congenial conditions than those under which the semi-final and final rounds were played could not be desired. Indeed, it was a lovely day, but the players must have been affected by the great heat overnight. Heavy rain had fallen, and it proved very welcome, inasmuch as it took a lot of keenness out of the greens, which, it may be remarked, played very true all through the tournament.

The victory of Mrs. Claude Gotto was in every respect well deserved, and the championship certainly went to the most finished exponent of the game, who had aspired to the title. She had to fight hard for her laurels. After beating Miss Jackson she was set another difficult task by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis Gotto, and again in the final she was up against a determined match-player. But she proved equal to the severe strain, although nearing the end of her struggle she showed palpable signs of fatigue.

The winner's hardest match, although it did not proceed so far as the final tussle, was against Mrs. Louis Gotto, who is the personification of coolness and steadiness. Between the two as golfers there was no comparison. Mrs. Claude Gotto played the more brilliant and polished golf. Her opponent never took wood to a long shot. Indeed, not once did she use the brassey, and, except on the way to the third hole, the Royal Belfast lady was always playing the odd. But she made up for her marked deficiency in that respect by her brilliance on the greens. Finer and more consistent putting I have never seen in a ladies' championship. She sunk extremely long putts on the third, sixth, seventh, tenth, twelfth, and fifteenth; but her most remarkable performance was accomplished on the twelfth, where, from the far side of the green, and having to negotiate the rise, she sunk the putt for a half in 3, thus depriving her opponent of the hole, of which she had looked a certain winner. The only really bad hole that Mrs. Claude Gotto played was the eleventh—bad in this respect, that she under-clubbed herself with two shots in succession, and she deserved to lose. It is sufficient to say of the match that it was a great struggle from the third on to the seventeenth. Mrs. Claude Gotto won the first two, but lost one at the next, and thereafter there was never two holes between them until Mrs. Claude Gotto won the seventeenth for a 2 and 1 victory. The other semi-final was quite a different sort of match. To the ninth hole Mrs. Spiller held on to her opponent, Miss M. Hirsch, right well, but then her game went to pieces, and she was beaten three holes from home by a much better golfer.

When the first three holes of the final had been played it looked as if the end would come quickly, for Mrs. Gotto won these in 6, 5, and 5. Of five holes played she was successful at four, but then the match took a turn in favour of the Armagh girl. Mrs. Gotto's wooden club play broke down somewhat through her dropping her shoulder, and she did the same thing with some of her iron shots; but still she never allowed her rival much scope, and they reached the turn with Mrs. Gotto leading by two holes. Two finer shots than those played to the tenth were not hit to that hole during the week, both being a few yards from the pin. Mrs. Gotto just failed for 2; but Miss Hirsch got her one putt down, and so reduced her arrears to one. She was lucky when Mrs. Gotto missed a short putt for 4 at the 13th, which was halved in 5, and again when her own ball staggered into the hole for a half in 4 at the 14th. But Mrs. Gotto was now 2 up, and playing well within herself, although that right shoulder would persist in coming down too soon. Miss Hirsch played the 15th very poorly. Although she had the better drive, she did not get down in 6, and the hole went to Mrs. Gotto in 5. She was now dormy 3, but she lost the 16th, to which she was bunkered, although she had a putt for the half. Mrs. Gotto broke down badly at the 17th. She got too much under her tee shot, hit a poor second, and took 4 to the edge of the green. Miss Hirsch was bunkered off her third, but rammed down a tremendous putt for 5 and the hole. And so they went to the home green. It was now Miss Hirsch's turn to collapse. Her third was pushed away into rough ground. Mrs. Gotto hit two grand wooden club shots right down the middle, but her mashie shot found the hazard on the right of the green. Miss Hirsch had now her chance, but she scuttled her approach along the ground, it pulled up short of the green, and she over-ran the hole by several yards with the next. Mrs. Gotto just got out of her trouble, and she won the hole in 6 and a grandly-contested match by 2 up. Results:—

SEMI-FINALS.

Miss M. Hirsch (Armagh) beat Mrs. Spiller (Malone), 4 and 3.

Mrs. Claude Gotto (Dun Laoghaire) beat Mrs. Louis Gotto (Royal Belfast), 2 and 1.

FINAL.

Mrs. Gotto beat Miss Hirsch, 2 up.

UNITED SOCIETIES' CUP.

BIG GATHERING AT DELGANY.

The biggest golf competition ever held in Ireland was successfully launched at Delgany yesterday, when fifteen teams—150 players—representing the business life of Dublin, played off two rounds for the Dublin United Societies' Cup. It was an ideal day for golf. In all 17 societies had entered, but the Press G.S. were, owing to exceptional circumstances, unable to send a team, while one match in the preliminary round was played last week. Capital arrangements were made by Dr. George Price, Hon. Secretary, G.U.I., and everything was carried through in a thoroughly satisfying manner. The matches were keenly contested—several went to the 19th or 20th—and the golf all round was good. The teams left in the semi-final round are Stock Exchange v. Catholic University School Union and Corn Trade v. Motor Trade, and these play off at Milltown on Tuesday, 20th inst., at 4 o'clock. The final will be played at Dun Laoghaire on 28th inst. at 5 o'clock. Details:—

COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP.

MIDDLESEX V. YORKSHIRE.

For some hours yesterday morning there seemed reason to fear no progress might be possible in the Middlesex and Yorkshire match at Lord's, but the rain, which had fallen heavily during the night, ceased about 10 o'clock, and before two o'clock play was found practicable. Scoring on Wednesday 152 for the loss of one batsman, Yorkshire thoroughly outplayed their opponents, and proceeding with their innings for three hours and twenty minutes they added 187 runs, Wilson declaring when after five hours and forty minutes batting, in all the Northern county had scored 339 for seven wickets. In the circumstances the visitors might well have shown more enterprise. Middlesex started badly in their second attempt, losing two wickets for 21 runs. Score:—

HANTS' WONDERFUL RECOVERY.

Hampshire XI. played a magnificent uphill game at Edgbaston yesterday, and instead of ranking as a struggling side they have excellent prospects of winning the match. Should victory fall to them to-day after being dismissed for 15 at the first attempt, the fact will assuredly be remembered to their credit wherever their initial failure is cited against them. When play began yesterday they were 110 behind, and had 7 wickets in hand. One hundred came up in eighty-five minutes, but at 127 Mead was bowled by a wonderful ball from Howell. Hants were, indeed, in a desperate position, but Warwickshire never showed the zest that one might have expected from a side which had performed so brilliantly on the opening day, and runs seemed unduly cheap. Tennyson left at 152, and Newman at 177. When at lunch the score stood at 188 for 5 wickets, the visitors were still badly placed. After lunch the bowling and fielding were ineffective. Eighty-five were added for the seventh wicket. MacIntyre was soon dismissed, but Brown and Livsey scored as they liked. When at 451 Brown was bowled, the pair had added 177 in two hours and twenty minutes. Brown batted four and three-quarter hours for his brilliant 172, hitting 18 fours, 4 threes, and 14 twos. At the close Hants, with a wicket in hand, were 267 on. Score:—

NOTTS V. NORTHAMPTONSHIRE.

NOTTS WIN BY NINE WICKETS.

Northants gave another weak batting display at Trent Bridge yesterday, Notts gaining an easy triumph by the decisive margin of nine wickets. Overnight the home county left off with a lead of 22, and had six wickets intact. These were surrendered for an additional 61 runs. Payton, who was associated with Hardstaff in the partnership for the sixth wicket, which realised 91 runs in 80 minutes, batted with refreshing freedom and sound judgment, cutting and driving in finished style. Hardstaff was extremely painstaking, taking three hours to make 65 including eight 4's, but none of the remainder offered any serious resistance, Woolley rounding off the innings, which occupied four hours and ten minutes, by securing three wickets in five overs for 13 runs. Facing a deficit of 83, Northants lost Bellamy with a single scored, but Woolley and Walden added 60 in forty minutes. Walden treated the bowling with hostility, scoring 77 out of 127 in 80 minutes, driving with rare power, and hitting one 6 and ten 4's. A startling collapse followed his dismissal, the last six wickets falling for 29, Richmond claiming five in eight overs for 17. Notts required 71 to win, and obtained them in 55 minutes for the loss of G. Gunn's wicket. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Northants	121	157
Notts	204	73 (1 wkt.)

ESSEX V. SUSSEX.

NO PLAY YESTERDAY.

Play was impossible at Leyton yesterday. Rain fell more or less heavily until nearly lunch time, and, in the absence of sunshine, the sodden pitch made such a slow recovery that it remained in a muddy condition, quite unfit for cricket. After waiting until a quarter to five, in the hope of getting some play, the captains had to postpone the resumption until this morning. On Wednesday Essex scored 303 and Sussex 16 for no wicket.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY v. LANCASHIRE.

Lancashire had the better of the play at Oxford yesterday, and when stumps were drawn the University, with six wickets in hand, required 170 to win. When they resumed their first innings, Oxford, with four wickets in hand, were still 151 in arrears, and they managed to add 65 to their total. Lawrie, the Etonian Fresher, carried out his bat and gave a creditable display. When Lancashire went in a second time with a lead of 88 they gave a most disappointing display, and were all out for 162. Makepeace again played well for an hour and a half; but of the others only R. Tyldesley stayed any length of time. Oxford, set with 251 to win, lost their first four wickets for 43, but Hedges and Stevens stayed to the end when they had put on 48. Hedges was missed at mid-on when he had made 39. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Lancashire	255	162
Oxford	167	81 (4 wkts.)

SOMERSET v. LEICESTERSHIRE.

On resuming yesterday at Taunton, as Geary was unable to bat, just over half an hour sufficed to finish the Leicester innings, White taking the last three wickets that fell for 10 runs. With a useful lead of 101, MacBryan, who was splendidly supported by his first four partners, soon built up a strong lead for the home county before he was caught at mid-on, after batting three hours and forty minutes. He made no mistake until he reached his 100, when King let him escape in the slips, and at 118 Fowke missed him. MacBryan hit 16 fours, 12 threes, and 11 twos. His most useful partner was Daniell, with whom he put on 108 for the fourth wicket in sixty-five minutes. Daniell scored his 63 in seventy-five minutes, and took risks, so it was not surprising that he had some escapes. Eight times he got the ball to the boundary, and was given lives at 35 and 50. The innings realised 394, after which Leicester lost 1 wicket for 25. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Somerset	182	394
Leicestershire	81	25 (1 wkt.)

UMPIRE'S DECISIONS MUST STAND.

The following letter has been issued by the M.C.C., and is being circulated among the counties and the Universities:—

"The attention of the M.C.C. was recently called to a Press report which alleged that in a match between Oxford University and Somerset a batsman had, on the invitation of the fielding side, been allowed to continue his innings, notwithstanding that the umpire had, on appeal, given him out l.b.w. The respective captains and the umpires were asked to report what had actually happened, and their replies are in agreement that the incident was as above stated. The M.C.C. cannot too strongly remonstrate against such a disregard of the laws of cricket. Provision is made in the instructions to umpires for an umpire to alter his decision, if he feels satisfied that his first decision was wrong. In the above case the umpire did not alter his decision. The umpires should feel confident that the M.C.C. will, to the full extent of their powers, support them in insisting that their decisions must be accepted, and, in the event of refusal to do so, they should report the case to M.C.C."

GLAMORGANSHIRE v. DERBYSHIRE.

Only an unexpected and radical change in the character of the play can save Glamorgan from further defeat in their match with Derbyshire at Swansea. Score:—

	1st Inns.	2nd Inns.
Derbyshire	294	*274 (9)
Glamorganshire	152	43 (3)

*Innings declared.

SURREY v. SCOTLAND.

Rain prevented a ball being bowled until three o'clock at the Oval yesterday, but Surrey batted so steadily that with eight wickets down for 303 they declared. Scotland going in for 40 minutes at the close scored 15 runs without loss. With the light bad and the wicket soft, though never difficult, the batsmen had to fight hard for runs against the excellent Scottish bowling. By far the best innings of the day was that of Abel. Going in at the fall of the fourth wicket, he remained undefeated after batting faultlessly for an hour and 40 minutes, hitting six fours. His chief strokes were a strong off drive and clean placing to leg. Score:—

Surrey	*303 (8)
Scotland	15 (no wkt.)

*Innings declared.

KENT v. GLOUCESTERSHIRE.

The match between Kent and Gloucestershire was again altogether spoiled by rain at Tonbridge yesterday, the play, which did not begin until five past four, being restricted to two hours and ten minutes. Following so much rain, the pitch was on the slow side, but the Kent bowlers were able to make the ball turn appreciably, and, under the circumstances, Gloucester did well to raise the overnight score of 43 for 4 to 126, the outstanding wickets adding 83 in an hour and 35 minutes. Their batsmen played in resolute style, and it was a great misfortune for the side that Williams, who had batted very soundly, was run out through a misunderstanding with Parker at 78. After a shaky start Bruton settled down to drive, with power on the off side, carrying out his bat for top score. In the last thirty-five minutes of the afternoon Hardinge and Bickmore batted with marked skill, and scored 36 together without being parted, thus reducing the Kent arrears to 90. Score:—

Kent	36 (no wkt.)

St. Andrew's College v. Masonic.—Played at Donnybrook yesterday, and resulted in a draw. Score:—

St. Andrew's	146
Masonic	87 (3)

TO-DAY'S FIXTURES.

Masonic School v. Wesley College (final of Junior Schools' Cup)—Rathmines.

When leaving the ground at Dijon a biplane struck a tree and capsized, and the machine caught fire. The mechanic was burned to death, and the pilot was severely injured.

TRINITY WEEK.

THE COLLEGE RACES.

Though not up to the old-time standard in the matter of attendance, there was a very satisfactory number of spectators in the College Park yesterday, when the fourth day of Trinity Week was devoted to the athletic events. There was a splendid turn-out of competitors in most of the events, and the best performance of the day was, undoubtedly, that of W. L. Smith, who threw the discus 110ft. 10in., beating the standard by 10in., and his own best, done in 1914 in the inter-University contest in Belfast, by 2ft. 9in. M'Keag showed his versatility by winning the 120 yards handicap off 6 yds., but did not show his right form in the high jump, while he began slowly in the quarter, and also got shut in. Stuart won the Freshman's half easily, but ran disappointingly in the mile, in which he only finished fourth. The handicaps proved too heavy in the 120 yds. and long jump for D. J. Cussen, but he was off colour in the latter event, as he never got on to the board properly, and he only cleared 21ft. 4½in., while he jumped 22ft. 10in. at Lansdowne road and 22ft. 6in. at Cork last Saturday. R. R. Woods, as was expected, had an easy journey in the Freshman's 100 yards (scratch), and ran a plucky quarter to get placed off 8 yards in 51 4-5secs. The only double event winner of the day was the old St. Andrew's College boy, T. J. Millin, who annexed the high jump and 120 hurdles handicaps. The band of the Royal Hibernian Military School played a popular selection of music during the afternoon. Mrs. Bernard presented the prizes at the finish. Details:—

120 Yards Handicap.—The following qualified for final:—R. H. M'Keag (6), R. W. Varian (7½), J. S. Glasgow (10), R. R. Woods (1), M. D. Fox (18), H. M. Martin (5). Final—M'Keag, 1; Glasgow, 2; Martin, 3. Won by a yard; half a yard second and third. Time—12 1-5secs.

Putting 16lb. Shot.—S. S. Evans (7ft.), 37ft. 9½in., 1st; E. E. Satchwell (5ft. 4in.), 36ft., 2nd; J. L. Steele (7ft.), 35ft. 6½in., 3rd. Seven competed.

Half-mile Freshman's (Scratch).—J. M. Stuart, 1st; R. J. Keays, 2nd; E. St. C. MacKenzie, 3rd. Also ran—C. G. Proctor. Won by ten yards; same second and third. Time—2mins. 9 2-5secs.

220 Yards Handicap.—The following qualified for final:—M. D. Fox (14), R. R. Woods (scratch), H. M. Martin (6), J. J. MacDonnell (17), R. W. Varian (8), J. Cussen (20). Final—M'Donnell, 1st; Fox, 2nd; Varian, 3rd. Won by inches; half a yard second and third. Time—23 2-5secs.

High Jump.—T. J. Millin (4in.), 5ft. 8in., 1st; R. H. Owens (2in.), D. J. Cussen (2in), and J. A. MacDonnell (4in.), 5ft. 6in., tied for second place. Twelve competed.

Half-mile Handicap.—C. J. MacQuillan (45), 1st; E. S. Crawford (35), 2nd; R. H. Dowse (40), 3rd. Eight competed. Won by four yards; two second and third. Time—2mins. 2 3-5secs.

Throwing the Discus (Handicap).—W. L. Smith (scratch), 110ft. 10in., 1st; S. S. Evans (10ft.), 100ft. 7in., 2nd; J. S. Glasgow (20ft.), 98ft. 1in., 3rd. Five competed.

120 Yards Hurdle Handicap.—The following qualified for final:—R. H. Owens (owes 5), T. J. Millin (owes 7), J. A. M'Donnel (scratch), R. H. M'Keag (owes 5). Final—Millin, 1st; Owens and M'Donnel dead heat for second. Won by three yards. Time—19secs.

100 Yards Freshman's (Scratch).—R. R. Woods, 1st; R. G. Keays, 2nd; T. J. Millin, 3rd. Also ran:—F. G. Budd and C. J. Millar. Won by three yards; foot second and third. Time—10 4-5secs.

One Mile Flat.—W. Marks (70), 1st; D. St. C. MacKenzie (50), 2nd; C. H. Studdert (130), 3rd. Also ran:—I. Stuart (scratch), C. Proctor (110), J. Cussen (130). Won by two yards; ten yards second and third. Time—4mins. 44 3-5secs.

440 Yards Handicap.—M. D. Fox (18), 1st; E. S. Crawford (18), 2nd; R. R. Woods (5), 3rd. Twelve competed. Won by two yards; same second and third. Time—51 4-5secs.

ROWING TO-DAY.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY REGATTA.

As usual, "Trinity Week" winds up with the regatta at Island Bridge, which will open the current rowing season this afternoon. For various reasons the programme is rather smaller than usual for this fixture. However, the Dublin clubs have all sent in representative entries, and, in consequence, an interesting afternoon's racing is certain. The course and picturesque surroundings are now looking their best and will well repay a visit. Appended is the programme for the afternoon:—

3.0—Chapelizod Cup—Heat A—Neptune v. D.U.B.C.
3.30—Heat B—Commercial v. Dolphin.
4.0—Towers—Heat A—D.U.B.C. v. Dublin.
5.0—Ladies—Heat A—D.U.B.C. v. Neptune.
5.30—Heat B—Dublin v. Commercial.

The first-named crew rows from North Station.

DANCE TO-NIGHT.

The annual Trinity dance will be held this evening, at the Arts Industries Hall, Ballsbridge, at 9.30. The Committee have spared no effort to make the function a huge success, and all who go may be assured a very pleasant evening. The music is in the hands of Mr. Manahan and his full band, and the catering is being done by Mills and Co. There are still a few tickets available, but should be applied for as early as possible to-day, from the Hon. Secretaries, 40 Trinity College.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

IRISH STOCK EXCHANGES.

DUBLIN.

BANK RATES REDUCED. FUNDS BID FOR AT THE CLOSE, BUT IRISH LAND AND INDIA STOCK FELL SHARPLY. RAILS AND GUINNESS SUPPORTED. TEXTILES, MARCONIS, AND DUNLOP RUBBERS DULL AND WEAKER.

The Bank of England reduced the official minimum rate of discount from 4 to 3½ p.c., and the Irish Banks followed suit with a reduction from 5 to 4½ p.c. with a corresponding decrease of ½ to 1½ p.c. in the allowance on deposits. The reduction, while forecasted in these columns at an early date, was not generally expected until a week later. The reduction in the Bank rate was not known until most of the business was done at the earlier market, and consequently there was apparently for this reason little or no effect on prices. It is hoped a considerable strengthening in the drift of the stock markets will result when the change is more widely known. The Funds show strength in representative stocks, but Irish Land, India Stock, and Conversion Loan all fell away considerably prior to the notification of cheaper official money. Dublin Corporation Stock was on sale, and eased a little. Banks were firm and harder in most cases. Guinness issues were better in price and tendency. Grand Canal Ord. fell back. Marconis were dull all day. Support was more pronounced for Home Rails, but with very little business passing. Dublin Trams show no further decline. Dunlop Rubber Ord. closed on offer under last price. Parent Tyre Pref. and Ord. were scarce, but the Defd. were rather on offer. Textiles were almost idle. Coats alone quoted and were easier. Tobaccos and Oils were generally good on cheap money, and the former closed very strong.

The Funds opened dull, but closed harder. Conversion 3½ p.c. fell ⅜ further to 74¼, Irish Land 3 p.c. no less than 2¼ to 62¼, and India 3½ p.c. 1¼ to 64¼, but Consols rose ½ to 54¼, and War Loan 5 p.c. ⅛ to 99 1/16, ⅛, 1/16, and ditto by Deed 1/16 to 99 1/16. War Loan 4½ p.c. realised 94⅛. Dublin Corporation Stock fell ¼ to 69.

Banks closed wanted Nationals rose 1/16 to 17 3/16, and Munsters were bid up 1/16 to 6 13/16 without getting a share. Bank Stock at 224 and Royals at 11½ were unaltered.

In Breweries, etc., Guinness Ord. rose ⅛ to 41⅞ 42, and the Pref. 1/16 to 11 15/16 12 nominally. Dublin Distillers Pref. closed on offer at 5 with 4½ or 4¾ unofficially bid.

Grand Canal Ord. fell 5s. 6d. to 52s.

Marconi Ord. fell 6d. to 51s. 3d., 51s., and Canadian repeated 11s. Radio Common rallied to 22s.

Home Rails left off firm on cheaper money. Dublin and South-Eastern rose 1 to 21, Great Southern ⅛ to 54⅝, and Midland Great Western ½ to 29. Great Northern repeated 58¼. Pre.-Ord. Stocks were quite idle. Clogher Valley Baronial quoted 5, and Cork and Muskerry 2⅞.

Trams were quiet. Dublin United Ord. repeated 6⅞, and the Pref. 9⅞.

In Dunlop Rubbers the Ord. closed round about 8s. 9d. without so quoting, but at the later market fetched this figure.

Alliance Gas 4 p.c. Debs. show no rally at 61½, the previous day's reduced price.

As regards Manufacturing Shares, Coats fell 6d. to 61s. 9d., and the "B" Pref. 1½d. to 24s. 9d. Lever Bros. 7 p.c. Pref. rose 1½d. to 19s. 10½d., and Vickers 1½d. to 12s. 3d. 12s. 1½d.

Other business done included Imperial Tobaccos, which had fallen to 60s., but closed unaltered at 60s. 4½d. After hours the price rose to 61s., 61s. 4½d. Mexican Eagle Oils fell 6d. to 69s. 6d., and the 7 p.c. Pref. (14s. 6d. paid) 4½d. to 14s. 1½d. Shells rose 1/16 to 4 13/16.

The annual meeting of Inglis and Co., Belfast, will be held in Belfast on 16th inst. at 11 o'clock.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Yesterday's movement in the Bank rate is the third reduction this year, which evidences the rapidly changing financial atmosphere, and of equal significance is the fact that it is the lowest level at which the Bank rate has prevailed since the 3 per cent. ruling from January 29 to July 30 in the momentous year of 1914. Therefore, it may be argued with a great deal of reason that conditions are now moving rapidly, and certainly towards normality, in this particular respect. It cannot be denied that the present reduction to 3½ per cent. comes most opportunely from the standpoint of the Stock Exchange, because the investment standard, owing to the pressing demand on the part of investors, had been forced to a level rather out of keeping with the official rate. Doubtless, this automatic cheapening of money will stimulate the recovery in commerce, especially as the worst of the Labour troubles appear to be surmounted. Conditions are clearly ripe for an improvement.

Although veiled in obscurity, the negotiations now going on for a settlement of Mexico's debt obligations would appear to be moving in the right direction. At any rate, this is the interpretation placed upon the sharp upward movement in Mexican securities, Government Bonds particularly being in demand. The movement is attributed to buying from New York, and as the pourparlers are taking place in that city the demand coming from such a quarter is regarded as significant. Holders of Mexican securities have, however, so often been disappointed that it would be as well to disregard rumours, either of a favourable or unfavourable character, and to await what further patience they can command some official statement regarding the outcome of the present negotiations.

The transfer books of the Linen Thread Company's 4 per cent. Debenture Stock will be closed from 17th to 30th inst., both days inclusive.

The transfer books of the Dunlop Rubber Company's 8 per cent. First Mortgage Debenture Stock will close from Saturday, 17th, to Friday, 30th June, both days inclusive.

Owing to ill health, Mr. W. R. Rendell has decided to resign the general managership of the Metropolitan Electric Supply Company, Ltd., in the autumn. He has held the position with great success during the difficult period since the commencement of 1915, and it is with regret that his resignation has been accepted by the Board of the company.

BANK RATE REDUCED.

MUCH-NEEDED TONIC FOR STOCKS.

(FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT AND THE "FINANCIAL NEWS" OF TO-DAY.)

Having expected a change in the Bank rate earlier and been disappointed, the Stock Exchange was pleasantly surprised at yesterday's reduction to 3½ p.c.

The change will undoubtedly give markets the tonic they have so long needed, but whether it will lead to an immediate recrudescence of business remains to be seen. It must not be forgotten that home and foreign politics are still in a state of uncertainty, and are influences which have to be considered. However, the reduction in deposit rates should see a fair amount of capital transferred from the banks to the Stock Exchange. The gilt-edged market particularly welcomed the announcement of the directors of the Bank of England. Home Rails, which opened very weak and were particularly flat at one time on the absence of fresh interest, turned round sharply, with the result that substantial early losses were replaced by small rises. In the Foreign market a distinctly better feeling prevailed.

LONDON STOCKS RALLY.

MEXICAN THINGS STRONG.

The Stock markets had a heavy opening yesterday morning, but the announcement of a reduction in the Bank rate brought about a marked rally, the change being most noticeable in the Home Railway market. This, however, did not last the day out, for there was a tendency to ease again at the close. Prices marked a small recovery, however, and the 5 p.c. War Loan, after being 98 15/16, closed 99 1/16, a rise of ¼. Local Loans fell ⅜ to 62½, and India 7 p.c. Loan at 111 was ½ down.

In FOREIGN GOVERNMENT SECURITIES the main feature was the strength of Mexicans. The Fives rose 2 points to 66½ and the Sixes 2 points to 62½. Chinese and Japanese issues also were strong. China Fives, 1896, were 1 up at 97 and the 4½ p.c. 1 at 79. Japanese New Fives rose 1 to 85. Brazil 4 p.c., 1889, gained a point at 51, and the Funding, 1914, a point at 72. Peruvian Corporation rose ½ to 4½ and the Pref. 1 to 26. French Loans and German Bonds were unaltered.

HOME RAILS were rather mixed at the close, but there was a strong tendency towards recovery. Midland Def. rose 1½ to 67, S.E. Def. 1 to 37, L.S.W. Def. gained ½ at 30, North British Def. ½ at 18¼, and N.E. Consols ½ at 117½. Brighton "A" fell a point to 61½, Great Eastern ½ to 40, and Great Western ½ to 103.

COLONIAL and FOREIGN RAILS were uncertain. "Canpacs" rose ½ to 153. Grand Trunks Guaranteed were 73½ x.d. Mexican Rails recovered, and the Ord. was ½ higher at 14½ and the Pref. 1 up at 41. Mexican National 1st Pref. put on 2 at 16 and the 2nd Pref. 1 at 7. Argentines again showed a decline. "B.A.G.S." fell ½ to 70½, Pacifics ½ to 46, and Westerns ½ to 66. Antofagasta Ord. rose ½ to 62, and Bahia Blanca fell 1 to 68.

OIL SHARES POOR.

HEAVY SELLING OF MEXICAN EAGLES.

FALL IN ANGLO-AMERICAN DIVIDEND.

Transactions in the Oil share market were on a poor scale, and a dull tone prevailed throughout the day. Leading share generally had an easier tendency, but except in the case of Mexican Eagles, this resulted mainly from the paucity of business. Mexican Eagles, however, were heavily sold from Paris, and although the shares were well taken on this side, the price finished appreciably lower. The market estimates that a dividend of 10 per cent. will be paid as a result of the six months' working to December last, the accounts for which period are due to be issued shortly, while it is reported that developments on the property are of a satisfactory character. It is hoped, therefore, that the report will make a favourable showing. Royal Dutch, after keeping steady for the greater part of the day, weakened at the end, and Shells also finished lower. Quite a sensation was caused by the announcement that the final dividend of the Anglo-American Oil Company for the past year is to be 10 per cent., making 15 per cent. for the year. This compares with 30 per cent. each time in 1917, '18, '19, and '20. The shares, which during the early hours were dealt in around 5, gave way sharply when the dividend became known, and left off in the House at 4 11/16, while in the "street" they were offered down to 4½. INDUSTRIALS CHEERFUL.

TEXTILES HARD.

The reduction in the Bank rate to 3½ per cent. imparted a more cheerful feeling to the Miscellaneous and Industrial markets yesterday, and although no great increase was seen in the volume of trading the leaders met with a good deal of support. B. and A. Meats firmed up on the news that the company is paying off all their Debentures.

In the Textile market Courtaulds recovered to 49s. 9d., which left them 1s. 7½d. higher on the day. Bleachers rose 9d. to 38s. 3d., and Dyestuffs and the Prefs. jumped to 4s. 6d. and 6s 6d. respectively. J. Hoyles rose 1/16 to 1¼, and Coats and Fine Spinners both gained a few pence, the former to 62s. 6d., and the latter to 39s. Very little of interest transpired in the Iron and Steel section. Vickers improved to 12s.; Armstrongs hardened to 17s. 3d. Chinese Engineering receded to 3 1/16; Richardsons Westgarth continued in demand, and improved to 18s.; while the Prefs. rose to the same level. Bays improved to 7, being still under the influence of the increased dividend. The Prefs. fell 1/16 to 4 11/16. Guinness fell 10 points to 410 among Breweries; but Watney Combe Def. put on another point to 182½. Dunlops were unchanged. In the Wireless group Marconis kept the price at 2 1/16; though the Prefs. lost 1/16 at 2 1/16, and Canadians 3d. at 11s. Marines remained at 1⅛.

LONDON MINING MARKET FIRM.

MORE EX-ENEMY SHARES.

When it became known that the official minimum had been lowered to 3½ per cent., a rather better tendency developed under the lead of gilt-edged securities. Even so, transactions were still of a cautious character, and in the speculative departments Mines were firm. "Johnnies" were something of a feature. The Brakpan and Springs were unaffected by the announcement of the distribution of ex-enemy shares. The former company offers one share in ten at £2, and the latter one in twenty at £1 10s. These are the prices at which the shares were acquired by the groups, and although the proposed distributions do not constitute much of a bonus yet holders are able to increase their interests on very favourable terms. Closing prices:—

AUSTRALIAN WOOL SALES.

At the wool sales at Melbourne on Tuesday 8,000 bales offered; good clearance effected. Irregularity and somewhat lower prices for all top-making sorts, particularly cross-breds, were further accentuated, these descriptions being distinctly cheaper.

At wool sales at Sydney 6,757 bales were offered, of which 5,673 sold. Market unchanged. Super descriptions in strong demand.

THE MONEY MARKET.

PLEASANT SURPRISE FOR LOMBARD STREET.

LOANS IN DEMAND.

Having expected a change in the Bank rate earlier, and been disappointed, Lombard street was pleasantly surprised at yesterday's reduction. This necessitated a great deal of readjustment, and business was practically suspended until the banks had decided whether a change would be made in deposit rates. Eventually it was announced that the rate for money on deposit in the Metropolitan area would be reduced from 2 p.c. to 1½ p.c., the discount houses allowing 1½ p.c. for money under notice of seven days.

Bank Rate (unconditional, changed June 15, 1922)		3½%
60 days (fine)	2⅛	2¼%	Trade 3	3½%
3 months	2⅛	2¼%	3	3½%
4 months	2⅛	2¼%	3½	3¾%
6 months	2⅛	2⅜%	3	3½%
Loans to brokers day-to-day			2	2½%
" for a week			2	2½%
Deposit allowance: Banks at call				1½%
" Discount houses, at call				1½%
" at notice				1½%

There was quite a keen demand for money, the Stock Exchange settlement contributing in a small way. Night money commanded up to 2½ p.c. and over. Fixtures, automatically with the change in deposit rates, will be lowered to 2 p.c. for renewals. Discount business was purely nominal after the Bank rate decision, with three months' fine bills being quoted 2½ p.c., after transactions previously at 2½ to 2 1/16 p.c. Longer-dated bills were nominally 2½ p.c. As is usual with the change in the Bank rate, no Treasury bills were put on "tap" for to-day. The hope is expressed that the tender results will not be unduly low.

Gold was 2d. lower at 92s. 4d. per oz. nominal. Bar silver declined ⅛d. for both spot and forward delivery to 35d. per oz.

There was a rather more settled tendency in the foreign exchange market, but business was much quieter. Sterling was steady on New York at 4.47⅛, whilst German marks recovered to 1,390. French francs were rather better at 50.58, and Belgian also at 54.10. Austrian crowns rallied to 75,000-78,000. Norwegian kroner were weaker again at 26.10, but Italian lire recovered to 88⅛. Greek drachmas were offered at 115. Rupees further fell to 1s. 3⅛d. The following are closing rates:—

BANK OF ENGLAND RETURN.

RISE IN THE RATIO.

The most notable feature in last night's Bank return is the reduction of £14,438,107 in Government securities, while public deposits register an increase of £2,192,540. "Other" deposits being £15,797,779 lower. Active note circulation is £555,860 down and coin and bullion shows the small decrease of £2,048. The reserve is up by £553,812, making the total £25,376,531, a gain of £6,042,600 on the year, and the ratio of reserve to liabilities has expanded to 19½ per cent., as against 17¼ per cent. a week ago, showing a material growth as compared with the figure of 13 1/16 per cent. for the corresponding week of last year. At the end of December, 1920, the proportion was only seven then 7½ per cent. Currency notes underwent a further contraction of £2,202,951, reducing the outstanding total to £297,610,567. Bankers' clearings are up at £639,015,000, against £615,676,000, and in comparison with £585,863,000 a year ago. The following are the official figures:—

COMPANY MEETINGS.

VIROL, LIMITED.

RECORD YEAR'S OPERATIONS.

Presiding at the annual meeting of Virol, Limited, held yesterday, Mr. B. S. Straus, J.P., Chairman, in moving the adoption of the report and accounts, said that, notwithstanding the acute depression throughout the world, he was pleased to congratulate the shareholders on the very satisfactory results disclosed by the report and accounts—results which constituted a record in the history of the company. The remarkable demand from hospitals and public health authorities for the company's preparations, Virol and Virolax, had doubtless been largely influenced by the result of the recent important independent investigations into the question of vitamines in virol. In view of the large number of preparations claiming to contain these vitamines, but producing no proof of their existence in the article as it reached the consumer, it was very satisfactory to note that the report of the investigations referred to afforded conclusive evidence that vitamines were present in virol as sold to the public. Virolax was a nutrient laxative of great value and possessed the property of neutralising the intestinal toxæmia that the root cause of anæmia and many other ills. He felt confident they could look for a substantial expansion in this branch of their business in the near future.

There was also a growing appreciation of the facilities afforded by the Virol research laboratories to medical men for obtaining even for the poorest patients the benefit of those means of accurate diagnosis which modern research had placed at their disposal.

THE NEW FACTORY.

The result of six months' experience of the manufacture and distribution of their preparations from the new factory fully justified this important departure. Their new freehold site comprised some 13 acres. The main factory, which had been under construction for the last two years, was a magnificent building, designed and fitted on modern and most up-to-date lines. Full of light, lending itself to spotless cleanliness, and being situated in beautiful surroundings, it fulfilled in every way the ideal of a food factory. A very fine canteen was provided for the comfort and needs of the staff, while the sports ground with its tennis lawns, cricket, football, and hockey fields, supplied them with opportunities of healthy recreation so essential to bodily and mental fitness.

STRONG FINANCIAL POSITION.

Dealing with the accounts, the balance sheet, he said, revealed an exceedingly satisfactory financial position, creditors being £49,023 as against £44,125, debtors £55,033 as against £59,610 last year. Cash at bank and in hand amounted to £61,733, whilst their reserves, as a result of the current year's appropriations, would amount to £85,000. The net profit, including the amount brought forward, was £66,771 as against £55,998 for the previous year. After the payment of the Preference dividend for the whole year and the corporation profits tax there remained a balance of £56,384 to be dealt with. The directors recommended the payment of a dividend at the rate of 17½ per cent. on the Ordinary Shares as against 15 per cent. for the previous twelve months, the placing to reserve of £10,000, and the carrying forward, subject to corporation profits tax, of the balance of £33,259. He felt there was ground for congratulation in the achievement of such results during a year of acute industrial depression—a year, too, in which the costs of their principal raw materials had averaged more than 100 per cent. above the costs ruling before the war, and with a total increase of only 28 per cent. on their pre-war prices to the public.

TRIBUTE TO THE STAFF.

The transfer of the business to the new factory had necessitated an amount of reorganisation that had thrown a heavy burden upon all concerned. It was a tribute to the management and to every member of their loyal staff that this great task had been carried through without the slightest break in the continuity of the routine work of the day.

Mr. A. E. Canney (managing director), in seconding the resolution, said that the satisfactory report submitted was mainly due to the recognition by the medical profession of the intrinsic merits of the company's preparations. It was now generally recognised that judicious advertising was one of the important factors in economical distribution, and that by increasing the output it lowered the cost of production. Advertising would prove the most potent force in the revival of trade which alone could solve the question of unemployment. But the publicity so essential to success was denied to many by the present high costs which, in the case of newspapers, averaged something like 2½ times what they were in pre-war days. Nor was there compensation for these high rates in the inflated circulations caused by costly insurance schemes, especially at the present time, when the purchasing power of the public, through general depression, was so largely reduced. It was to be hoped that with the falling costs of production newspaper proprietors might very shortly see their way to a reduction in rates, so that there might be some additional encouragement to manufacturers and general advertisers to extend their activities.

The report and accounts were unanimously adopted.

PRESTEA BLOCK A.

The ordinary general meeting was held yesterday at the Cannon street Hotel. Mr. Edmund Davis (Chairman), K.E., who presided, explained the scheme for reorganisation of the capital and the issue of new shares and Debentures. The resolutions were carried unanimously.

ANGLO-AMERICAN OIL.

The meeting of the Anglo-American Oil Company was held yesterday at the offices of the company, 36 Queen Anne's Gate, Westminster. Mr. Francis E. Powell, the Chairman, presided. The Chairman said that, owing to the unprecedented fall in the value of all petroleum stocks and merchandise during the year, the net results of the company's business showed a loss. Since the date of the balance sheet, the trading situation had improved, and values have slightly recovered. Providing no unforeseen contingencies arose, and the present volume of lubricating and other sales was maintained between now and the end of the year, the directors believe the profits would be equal to an average of previous ordinary years. The company's fleet of tankers was fully employed. There were only two vessels (cargo boats) laid up—it was hoped only temporarily. There were no new vessels building.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

LIVERPOOL MORTGAGE INSURANCE.—Interim of 4/- per share less tax.

BELL'S BREWERY, STOCKPORT.—Interim dividend at rate of 5 per cent.

JAMES KEITH AND BLACKMAN.—Dividend on Ordinary at 7½ per cent., free of tax.

GRESHAM FIRE AND ACCIDENT INSURANCE.—Dividend at rate of 5 per cent. per annum, less tax.

SHAMVA MINES.—Interim dividend of 7½ per cent. (1/6 per share), for current quarter (being second interim dividend for 1921).

JAMES W. COOK AND CO.—Interim dividend on the Preference Shares of 2½ per cent., less tax, for the half-year ending 30th inst.

HOWARD AND BULLOUGHS.—Final dividend of 2½ per cent., making 10 per cent. for year, plus bonus of 1/6 per share; to general reserve £100,000, and to dividend reserve £50,000; forward £94,014.

SCOTTISH OILS.—Interim dividend on the Participating Preference Shares at rate of 7 per cent. per annum absorbed £72,603, and directors recommend final dividend of similar amount, leaving £18,279 to be carried forward.

BRITISH DYESTUFFS CORPORATION.—The report for year ended October 31st, 1921, shows after providing £467,106 for depreciation and crediting estimated amount recoverable in respect of E.P.D., profit of £437,684. Deducting £1,444,344 written off stock values to reduce to current market price, net loss of £1,006,660. The amount brought forward was £203,305, leaving a debit balance forward of £803,356.

ASSAM RAILWAYS AND TRADING CO.—The directors have declared the following dividends: "A" Stock at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum for the half-year ended 31st December, 1921; Pre-Preference "A" Shares at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum for the half-year ended 30th June, 1922; New 6 per cent. Shares at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum for the half-year ended 30th June.

CHURCH NOTES.

The Central Board of Finance of the Church of England has contributed during the past three years, 1918-1921, over £30,000 for the maintenance of the Church Training Colleges. Without this help it would not have been possible to meet the very critical times following immediately upon the war. The Central Board is not able to make any grant for capital charges. It had hoped to set apart £100,000 for that purpose.

The Bishop of Chelmsford, calling attention to the value of open-air Services during the summer season, writes:—"I believe that, if the Church is to gain ground, she must pay more attention to the open-air propaganda; but this had better not be attempted unless the work can be well done. Nothing less than the best will suffice for the open-air. The day has gone by for this Service to be left to young men who desire to learn there how to speak. There must be the best speaking, the best singing, the best organisation, if the open-air meeting is to become a power for good; but it will repay all the trouble expended upon it."

The Government of Egypt is levying a duty of 100 piastres (£1 Egyptian) a ton on sugar manufactured or refined in Egypt. It has also fixed the retail price of loaf sugar in Cairo at 4½d. a pound.

DUBLIN PORT TRADE.

AN ALDERMAN'S FEAR.

Mr. David Barry presided at the weekly meeting of the Dublin Port and Docks Board yesterday.

A letter was received from Alderman Alfred Byrne calling attention to the necessity for the Board to take up the question of certain recent railway amalgamations in the South, and suggesting that the whole case of the trade of the Port of Dublin be put before the Minister of Economic Affairs, with a request that he will take the necessary measures to safeguard the Port of Dublin in every legitimate way. It seemed to him imperative that the Port Board should arrange for evidence to be given on its behalf before Lord Justice O'Connor's Commission, so that that Commission might know what was going on—being men who understand the needs of the country—so that no injustice should be done either to the Port of Dublin or to the employment in the port.

Alderman Byrne said that if the Board did not now give evidence it might be that in the future the Port of Dublin might slip back into a second or third place as a distributing centre. If the Board did not produce evidence at the present Commission he feared that a good deal of the traffic now being done at the North Wall would be diverted to Rosslare.

Mr. Munden said that there seemed to be a lot of propaganda at present with the object of damaging the Port of Dublin. It had come to his knowledge within the last few days that four large French ships had, owing to this malicious propaganda, been diverted from Dublin to London. The acquisition of the Cork and Bandon Railway by the Great Southern and Western Company was not in the interests of the Port of Dublin.

The Chairman said that he was quite in accord with everything that had been said; but he did not think that such a matter as the diversion of French ships would come within the terms of reference of the Railway Commission. No member would give evidence on behalf of the Board that they as a body favoured nationalisation.

It was decided that Mr. Field and Mr. Munden should give evidence before the Railway Commission in the interests of the port.

ELECTION BALLOT CARD.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE'S UNDERTAKING.

In the Republican Supreme Court, 18 Parnell square, Dublin, before Messrs. Creed Meredith and Crowley, yesterday, an application was made on behalf of Mr. Reddin, solicitor, agent acting for Sir John O'Connell and Dr. Myles Keogh, candidates for Parliamentary honours, to dissolve an injunction granted against him at the Supreme Court on Wednesday, restraining them from publishing and issuing amongst the electors an election ballot card purporting to give certain instructions in connection with to-day's election.

Mr. P. Lynch, K.C. (instructed by Messrs. Reddin and Reddin) appeared for the applicants; and Mr. Comyn, K.C., and Mr. Joseph (McCarthy (instructed by Mr. Long, solicitor), represented Alderman Charles Murphy and Madame Markievicz.

In an affidavit Mr. Reddin stated that the omission of Alderman Charles Murphy's name from the card referred to in Mr. Fagan's affidavit was altogether due to inadvertence, and that the omission was not in any way with the object of misleading the electors or with the object of suggesting that Alderman Murphy had withdrawn his candidature. He regretted very much the omission of the name, which was caused by pressure of work. He was not aware that the name was omitted from the card until the application and the order of the Court had been served on him.

Mr. Lynch said that the elections up to the present were being fought in a good spirit and on good terms, and there was no intention on the part of Mr. Reddin or the candidates that he acted for to do anything that would give rise to anything but the best of good feeling.

Mr. Comyn submitted that the names of the candidates should appear on the card in the same order as they appeared on the nomination paper. He characterised what had been done as a deliberate crime, and said, as far as Alderman Murphy was concerned, they would prosecute the matter further. It was said that Alderman Murphy had not been injured, but he (counsel) had an affidavit by Mr. Fagan, the Alderman's agent, in which he stated that large numbers of people would be misled by the card.

Mr. Lynch said that an undertaking would be given to withdraw the card complained of, and no further copies would be issued.

Judge Meredith said that in granting the injunction on Wednesday the Court confined their attention to the broad general question whether the publication was calculated to mislead, and having come to the conclusion that it was calculated to mislead, they were determined to grant an injunction in the exercise of their common law jurisdiction. One of the mistakes had, however, been corrected, and they were determined that the other mistake would be corrected as soon as possible. They felt that to press the matter further, when a full undertaking had been given, might only defeat the object they had in view in granting the injunction.

The undertaking given was that there would be published in all the Dublin evening papers that evening, the morning papers, and the evening papers of Friday a full apology for the mistake appearing in the specimen ballot card published, and also calling attention to the fact that the name of Madame Markievicz should be first in the list of candidates, and that a public notice in similar terms be posted up in the election rooms, 89 Grafton street.

Mr. Comyn asked if that undertaking disposed of the pending action, and the Chairman answered in the negative.

Fixed costs were allowed.

ELECTION OF A CORONER.

A special meeting of the Dublin County Council last evening appointed Dr. Joseph P. Brennan, of Idrone terrace, Blackrock, to the Coronership of County Dublin, in room of the late Dr. Judd. There were eleven applicants for the post, and the first poll resulted in the elimination of all but four names—Dr. Brennan (17 votes), Dr. Fred. R. Ryan, Dolphin's Barn (17); Dr. Mortimer Walters, Pembroke road (17), and Dr. J. P. O'Connor, Kingstown (8).

On the second ballot Dr. O'Connor dropped out, and Drs. Ryan and Walters received ten votes each. Dr. Brennan still headed the poll, and a vote as between Drs. Ryan and Walters left Dr. Ryan in the final ballot with Dr. Brennan. In this vote Dr. Brennan received 14 as against 10 which were cast for Dr. Ryan.

Dr. Brennan was accordingly declared elected to the position at a salary of £250 per annum.

After a violent quarrel, arising from jealousy, a couple named Schwartz, at Sartrouville, Seine et Oise, exchanged revolver shots. Both were hit once and were taken to hospital at St. Germain in a critical condition. The woman was the first to shoot.

Wednesday's Paris newspapers report that the Vatican has intervened with the Soviet Government on behalf of Monsignor Cieplak, the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Petrograd, who was recently arrested by the Soviet authorities.
